WEDDING NOTES

An announcement leaked out from Goucher College, where the daughter of Lieutenant Colonel George Clymer Shaw, U. S. A., and Mrs. Shaw, of Fort Leavenworth, Kan., is a student. Miss Shaw—but, to be more exact, Esther Shaw, is to marry Warwick Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Perkins, of Baltimore. No date for the wedding is set.—From Baltimore News.

A quiet but very pretty Easter wedding took place at Massey last Saturday evening when Miss Evelyn E. Ringgold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Ringgold became the bride of Elwood Starkey. The beautiful ring ceremony being performed by Rev. John F. Saunders, rector of Holy Cross Chapel.

The bride was beautifully gowned in steel silk beaded crepe de chine with hat and gloves to match and carried a large bouquet of white carnations and ferns. Only a few relatives of the parties were present during the ceremony.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride at which only relatives of the two immediate families and a few friends were present. The young couple received a large number of nice and useful presents. Many happy wishes are extended to the young couple.

STATE ROAD TO TOLCHESTER

The County Commissioners went to Baltimore last week and interviewed State Roads Chairman Mackall as regards plans for 1924. Mr. Mackall informed the Commissioners that the read to Pomona would be finished this year but that the balance of the money was to be used toward building a road to Tolchester. Thus the law and policy of the State to build lateral roads as designated by County Commissioners is set aside and the State Roads Chairman builds them where he chooses. This policy is likely to lead to all sorts of trouble.

No one objects to the State road being built to Tolchester in its turn, but the people of Piney Neck, Worton and elsewhere have to travel over a bad road all winter when there is no boat to Tolchester. Besides, the county has spent thousands of dollars on Tolchester's gravel road and most of the year it is a fine road.

It is reported that a ferry service direct to Baltimore has been promised by the Tolchester Company in case this piece of road was built and all the year service assured. If this is the case, then a State road becomes necessary, otherwise the people in other sections of the county have been done an injustice.

Friday

At the time of going to press yesterday afternoon the case of "Scotty" vs. James B. Dunn for wages was on trial.

The Grand Jury expects to finish its labors today.

Several removed cases from Caroline were assigned for May 6th.

The most important cases on the docket are the three murder charges. These cases will incite particular attention.

The case of State vs. Norman Lane, for the death of James Jones, colored, will cause considerable interest, due to the peculiarity of Jones' death in a pitchfork battle, when Lane's brother and Jones' friend were engaged in a combat at the same time. Wm. F. Russell, Jr., Esq., will represent Lane, while S. Scott Beck, Esq., will represent the State as State's Attorney.

In November, 1923, near Kennedyville, John Robinson, colored, killed Lewin Graves in a fight. S. Scott Beck, Esq., will prosecute the case, while John D. Urie will defend Robinson.

A most important case from Cecil county will be tried during the term of court, when John W. Webb will be tried for the murder of Joe Darine on March 21, 1923. Henry W. Warburton, Esq., will prosecute the case, while Omar D. Crothers, Esq., will defend Webb.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE CAMPAIGN INCREASING

The Cecil County Campaign for Washington College Endowment is making splendid progress under the direction of Irvin T. Kepler, Chairman, and prospects are good for the $10,000 quota assigned to the county, more than half of which is in sight early this week.

Since the official closing of the Kent County committee's work in the Washington College Endowment Campaign, the following additional subscribers have been enlisted on the Honor Roll, bringing the grand total for Kent county, including the student subscriptions, to nearly $37,000: Chas. H. Brice, Mrs. Walter Brice, T. Bayard Crew, H. Caldwell Crew, D. A. R. Old Kent Chapter, Mrs. W. G. Smyth, Regent; Miriam E. Jones, Myrtle V. Pinder, Thomas S. Silcox, Floyd N. Smith, Mrs. M. A. Tull, Jas. E. Willis..

A verdict of $22,500 damages were awarded Miss Catherine Francks, of Elkton, by a Denton jury Thursday in her suit against the Victor Sparkle & Novelty Co., of Cecil. Over 130 witnesses and 12 lawyers were engaged in the case. This is the suit that delayed Kent's Court opening.

Dr. Paul Pearson addressed 25 guarantors of Chautauqua at the Kent County Savings Bank Thursday evening in a most practical way, giving an analysis of world conditions before and after the war. It was decided to reduce the price of tickets this year to $2.50. Harry C. Coleman was elected treasurer vice Raymond Wilkins, resigned.

The Newton-Loud farm was sold at public sale Tuesday by James T. Earle, assignee, to David D. Taylor, of Centreville, for $18,750. This farm is located near Chestertown and contains 200 acres. Robert A. and E. Hynson Loud tenant the farm.

A change in schedule of the Tolchester Company is noted in this issue.
