Ice Cream Law

A. L. Sulivan, Chief of the Bureau of Food and Drugs of the State Department of Health, has sent a notice to all ice cream manufacturers in the State, informing them of the requirements of the new ice cream law which went into effect June 1.

The law now requires a butter fat content of 10 per cent in the case of plain ice cream and of 8 per cent in the case of fruit or nut ice cream. In case of doubt, it is suggested that they submit samples to a chemist or consult the Bureau of Food and Drugs of the State Department of Health.

Is Your Birth Registered?

Scarcely a week passes without an urgent request being received at the State Department of Health from somebody who is in a great hurry to find out whether his birth was duly registered. The latest call came from a man in Western Maryland who was getting ready to sail for Europe and who needed the information in order to secure his passport. Luckily for his peace of mind, the information was available. But Dr. F. V. Beitler, Chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, tells of another man, a Baltimorean, who was going on a business trip to China, and who sought similar information without any results.

So far as records were concerned, he had never been born. Both parents were dead, and so was their old family physician, but fortunately for the young man, the testimony of an older brother, given under oath before a notary, was accepted, and the passport was granted.

Every local registrar in the State, could tell similar stories of the requests received each year, for such information, to prove the right to property, to establish inheritances, and for many other purposes.

Whenever a birth is recorded, the State Department of Health sends a card to the parents certifying that fact. These cards should be put away very carefully because they may be needed throughout the entire life of the individual, to establish certain facts.

How about your own birth certificate? Are you sure that your birth was recorded?

RECOMMENDED BY HER DOCTOR

Found Strength by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kankakee, Illinois.—"My mother-in-law always took your medicine for weakness, and then in the Change of Life it did her so much good that she induced me to take it for a weakness I had for a year and a half. It has strengthened me and now I have a nice baby boy. I do all my own housework now, and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound whenever I have the opportunity. I am taking it again for weakness, as my family doctor has recommended it for this purpose."—Mrs. HARRY COULOM, 984 N. Harrison Ave., Kankakee, Illinois.

Real Evidence of Merit

For the relief of female weakness, pains and backache, nervousness and irregularities, with other troubles common to women, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine.

Its worth is thoroughly established by such letters as the above. There are women everywhere, who, having received benefit, gladly tell other women about it. For sale by druggists everywhere.

TO KILL CUT WORMS

Cut worms are present this year in large numbers and are doing considerable damage to both corn and tomatoes. About the only known way of checking the damage of this pest is by using a poisoned bait. The bait may be prepared as follows: Wheat bran, 50 lbs.; Paris green or crude arsenic, 2 lbs.; Blackstrap molasses, 2 quarts; water 2 to 4 quarts, or more if needed. Mix thoroughly together in a dry state the poison and the bran, then add the dilute molasses and stir vigorously until thoroughly mixed. Distribute this bait over the infested field broadcast taking care to sprinkle it sparingly around each hill. In case bran cannot be readily obtained, middlings or alfalfa meal may be successfully substituted.

It is often advantageous to allow the mash thus obtained to stand for several hours before using it, as this seems to result in greater effectiveness. In fields known to be infested the distribution of this bait should be started as soon as the corn begins to appear above ground so that the cut worms may be eliminated as quickly as possible. During the spring months cut worms do most of their feeding at night and burrow into the soil to the depth of an inch or two during the day, so that bait will usually be more effective during the late afternoon or early evening hours.

Caution.—Poisoned baits should be distributed thinly. Prevent domestic animals, including fowls, from eating it. Arsenic and Paris green are poisonous to animals.

A 35 Year Record Broken By Rain In Month of May

Not since 1889, the year when the residents of Johnstown, Pa., moved all their belongings, including horses and cattle, to the second stories of their homes and from there to boats, has this county experienced such a protracted drenching as during the past two months. During May there were sixteen rainy days and the total rainfall was 5.34 inches.

It will be surprising to know that the month of April showed a greater precipitation by a fraction of an inch. May's maximum temperature was 85 on the 6th, and the minimum was 40 on the 5th. On that same day the temperature stood from 40 to 73, a range of 33 degrees. There was frost, hail, thunderstorms all within a period of a few days.

Compared with May of last year this month has been stepping some. May 1923 there was only five rainy days and the total rainfall was less than an inch, in May 1922 it was 1.58 1921 3.56 and 1920 2.41.

May 1924 showed 18 clear days, 11 cloudy and 2 partly clound. Old weather records show that the first five months of 1924 have been almost equal in wetness to the banner period of the bureau. If the complcte weather history of that year is to be repeated, however, two more months of down pouring rains are in store for Kent county. In that year the rainy spell was not broken until August, July standing out as the wettest in 52 years of the weather bureau's history.

AMUSEMENTS IN THE CHURCH

Messrs. Editors:

Chestertown, Md.

In your most valuable paper of June 7th we read very carefully the article written by Rev. T. J. Sard, of Chestertown. "The facts on the amusements question." We feel that this part of the discipline is being violated largely by the older members of the church. We are sorry to note that Chestertown has a neighbor church where this most deplorable fact exists, where class leader, member, parents and teachers encourage the young people in just such amusements which are not in accord with the discipline or the law of the church much criticism. We are sure this is not the only church that has this trouble. We are glad Brother Sard has this part of the discipline printed in our county paper, for in this way it may reach many who claim it is no harm to indulge in such amusements.

Increasing Cost of Telephone Plant and Equipment

ONE of our big tasks today is to provide the plant and equipment necessary to meet the demands of the people of Maryland for more telephone service.

¶Each telephone added to the system requires additional plant and equipment. During the last five years the number of telephones added in Maryland has been 42,000; an increase of 36 per cent. But the increase in telephone plant during the same period has been 64 per cent. Thus, while the growth in telephones has been large, it has been greatly exceeded by the increase in plant.

¶Stated another way, the plant per telephone in service in 1919 averaged $151.00. It is now $182.00 and in 1928 it will be more than $200.00 per telephone.

¶You ask why. It is because of the present high cost of building plant—first, to extend the system, and, second, to replace old plant built at low pre-war costs, with new plant built at present-day costs.

¶This process of extending and replacing plant and equipment is constantly going on. It is a part of this Company's obligation to give service to the people of Maryland. But our present rates were designed to yield a return, not on the average plant per telephone today, but as it stood in 1920.

¶It takes more net earnings now to pay a return on the property than it did in 1920. This is one of the reasons why we must ask for some moderate increases in our rates.
