OPERATORS LEARN TELEPHONE TALK

When a telephone operator rolls her r's and separates her syllables in repeating your number, she isn't trying to be funny. To prevent misunderstandings and loss of time, a system of enunciation has been developed which has proven very satisfactory in eliminating errors:

0	—	OH
1	—	WUN
2	—	TOO
3	—	TH-R-R-EE
4	—	FO-WER
5	—	FI-IV
6	—	SIX
7	—	SEV-EN
8	—	ATE
9	—	NIEN
J	—	JAY
R	—	AHR
M	—	EM
W	—	DOUBLE-U

Try them the next time you use the telephone. Directly opposite the numbers on the above chart the words are spelled just the way they should be pronounced over the telephone. The chart is used in the Bell Telephone Operator's Training School to teach proper enunciation.

HOW TELEPHONES AID JOURNALISM

Old-Time Reporter Who Had To "Leg It" For Story Is Thing Of Past.

Newspaper reporters and editors were quick to appreciate the value of the telephone, and as soon as the first commercial exchange was opened in the city of New Haven, Conn., in January of 1878, the local newspapers began to make use of its facilities.

Before the advent of the telephone exchange, if an accident or other event of importance happened at a point distant from a telegraph office—and branch telegraph offices in cities were few and far between in those days—reporters were in the habit of gathering the names of the participants and the essential facts and then hastening with all possible speed to the editorial rooms. Today, a reporter may go to the nearest telephone and give the facts to a rewrite man in the main office, who will write the story, or he may dictate the story verbatim over the telephone.

Not only the news, but also the advertising and business departments of the modern newspaper are finding the telephone a great aid. A large proportion of the classified ads. are now sent in by wire, and many newspapers, for the convenience to their advertisers, are telling the public to "telephone your want ads."

NEW ENGLAND NOW HAS 1,000,000 TELEPHONES

Event Celebrated When First Subscriber Calls Up "Mr. Millionth."

"Number One" called "Mr. Millionth" the other days when the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company installed its millionth telephone. It is in New Bedford and the latest subscriber is Armand Bouthillette.

Because of the importance of the event—especially interesting to New England, which was the birthplace of the telephone—an effort was made to arrange a telephone conversation between the first subscriber and the millionth. Company records were not available, but Miss Emma Nutt, the first woman telephone operator in the world, is still alive and she had not forgotten the first names ever to be "plugged in" over a switchboard. She recalled six names. John P. Squires, George W. Squires, S. K. Abbott, William P. Sargent, Jones, MacDuffie and Stratton, and Shattuck, Holmes and Monroe.

If there had been a Boston telephone director at that early date, the name of Sylvester K. Abbott would have led it. The S. K. Abbott Company of Boston, is now managed by Harry L. Robinson and it was Mr. Robinson who called up Mr. Bouthillette in New Bedford and congratulated him on the acquisition of the millionth telephone.

BIGGEST DIRECTORY.

The latest "Who's Who" of New York telephone users, which has just been issued, is the largest telephone directory ever published. It contains 765,000 listings, an increase of 47,000 over the previous issue, and includes 1772 pages. There now are 129 central offices in the greater city. A year ago there were 110.

Although Brazil, the largest country in South America, has a population of over 30,000,000, it has but 87,586 telephones, and of these more than one-third are in the city of Rio de Janeiro.

During the year 1923 the city of Seattle gained more than 5,000 telephones, the largest increase of any single year in its history. The year of 1922 saw an increase of 4,004, the year of 1921 just a trifle over 2,000. There are now about 86,000 telephones in Seattle.

Your Next Car

Will be this Light-Six, if you learn the truth

WHEN you buy a car in the "thousand-dollar" class, here are some things you ...ld know.

made a canvass of men who t rival cars in this class. And ...nd that 96 in each 100 bought ...t knowing these facts.

for your sake and our sake, we ...nt to present them to you.

Save $200 to $400

Studebaker builds 150,-...0 fine cars yearly. It ...ilds in model factories, ...odernly equipped. It ...as spent $38,000,000 in ...e past five years on ...ew-day plants and ...uipment.

...B- quantity and up-to-...ness it saves large ...s per car. A car like ... Light-Six, built un-...r ordinary conditions, ...ould cost $200 to $400 ...ore.

11.4% less to run

This supreme quality ...eans lower operating ...ost. Owners of fleets of ...ars in this class made ...udited records to prove ...his.

They compared 329 ...ars, running up to 25,000 ...miles each. And they ...ound that the Stude-...aker Light-Six cost ...1.4% less to operate ...han the average of its ...ivals. This includes de-...preciation. The saving was nearly ...ne cent per mile.

The reasons are these

The Studebaker Light-Six, in its ...hassis, represents the best we know. ...n steel and in workmanship it is ...dentical with the costliest cars we ...uild.

It is designed and superintended by an engineering department which costs us $500,000 yearly.

Each steel formula has been proved the best for its purpose by years of tests. On some we pay 15% premium to makers to get them exactly right.

Each car in the building gets 32,000 tests and inspections.

The crankshafts are machined on all surfaces, as was done in the Liberty Airplane Motors. This extra care costs us $600,000 yearly, but it means perfect balance in the motor.

More Timken bearings are used in this car than in any competitive car within $1,500 of its price.

There are 517 operations in making this car exact to 1/1000th of an inch. And 122 are exact to one-half that.

Genuine leather cushions, ten inches deep. Unusual equipment. Scores of extra values.

Made by the leaders

This is one of the cars which has made Studebaker the leader in quality cars. Our sales have almost trebled in three years. The trend toward Studebakers has become a sensation.

Last year 145,167 people paid $201,000,000 for Studebaker cars.

Back of this car is an honored name, which for 72 years has stood for high ideals.

Behind it are $90,000,-000 of assets, staked on pleasing you better than others.

Before you pay $1,000 or more for a car, these are facts you should know and compare. You owe that to yourself.

Send for the book

Mail us the coupon below. We will send you free our new book that will inform you on five simple things which reveal the value of a car. For instance: It will enable you to look at any car and tell whether it's been cheapened to meet a price or offers true quality.

It will tell you why some cars rattle at 20,000 miles and others don't. It shows one single point in a closed car which measures whether you're getting top or medium quality. The book is free—clip the coupon below.
