DAYS OF LONG AGO

"The Covered Wagon" A Picture Of Life On The Prairies.

The old days so famous for adventure and down in history as the days of the birth of the American nation, have been turned back and are with us again in "The Covered Wagon," James Cruze's latest Paramount production which will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 19 and 20. The great stretch of the western plains forms a most magnificent background, and five hundred or more covered wagons or "praihie schooners," add greatness to this colossal picture. True, it is a love story, but this one is different. It is a love tale of the desert wastes, long and enduring with its thrilling climax, leading to the reunion of the young couple, played by Lois Wilson and J. Warren Kerrigan, in a frontier homestead in Oregon. "The Covered Wagon" eclipses anything in pictures.

HAND OF DEATH !

Died, December 2, 1924, at 1:30 p. m., Mrs. Sarepta E. Hartman, at her residence in Queen Anne's County, Maryland. Mrs. Hartman was born at Poolsville, Indiana, May 9, 1839, the daughter of Thomas Johnston and Mary Bowyer Johnston. Two daughters, Mrs. Ivers W. Leonard and Miss Fanny Taylor Hartman, and two sons, Herbert T. and Hugh H. Hartman, survive her. She was a woman of the greatest courage and fortitude, and bore the many troubles of life with cheerful philosophy. She was a good mother and a faithful friend. Mrs. Hartman was possessed of an unusually fine and active mind, which she had cultivated in the truest sense; and she maintained, to the last the keenest interest in everything worthwhile. Her predominating characteristics were kindliness and consideration for others, love of the truth, and a keen sense of humor.

Funeral was held at 1.30 p. m., on Thursday, from her late home with services by Rev. C. T. Atwater and Rev. Mr. Sheen; interment at St. Paul's. The bearers were W. Irving Walker, Edwin R. Local fire companies are asking citizens to take every possible precaution to guard against possible conflagrations during the approaching winter months. Particular emphasis is laid upon the necessity of cleaning up basements, now that fires have been started in furnaces. Firemen point out that kindling wood, paper, excelsior and other matter, if permitted to remain near the burning coals, are apt to cause serious fires.

President Paul Emerson Titsworth, of Washington College, feels greatly encouraged on account of the co-operation of the student body and general public in the new departure in routine work at the institution in holding assembly exercises but one morning in each week, on Thursday. As speakers and for the coming term Dr. Titsworth has secured Dr. John H. Latine, professor of History at Johns Hopkins University; Rev. Mr. Fox, pastor of Salisbury Methodist Church; Swepson Earle, State Conservation Commissioner; Dr. Albert S. Cook, State Superintendent of Education, and as an added feature a fine musical program will be given at one assembly.

SOCCER TITLE WON BY FEDERALSBURG

In a game that lasted two hours and 20 minutes, Federalsburg High School won the Eastern Shore soccer championship Thursday in Chestertown by defeating Chesapeake City, 3 to 2. It was one of the best games ever played in this section. Eighty minutes of overtime play were required before the victor was decided.

Chesapeake City scored the first goal of the game before a minute had elapsed in the first half. The two teams played to a tie in the second half and then the overtime started. The tilt was decided when F. Whitelock, of Chesapeake City, was frced to leave the game with injuries, his team momentarily going to pieces, allowing Federalsburg to score.

The Western Shore championship will be decided at Hagerstown when Barton meets Harlboro. The winner of this game will meet Federalsburg for the State title Dec. 19th, here at Washington College Athletic Field.

Young Whiteoak, of the Chesapeake City team, broke his leg in the above game. Dr. H. G. Simpers and Dr. E. A. Scott rendered medical aid to him.
