For the first time in years, Election Day will be a school holiday in Maryland, as has been the custom in most other States. This law passed at the last session of the Legislature makes a general election day a school holiday thereafter.

The County Commissioners of Talbot are determined to abandon entirely the use of oyster shells for road building or repairs, claiming that they are the most expensive and least durable of any material now in use. Slag is no more expensive and many times more durable.

The lecture at Washington College Tuesday evening by Wm. Knowles Cooper, of Washington, D. C., was both interesting and instructive, but poorly attended. "How big strikes are settled" was the subject, the speaker having been the arbitrator in several big strikes.

In an able address delivered before the faculty and students of Washington College Thursday morning, Alan Johnstone, Esq., Director of the Baltimore Criminal Justice Commission, traced the history of criminal law from its early English origin to the present day. He stressed the fact, although we have advanced considerably in our methods of transportation: in our facilities for the rapid exchange of ideas the world over and in all other aspects of an increased standard of living, we nevertheless use substantially the same system of criminal law as was in operation during the days of King John of England. Mr. Johnstone, who is a legal scholar of note, made an especial plea for the passage of the amendment to the State Constitution which proposes to abolish the antiquated fee system in the State's Attorney's office of Baltimore City.

Saturday, November 8th, Noland will have his great aluminum sale. Be sure and go to his place opposite the postoffice on that day.

Because of popular demand the "Country Store" at the Lyceum Theatre will be conducted two nights a week, beginning next week—every Tuesday and Thursday. Fifteen to twenty articles of merchandise will be given away each night.

Former County Treasurer Leonard Wilson is advertising a large number of tax sales in the Kent News in order to collect delinquent taxes. Many have paid this week and others will pay before day of sale. The tax collectors are having great difficulty in collecting small amounts especially on personal property.

Some farmers have wheat up while others have not yet cut ther corn and plowed for wheat. The splendid weather of the past few weeks has been a blessing to the late crops, affording the farmers ample time to get their crops in and prepare for wheat planting. Many farmers cut their corn before it was matured and it is believed a great loss will result. There have been 27 days in October without rain.

The advance sale of season tockets for the series of curre t event lectures by Prof. A. Hunt Vautier to be given during the fall and winter under the direction of the Ladies' Reading Club indicates that fine audiences will hear the speaker at each of the seven lectures which begin on Monday, November 3.

This Saturday morning the Tolchester Steamboat Company will establish a fast ferry line between Tolchester and Baltimore with a daily double round trip schedule. The steamer Annapolis has been remodelled to carry passengers and automobiles and will be placed on the route. As soon as conditions justify the steamer Emma Giles of the same line will be remodeled in the same manner and placed on the route. This will be the first direct ferry line from the Eastern Shore to Baltimore. The Worton Manor Wharf is being repaired and put in good condition so that in case a landing cannot be effected at Tolchester another place is provided.

Election news will be received next Tuesday night by radio at the Lyceum Theatre.

Rev. Edgar T. Read, pastor of Calvert M. P. Church, Easton, delivered an address before Chester Lodge No. 115 A. F. and A. M., Thursday evening.

The supper given by ladies of Emmanuel Church Thursday evening was well attended and a fine menu served.

The ladies of St. James Church netted $96 at a bake and country store held in Turner's garage last week.

Halloween parties have been all the rage this week in churches, college, schools, homes and on the street. Scores lined the streets to view the motley parade.

The shirt factory "boom" has burst and the proprietors have decided to go elsewhere claiming they could not get enough help. The News received over 30 replies to the want adv.

The prospects in Kent next Tuesday is for a grand victory for the Democracy—provided those professing allegiance to the party come out and vote. Kent will give at least 300 majority for Davis and Bryan and Goldsborough.

Kent County Health Association has decided to open its health center in Chestertown every Thursday from 1 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon, with the county nurse, Miss Blanche Lockwood, in charge, for the purpose of examining the condition of children who may be presented. A tuberculosis clinic will be held at the center November 10, under the direction of Dr. Nicholas, of the State Department of Health beginning at 10 a. m.

FIREMEN'S MEETING

A meeting that doubtless will prove productive of great benefit, in case of a conflagration, to the several towns represented and the communities adjacent thereto, was held in Firemen's Hall, on Monday evening, when representatives of the fire companies of Easton, Denton, Centreville, Millington and Middletown met with the local organization and discussed at length the problems with which volunteer firemen come in contact in combating fires.

President Wm. G. Smyth, of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company presided. Following the meeting the visitors were invited to Gill Bros. Ice Cream plant where scalded oysters, with trimmings were served, the expense of which being borne by the individual members of the Chestertown Volunteer Firemen, which was greatly enjoyed.

Future developments from this meeting will result in greater protection to life and property in the above communities and should receive hearty and unstinting support and commendation from the residents and property owners who derive benefits therefrom.

BORDLEY & SON
THE MEN'S STORE

Men are walking blocks out of their way to see these new ones!

MEN, as a rule, don't enthuse much over articles of apparel. Usually they take hats as a matter of course and when they take a stock by storm there must be some mighty big reason.

Ever since the first lid was lifted on this Fall display—the lid has been off.

We have been swept off our feet selling hats to men who have never had two feet in this store before—and in two weeks we have closed almost a season's business.

Why? Simply because we have the blocks that are worth walking blocks to buy- and if you haven't purchased your hat yet—there is no reason why you shouldn't cash in on the tip that others are capitalizing on.

A fracas occurred on Calvert street after a colored dance last Saturday night in which James Bowser was cut on the head by Charles Snowden and the officers met with rough treatment. FAIR PLAY ASKED

Dear Editor:

As noted in last week's News it was said some of the residents near the cemetery refused to pay the 10 per cent of cost of laying water mains out this way. Few people in town know that we pay the same taxes out here as they do. We pay for sewer, garbage and streets when we have none of them. Therefore the residents consider we have paid more than the 10 per cent the town ask for water mains. What are we to do if our house gets afire. Watch it burn as Mr. Patrick's had to do. If we are in the town far enough to pay town taxes give us fire protection that will lower our insurance rates; if not, we have no business to pay town taxes. A RESIDENT.

Only two marks are necessary to vote for Goldsborough, Davis and Bryan.
