WASHINGTON GOES ON COLLEGE BASIS

Preparatory Classes Are Discarded — Registration Begins — Largest Enrollment In History Expected-- Opens September 22nd — Improvements Made.

Action has been taken by the board and faculty of Washington College to discard all preparatory classes and reorganize the institution strictly on a college schedule.

The school curriculum has been strengthened and several new courses added.

Registration for the one hundred and forty-second session started on Thursday at 9 a. m. Examination for new pupils will be held all day. Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week were given over to matriculation and regular classes will be resumed Monday, September 22.

College authorities expect this year's enrollment to exceed those of any former year, owing to an extensive campaign which has been conducted during the summer vacation along the Eastern Shore.

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, president of the college, personally conducted this drive for new students and reports encouraging results from his numerous interviews.

An independent department of physics has been established, with Prof. T. B. Winn, formerly of Rutgers, director.

Prof. Randolph Faires, from the faculty of Alleganey College, will replace Prof. Robert A. Burns in the department of English.

Miss Genevieve Bond, Buck, Md., will take over the department of modern languages and also act as dean of women.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL CHESTERTOWN, FIRE

Volunteer Fire Co. Win Fresh Laurels By Heroic Work. The New Engine Meets Every Demand—Loss Covered By Insurance.

NO CHILDREN IN BUILDING WHEN FIRE STARTS.

The Chestertown Elementary School took fire at 4.30 p. m. Thursday but by splendid work on the part of the Volunteer Boys with the new engine equipment the $75,000 building was saved.

Mrs. Merle White Goss, the efficient secretary, was alone in the office of Superintendent Robinson when she noticed smoke pouring out of the stationery and supply closet, located in the south corner of the office on the third floor. She immediately went to the hall door, called to Thos. A. Meeks, the janitor, who was cleaning up rooms on the second floor, and both sounded the alarm.

By this time the neighbors saw smoke rolling out from the roof and belfry and it was an awful sight. But soon the fire-fighters were on hand.

Emerson Russell and Billy Usilton were the first to reach the office. They found a waste paper basket in flames and a book case wrapped in fire. These they stamped out but in opening the closet door the smoke burst out in such volume as to drive them back. About this time Henry Gill and Burgess Schrieber arrived with small chemicals but they were ineffective.

The Fire Company got a hose up the fire escape and with plenty of power from the new engine soon had the blaze under control. Engineer C. A. Bacon, Clark Davis, Edgar Clark and Horace Needles kept the engine in pumping order. Chief J. Hydie Thompson with his corp of excellent helpers certainly did fine work.

The loss will amount to several thousand dollars but is covered by insurance.

There are so many things for which to be thankful. First, there were no children in the building. There was no wind. There was plenty of water, plenty of helpers and plenty of force.

That the fire was discovered in the day time.

The public will be surprised to learn that some one had been in the fire house and tampered with the electric wiring on the engine and had removed the coupling so that a return trip had to be made in order to supply this necessary equipment.

The $4,000 engine, with good work, more than justified its purchase.

The origin of the fire will likely never be known. It may have been from mice, electric wires or some other cause.

The school bell was rung yesterday on time but the scholars dismissed until Monday.

W. LESTER BALDWIN SPEAKS

Defense Day was observed in Chestertown with appropriate exercises in the Park. A bond concert at 7.30 o'clock was followed by an address by W. Lester Baldwin, Esq., of Baltimore. Rev. C. L. Atwater lead the large audience in prayer and Rev. Louis Sheen introduced Mr. Baldwin. The speaker explained the reason for Defense Day in an interesting manner and gave good reasons for its observance. He is the Secretary to the State Committee for National Defense and was enabled to give some first hand information.

Drs. Hines and Franklin with the Sanitary Detachment in uniform attended the exercises.

FARMER WINS CASE BROUGHT BY CANNER

As announced in the News last week The Schall Packing Co. thru their attorney, H. W. Vickers, Esq., issued an injunction against Edgar Strong, of near Chestertown, delivering tomatoes in the open market. The Packing Company claim that they had a contract with Mr. Strong to deliver all the tomatoes grown on 12 acres of land to Riverside wharf and that no other tomatoes shall be planted for market. Mr. Strong has six additional acres which are claimed by his wife.

The case was heard Saturday by Judges Lewin W. Wickes and Thomas J. Keating, S. Scott Beck, Esq., representing Mr. and Mrs. Strong.

The Court in rendering their verdict in favor of Mr. Strong stated that there being no mutuality in the contract the Packing Co. could not compel Mr. Strong to deliver the tomatoes from the six acres to them.

It was further stated that Mr. Strong had broken the contract when he planted the additional acres and was liable in a civil suit for damages, (but there will not be any.)

It was also stated that had there been a big crop of tomatoes The Packing Co. could have rescinded their right to the 12 acres.

The Kent County Board of Education met yesterday in Chestertown and gave the contract for repairing the damage to A. M. Culp, of Chestertown, who erected this building in 1901. Contractor Culp has put a force of workmen on the job and will rush the repairs. Supt. Hudson, of the Electric Light Co. says there were no electric light wires in the closet where the fire is supposed to have started.

"MOONSHINE" TOMATOES NEWEST THING GROWN

As noted in the Kent News last week there are many tomatoes being sold at the wharves along Chester river and elsewhere which are from patches which have been contracted for. These tomatoes are being delivered in the moonlight at all hours of the night. In Galena a man was stationed who kept watch for trucks with tomatoes belonging to cannery at Lambson's to see that they did not sell on the open market.

A Queen Anne's farmer who has sold his crop for 22½ cents and was delivering them all to his canner, says it makes him mad for onlookers to jolly him by asking "What're you getting for 'em, John? I expect I will throw a tomato at these fellows who follow this by offering me 50 and 55 cents.

There are some who are evading their contract but we are glad to note that the majority of Kent farmers are living up to their agreement. There is no good reason why any grower should violate his contract. When men lose faith in each other there is the end of all successful business dealings.
