LOCAL NOTES - - -

The winning number at Gill Bros. Ice Cream Parlors this week is 199.

S. W. Granbery and others furnished election returns by radio. Mr. Granbery announces in this issue he is prepared to sell sets of all kinds.

For the first time in the history of Kent county politics women served as officials in the election on Tuesday. Mrs. Thomas E. Brice, Democrat, and Mrs. Ida Willis, Republican, were appointed clerks of the Betterton precinct of the Third district by the supervisors of election and carried out their duties with entire satisfaction.

A Child Welfare Clinic will be held in Chestertown at the Health Centre on Nov. 14th, from 10 to 12 a. m., for white children and from 2 to 4 p. m., for colored children. A specialist sent out by the Bureau of Hygiene of the State Department of Health will be in charge. This clinic is to keep the child well and help those that are not. There is no charge at this clinic.

We are advised that no change will be made in railway mail service over the Pennsylvania line. Railway Mail Clerk Roscoe C. Wharton will continue to serve, alternately, on the Centreville and Chestertown branches. An effort was made to have a mail clerk exclusively for the Chestertown -Townsend branch, but postal officials characterized this proposed action as "inadvisable."

The County Board of Education on Friday authorized the county superintendent of schools, Prof. Louis C. Robinson, to close the white schools of the county for two days and the colored schools for one day for the purpose of taking the school census required by the State laws. The days selected were Thursday and Friday, November 6 and 7 for the white schools, and the latter day for the colored schools. Teachers in each of the school districts in the county were required to visit the homes of their respective districts to ascertain accurately the number of children in each family of school age, the work to be tabulated by the county attendance officer, Mrs. Mae Mills Beck, under the superintendence of Prof. Robinson. According to the law the amount of State aid apportioned to each county depends upon the accuracy with which the census is taken. According to the last census the number of children of school age in Kent county was about 3,400.

Frank M. Jarman Post, American Legion, will have their usual Armistice Day service at St. Paul's P. E Church, Sunday, November 9th. All ex-service men are invited.

On Armistice Day, Tuesday, Nov. 11, 1924, the Frank M. Jarman Post, American Legion, will hold their usual exercises in the Public Square, in Chestertown. Dr. Paul E. Titsworth will make the address.

Sheen's Cavalry will give a drill in Chestertown next Tuesday.

The Tolchester Steamboat Company inaugurated its ferry service between Tolchester and Baltimore with a double round trip daily schedule Saturday. The steamer Annapolis which has been remodeled to carry passengers and automobiles wa splaced on the route and the new State road connection with the Chestertown stone road at McLain's Corner will be opened to traffic in about a week, affording quick travel to and from Baltimore city every day. Its capacity and ability to handle trucks was tried on the afternoon trip Monday when a 14-ton truck loaded with lumber was brought over. There were 14 cars carried on one Sunday trip.

The company is convinced of the need of service from Tolchester and are making plans to put on fast ferry boats in the spring. Over $100,000 will be expended.

GOLDEN RULE DINNER

The Golden Rule Dinner, planned for the evening of November 13, at Washington College, will have for the speaker, Dr. Andrew M. Brodie, of Washington, D. C. The Director for Maryland, H. F. Pellegrin, will tell of the work as carried on in the Maryland Orphanages over there, and will show specimens of the handiwork of the children, as trained by the American workers. All of the food for this banquet has been donated, as well as the room for the meeting. A bevy of the young ladies from the college and town have volunteered to act as waitresses, Bacon's Orchestra will play, and a male quartette will sing. Allan A. Harris, Treasurer, will be Chairman, and will be assisted by W. B. Copper, as Toastmaster. The dinner will be served at 7 p. m., in the Gymnasium, and plates and cups of tin, as used in the Orphanages, will be used. It is hoped that all will respond promptly, so that the Chairman for the Dinner, Mrs. Minna A. Newcomb, of Chestertown, will know just how many to prepare for. Replies to the invitation are to be sent to Evelyn Harris, Betterton, Md. Judge Lewin W. Wickes, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Copper, Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Scott, Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Selby are patrons for the dinner.

H. F. Jefferson has charge of the arrangements, and Washington College will help with the decorations.

WEDDING NOTES

The wedding of Miss Olive Voshell of Centreville, to William Blakeney, of Chestertown, was solemnized in Easton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur H. Morris have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Eunice Cornelia, to George E. Cornell, Jr., of Washington, D. C., on Tuesday, Nov. 11th, 1924, at 2 o'clock p. m. at St. James M. P. Church. At home after Nov. 23rd, 2301 Cathedral avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. No cards in the county.

Perkins, Jr., of Baltimore, on Nov. 11, in St. John Church, Washington, D. C. The groom-elect has received a consular appointment and will leave for foreign shores immediately after the wedding.

BONES—CLARK

A very pretty tho' quiet wedding was solemnized in Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church, Baltimore, on Saturday afternoon, October 25, at 5.30 o'clock, when Miss Anna Trenchard Clark became the bride of Wm. Finley Bones, of New York City, formerly of Colora, Md. The ceremony was perfomred by the Rev. D. Hugh Brickhead, rector. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Nesbitt Trenchard, and was attended by her sister, Miss Ellen Nesbitt Clark. Dr. George M. Anderson, of Port Deposit, Md., was the best man. Only the immediate families of the bride and groom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Bones will reside in New York City after the first of December.

A new industry will shortly be introduced in Chestertown if sufficient women can be found to accept the employment offered by the A. J. Reach Company to sew covers on baseballs at good wages. This work is to be done in the private homes of all who desire employment, the company to furnish the materials to supply the sewing needles, to deliver the product to the homes and to call for it when finished. Eight of the residents of the town have accepted employment. The move is being fostered by the Chestertown Business Men's Association.

DUCKING SEASON STARTED

The ducking season on the Susquehanna flats, the world-famed grounds at the mouth of the Susquehanna, off the shores of Harford and Cecil counties opened Saturday.

The law was changed during the last session of the Maryland Legislature in regard to the hour permitting gunners to place their outfits on the gunning grounds, and anyone crossing the imaginary line before 4.30 a. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays will be subject to arrest.

Until the change in the law was made boats could anchor on the flats the night before the regular gunning day. The privilege was abused and many ducks were killed by big gunners at night, hence the chaage.

Gunners who have visited the flats recently report that thousands of the feathery tribe have arrived on the ducking grounds. There are, however, not very many of the better grade, canvasbacks and redheads.

The weather, it is believed, has been too warm to cause these ducks to make their flight from their northern habitant, the lakes of Canada. A few cold days will cause them to arrive more abundantly, old-timers say.

E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden, visited Havre de Grace last week in a motor boat of 200 horsepower, capable of 25 miles per hour, in order to patrol the flats to protect the fowl from the night gunners.

The State Game Department is determined to break up violations of the ducking laws. The boat was built especially for use on the floats.

Federal officers are also there to prevent violations of the Federal migratory bird law.

BORDLEY & SON
THE MEN'S STORE

Men are walking blocks out of their way to see these new ones!

MEN, as a rule, don't enthuse much over articles of apparel. Usually they take hats as a matter of course and when they take a stock by storm there must be some mighty big reason.

Ever since the first lid was lifted on this Fall display—the lid has been off.

We have been swept off our feet selling hats to men who have never had two feet in this store before—and in two weeks we have closed almost a season's business.

Why? Simply because we have the blocks that are worth walking blocks to buy—and if you haven't purchased your hat yet—there is no reason why you shouldn't cash in on the tip that others are capitalizing on.
