A BIG LOSS BY FIRE

One of the worst farm fires in Kent of recent years occurred on C. C. Brown's farm in Quaker Neck at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. His stable, sheds, nine horses and implements were completely destroyed by fire. Mr. Brown saw the fire from his window when he awoke but was unable to save any of the horses. Two of the horses belonged to farm help. The loss will be about $3,000 with insurance of only one-half of this amount.

Sacrificed For His County

H. W. Vickers, Esq., To Be Supplanted By A Man From Some Other County—A Loss To Kent County —Office Well Managed Under Mr. Vickers.

At a conference Wednesday in Annapolis Gov. Ritchie notified H. W. Vickers, Esq., of Kent, that he will not be reappointed State Conservation Commissioner While in this office Mr. Vickers has brought about many reforms and will leave the fish and game in better condition than ever before noted. He has been industrious in looking after the interests of the watermen and has made an enviable record as commissioner.

Kent county will thus lose an important office as the new appointee will likely come from some other county.

Mr. Vickers attributes his loss of the position to two reasons, viz., the unfriendliness of the Senator from Kent and for his activity in looking after the interests of the watermen and hunters of his home county. The appointment will likely be made on May 20th. Kent county will never be able to repay Mr. Vickers for the sacrifice he has made for the interests of his people.

The Edgar R. Pennington sale of fine cows on Thursday last near Kennedyville was well attended by local buyers. H. S. Startt was the auctioneer. The best price was $165 for a mature cow. The best price for a 3months old calf was $102; one 6 months old bull brought $130; one buyer bought 3 cows for $425; the average was about $100. They were a fine lot of cows and calves, all holstein stock.

TOMATO MARKET OPEN

Contracts Being Made With Kent Farmers To Grow Tomatoes At 25 Cents Per Basket—A Few Contracts At 22½ Cents.

After trying to get 30 cents per basket to grow tomatoes the farmers in Kent have decided to take less. Contracts are being made in various pars of the county at 22½ and 25 cents per basket. Among the canners who are paying 25 cents are these: Chestertown cannery, H. N. Baldwin, proprietor; Capt. Wm. H. Cooper at Buck Neck; The New York Canneries near Betterton; Hartlove Co., Worton; Kennedyville; Lambson; Worton; Booth Packing Co., Crumpton; Schall Packing Company, Riverside, and other parts of the county.

There are some contracts being made at 22½ cents per basket.

CANDIDATES FILE FOR CONVENTION

The time for candidates for the State conventions of the two political parties in Maryland to file their certificates of candidacy expired on Monday night at midnight. There were six candidates to file upon the Democratic side and three on the Republican.

The six filing for the Democrats were: Organization — Dr. Merritt Brice, of Millington; Harrison W. Vickers, Esq., of Chestertown; Capt. Charles R. Kerr, of Rock Hall. Anti-Organization—C. S. Hurlock, Massey; Wm. B. Copper, Chestertown, G. Ellsworth Leary, Rock Hall.

Upon the Republican side the candidates filing were: A. Parks Rasin, James A. Nickerson, John W. Broadway.

Two candidates filed for Congress, Hon. T. Alan Goldsborough, the present incumbent of the office as the Democratic and Harry Phoebus, of Oriole, Somerset county, as the Republican candidate.

This means there will be a Democratic Primary contest for three delegates to the State Convention at which delegates to the National Convention will be named.

There is only one way to avoid a primary—file only three names. The Organization filed three and the Antis three. Now unless there can be some agreement as to the three men, the people will be asked to choose the three in a primary at a cost of several thousand dollars. And for what?

LOVE, EXCUSE FOR STEALING BABY GIRL

The death penalty or life imprisonment faces Hilda Green, 30, colored, of Millington, Md., who confessed in Municipal Court, Wilmington, Monday morning that she kidnaped Johanna Wheeler, three-year-old baby of Emma Wheeler, colored, 1205 Walnut street, Wilmington.

If the woman is found guilty as charged when her case is heard in the Court of General Sessions there can be no alternative from the death sentence other than life imprisonment.

Judge Hastings, of the Municipal Court held her without bail for the Court of General Sessions after she had confessed.

The baby disappeared from the home of Laura Church, colored, 1229 Wilson street, last Monday afternoon. It was found in the Pennsylvania Station, abandoned.

At police headquarters she is alleged to have told that she became attracted to the child and took it with her to her home in Millington. She said she loved children, but in four years of married life has not had any of her own.
