HAS DONE MUCH FOR MARYLAND

Western Maryland College Is Educating Leaders In All Lines of Endeavor.

Western Maryland College has done, and is doing, a most important work for Maryland, according to Dr. A. N. Ward, its president, who says that many leading lawyers, educators, physicians, preachers, engineers, and business men have been educated in the college.

The personal contact of teacher and student, as at Western Maryland College and the contact of student with student is best realized in a college of from 500 to not more than 1,000 students.

Among prominent business men of the state who graduated from the Western Maryland College are Charles R. Miller, president of the Fidelity & Deposit Company, Baltimore; William G. Baker, Jr., of Baker, Watts & Co., Baltimore; L. Irving Politt, Baltimore; J. H. K. Shannahan, of Bethesda, Md.; B. B. Webster, lawyer, and a host of others.

In letters, the ministry, the medical profession and other lines of endeavor, Western Maryland graduates have won prominence. Lynn R. Meekins, noted as author, editor and lecturer, is one of these.

Maryland men and women who were graduated from the college have found spheres of activity in other parts of the United States.

Instantly after instance might be cited of graduates who have achieved fame in their chosen work, said Dr. Ward, who added, "Western Maryland College is a public institution and is doing a notable service for the state and nation."

Wisdom in Suffering He is wise who at last sees in suffering only the light that it sheds on his soul; and whose eyes never rest on the shadow it casts upon those who have sent it towards him.
