TOMATO PLANT BED TOUR

An auto tour to see and briefly inspect the seven Community Tomato Plant Beds in Kent County has been planned by County Agent Horace B. Derrick, for Monday, May 25th. According to County Agent Derrick, the Community Tomato Plant Bed has done more to stimulate the tomato industry in Maryland than any other one thing. The schedule is as follows:

Monday, May 25th

8 a. m., leave Court House, Chestertown.

8.45 to 9.15 a. m., inspect the Rock Hall Plant Bed, R. A. Shallcross, grower.

10 to 10.45 a. m., Chestertown Plant Bed, Stanley B. Sutton.

11 to 11.15 a. m., Worton Plant Bed, W. T. S. Rasin.

11.45 to 12.15 a. m., Still Pond Plant Bed, H. F. Robinson.

12.45 to 1.45 p. m., Dinner at Betterton.

2 to 2.30 p. m., Betterton Plant Bed, New York Canners.

3.30 to 4 p. m., Massey Plant Bed, Mr. King.

4.30 to 5 p. m., Millington Plant Bed, S. C. Willis.

6 p. m., return to Chestertown.

To the tomato grower, this tour should be of much value and interest. The canner is equally interested because of varieties and quality tomatoes grown from Plant Bed Plants. There may be others interested in this project. Everybody is cordially invited to make the tour. This will be time well spent.

CHESTERTOWN ONE OF THE LANDING PLACES

Keen competition developed among the towns of the Eastern Shore for the honor of being selected as landing places for the planes of the Air Unit of the Maryland National Guard in the 250-mile cross-country flight to be made May 30 for the $1,000 in prizes offered by the Baltimore Amer-.

Landings will be made at five Eastern Shore towns, the places now under consideration being Elkton, Queen Anne, Chestertown, Denton, Salisbury, Cambridge and Easton. Chestertown has already been selected as one of the places and appreciates the honor. It will add considerable interest to the celebration to be held here.

The start and finish of the flight will be at Logan Field. The first of the eight planes to be entered will hop off at 9 a. m. Others will take to the air at intervals of 15 minutes. The pilots will not know where they are to land until they open the sealed orders, which will be handed them just before the hop-off.

The flight is expected to be made in about five hours.

The four officers selected for the flight, Capt. Charles A. Masson and First Lieutenants Harold R. Bohlman, James C. Hooper and Thomas B. Bourne, are among the most efficient and daring pilots in the country. All are members of the officers reserve corps of the United States Army and all saw service in the World War.

Eight of the eight planes will be manned by a pilot and a mechanician, the latter from the enlisted personnel of the unit.

The rules are as follows:

1. As each flyer arrives at the first stop in the flight, Chestertown, will be informed by a representative of the Baltimore American the place of the next stop and when he is scheduled to arrive there.

2. The flyer who adheres most closely to the schedule will be adjudged winner.

3. First plane leaves Logan Field at 9 a. m. May 30, the other seven following at 15-minute intervals.

4. Schedule must be adhered to strictly. Time for take-offs to be taken for opening of throttle; time for landings when wheels touch the ground.

5. Each plane allowed five minutes in which to land after being sighted Time in excess of five minutes to be charged against pilot.

6. Ten minutes allowed at each stop, except Salisbury, where 45-minute stop will be made.

MR. HAGGERTY WINS CASE

The last case to be tried before the Circuit Court for Queen Anne's county, was the case of John E. Goodman vs. Richard Haggerty, both of Kent. This case was taken up Monday before a jury. Sheriff Goodman and wife sued Mr. Haggerty for an injury which the plaintiff sustained when run into by the automobile driven by Richard Haggerty. This occured in Chestertown on October 25, 1923, at or near the intersection of Maple and Washington avenues. The plaintiff, son of Mr. Goodman, claimed that he was crossing from Maple avenue, after having been across the street to look at some concrete work, and was going over Washington avenue and had gotten more than half way across when he was hit by the automobile and his leg broken. He was taken to Easton Hospital and was there until some time in December. The defendant claimed that the boy was pushed in front of his car as he was driving slowly along this street.

The case was given to the jury at two o'clock and a verdict in favor of the defendant was brought in at 4. Harrison W. Vickers and William Frazier Russell, Jr., of Chestertown and Edwin H. Brown represented the plaintiff and John D. Urie, of Chestertown, and J. H. C. Legg represented the defendant.

"The Collegians In Auto Crash

Five members of "The Collegians," the popular Washington College orchestra, narrowly escaped death at Brown's Corner, near Church Hill, on Thursday evening, when their Haynes car, in which they were riding, and a Ford tuoring car, driven by William Smith, collided. Both machines were completely wrecked and the young musicians, including Price Rolph, Michael Kelley, Herman Negri, Alfred Lovesky and Norman Graves, were all bruised. C. A. Ringgold, Jr., of Centreville, the other member of the musical sextette, had not joined the party and escaped the accident. Notwithstanding the injuries suffered the "Collegians" continued to Easton and filled their engagement for a hop in Music Hall.

All the patriotic societies, public school and Washington College will form the parade and march to the cemetery where the speaker will be Rev. Mr. Saunders, of Massey. The graves will be decorated with real flowers.

At 1.30 p. m. the Legion will march to Washington College where the Field Sports and baseball game between Kennedyville and the Legion will take place.

The radio set winner will be decided after the field sports.
