Kent News

SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 1924

The following will be interesting to the tax-payers: Dr. Albert F. Woods, president of Md. University, salary is $10,000 per year; Curly Byrd, Athletic Director of the University, $7,500; Dr. Albert S. Cook, State Superintendent of Schools, $8,000.

The following lady delegates have been named from Kent county to attend a State meeting to be held at the Belvedere Hotel, Baltimore, yesterday: Mrs. C. W. Whaland, Mrs. Medford Brooks, Mrs. Earle Nicholson, Mrs. S. G. Caldwell. This meeting was to name a lady member of the delegation which is to attend the National Convention in New York.

It is reported that Senator Copper has introduced a bill changing the appointment of Road Engineer from the Roads Commission and County Commissioners as now required, and placing it in the hands of the Governor. This was tried some years ago and found to be almost a failure. At present the County Commissioners who levy the fund with which to repair roads, have authority over its disbursement and the tax-payers know to whom to appeal in cases of mismanagement. If it is put in the Governor's hands, what citizen or tax payer can reach him with their grievances. It is a mistake to change this law and we hope our Senator will not attempt it. The roads have been a political football in years gone by but now that they are removed from this fault let's keep them exclusively on the merit system.

ROAD ASKED FOR KENT

Senator Copper introduced a resolution calling upon the State Roads Commission and the United States Department of Agriculture to build a concrete road from McLane's Corner to Tolchester Beach, Kent county. The resolution states that the road is used to a great extent in the transportation of agricultural products and that many children travel over it en route to public schools.

The News again cautions merchants and residents against building fires in yards. If it is done stand by until the last spark is out and then in order to be sure, pour a bucket of water on dying embers. "An ounce of preventive is worth a pound of cure."

RITCHIE'S SPEECH TO ASSEMBLY

Salient points in Governor Ritchie's address Monday night before a joint session of the General Asesmbly were as follows:

"Since the budget was submitted, State loan bills have been introduced which if enacted into law would aggregate $16,859,000, a sum which is more than double the capital requests recommended and nearly double the capital requests refused."

"These added millions should stand or fall together. Who shall decide which of the undertaking is more important than the others?"

"The taxpayers, who must carry whatever we put on their shoulders, will rightly hold us accountable if we do not manage their fiscal affairs with care and foresight."

"It becomes much more serious in the face of the platform pledge on which the majority of us were elected, to reduce the State tax rate as much 'as the most rigid but sensible economy will make possible.'"

"In my judgment, a mistake was made in 1920 when the University of Maryland Hospital and its Schools of Medicine, Dentistry and Pharmacy were included in the merger and taken over by the State."

"I do not believe that a better day's work could be done than turning the University Hospital and its allied schools back to private ownership, putting St. John's and Washington College on their feet and relieving the State of future aid to Western Maryland College."

"To speak of so many cents on the tax rate is extremely misleading. In 1927 one cent will mean an additional charge (on the taxpayers) of $205,000."

"You and I have been given the duty of protecting the taxpayers of this State. We asked for that mandate, and the people gave it to us. We will not be protecting them if we place upon their shoulders burdens which they should not assume.

"The State is under no obligation at all to keep the hospital and its schools."
