OBITUARY OF MRS. IDA HEPBRON BOWERS

Mrs. Ida Hepbron Bowers, wife of E. C. Bowers, a member of the Md. Legislature, departed this life July 6, at her home in Lynch, Md. Mrs. Bowers was the daughter of William Hepbron and his wife, Alphonsa Roseberry Hepbron. She was born on the farm upon a part of which the village is built. The first seven years of her life were lived on this farm and the remaining years were spent in the village. Thirty-four years ago she was married to Mr. Bowers by Rev. S. B. Treadway.

She was not possessed with a strong physical body but enjoyed very good health until about four years ago when signs of declining health appeared. Hopes were entertained that a perfect restoration would be effected but the failing health and death of her mother, July 27, 1921, was the one sorrow that shaddowed the home, and proved to be too great an affliction for the physical condition of Sister Bowers. She gradually came down to the "River side of death."

It was a beautiful Sabbath afternoon. The physician from Baltimore who had just paid his patient a visit was being conveyed to Betterton by Mr. Bowers leaving his wife in care of her sister, Miss Lizzie Hepbron. Mrs. Bowers retired to her room for rest and Miss Lizzie went over to the church. In a very short time Mrs, Bowers was taken with a severe hemorage of the lungs. She succeeded in reaching the yard and seeing her father sitting on the church steps waved to him as she had done before. He saw her fall, rushed to her side to witness the closing of her eyes, the quivering of her lips and the passing of her soul to the God who gave it. Everything was done by her husband and loved ones to prolong her life.

She was a patient sufferer with an abiding hope that she would get well. One of the chief pleasures was to do all she could for the enjoyment and comfort of others. As a wife she was a true helpmeet, as a christian she was faithful as long as she could in helping the little villiage church of which she was a life long member.

The beauty and usefulness of her life, her devotion to her friends and loved ones, will keep our memory of her alive until our home going when the reunion of ties that have been broken will take place and the beginning of a perfect day in Our Fathers house of many mansions will have come.

The attendance at the funeral was large, the flowers were abundant and beautiful, all of which told of the love and esteem in which the deceased was held and the love and sympathy for those that mourn.

The funeral was from her home July 9th, her pastor officiating assisted by the writer. The body was laid to rest in the family lot in Still Pond cemetery to await the resurrection of the just.

Besides her husband the surviving members of her family are her father, two brothers and one sister, to whom we extend our deepest sympathy. AVERY DONOVAN.

Ready For Football Season

Coach Tom Kibler, of the Washington College football team, has sent out an early call and will get his men started on their training course on September 10. Thirty gridmen are expected at camp, which will be at the school. Ten made a good showing on last year's squad.

The first game on the program for the Eastern Shoremen will see them in action against the University of Maryland eleven on September 27th. The Penn Military College squad will be played the following week. This game will be played at Chester, Pa.

Kibler has plenty of fine material back from last season along with two backfield men, Cavanaugh and Dumschott, the former having played quarterback last year while Dumschott performed at half.

Capt. Charles Jarman and Kelly are the centers and are expected to be back on the job, while Reiger and Carroll, ends; McGran, Smoot and Atkins, guards, and Conant, a tackle, also will be seen in uniform.

The schedule is as follows:

September 27—University of Md.
October 4—P. M. C., at Chester,Pa.
October 11—Catholic University, at Washington.
October 18—Open.
October 25—Haverford, at Haverford, Pa.
November 1—Albright's, at Myerstown, Pa.
November 8—Mount St. Mary's, at Emmitsburg.
November 15 — Western Maryland at Chestertown.
November 22—Sshuylkill at Chestertown.
