

LOCAL NOTES

John G. Schaubert is making bricks by the thousand at his yard near town. He has constructed extensive drying sheds and the business is growing daily. He deserves to succeed.

A small house on the Rogers farm, tenanted by Chas. M. Browne, and occupied by Hyland Copper, was burned Saturday. Mr. Copper lost all his furniture and clothing, but had $500 insurance.

While the power boat Elizabeth W. was coming up the Chesapeake Bay the crew discovered the body of a man floating in the water. The body was taken to Chesapeake City, and Howard Green, coroner at Elkton, notified. The body was identified as that of Frank Baroski, 55 years old, who was employed as cook on the power boat A. Woodall, which was burned at A. Woodall's edge near the mouth of Elk river last December, the entire crew of eight men being lost.

Tomorrow, Sunday, May 24, will be Founder's Day at the Maryland State Normal School at Towson in honor of McFadden A. Nevell, the founder and first principal of this school. Congressman J. Chas. Linthicum is the chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Chester Lodge of Masons will attend divine service at Betterton M. E. Church next Sunday afternoon at which time the pastor, Rev. E. M. Shockey will preach a special sermon to the fraternity. Following the church services members of the order will be entertained by their Betterton brethren at dinner at the Hotel Rigbie.

Capt. Wm. C. A. Thompson has placed his fast pacing mare, Edna Hal, 2:16 1/4 in the hands of John Mal-lieu, of Elsmere, who will train and race her during the coming campaign over the Maryland, Virginia and Pennsylvania circuits. Edna Hal holds the record for the highest number of races won in two consecutive days, having won first money in two hard races last year at Pocomoke City and Salisbury, and was never out of the money in any of her starts, although she was placed in training only about two weeks before she made her first start.

Postmaster John N. Bennett, with the consent of the Inspector, who has been here for ten days, distributed the Kent News to local patrons Friday night. This practice will continue until further notice. It is quite a convenience to the Chestertown subscribers.

At its regular meeting held Monday evening, the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company elected the following delegates, to attend the State Firemen's Association's Annual gathering which will be held at Ocean City, Md., June 10, 11 and 12, viz: Wm. G. Smyth, B. R. Bartley, W. H. Thawley, Joseph Lewis and Fred S. Russell, alternates, C. Arthur Bacon, Scott Thompson, Roy Barnett, Harvey Blyman and Alvin Brown.

It was also unanimously decided by those present to send a crew of ten firemen with the Pierce-Arrow truck to participate in such contests to which they might be eligible. While the meeting will be held three days the truck and firemen will be out of town but one night, leaving in the morning of Thursday, June 11th and returning on Friday evening.

Capt. Dan Ashley caught another big lot of rock this week, about two tons.

THE "HUNCHBACK" COMING TO THE LYCEUM

Production Which Has Taken Country By Storm Booked For Showing Next Week

"The Hunchback of Notre Dame," the picturized version of Victor Hugo's classic which has come down through the ages with untarnished lustre, will be shown at the Lyceum Theatre, Chestertown, Friday and Saturday, May 29 and 30. Aside from the natural interest in the screening of such a notable masterpiece, there is a general interest to see the production which required more than a year to film and on which more than $1,500,000 was expended. Liberties were taken with the story—being defended on the ground that a production intended for all classes could not afford to offend any particular religious denomination—but while many shook their heads and predicted dire failure as a result, the changes were all approved by the New York critics after the world premier in the Astor Theatre.

Certainly all the elements of success are contained in the production—Universal had the story, the title, the cast and unlimited funds. The selection of Lon Chaney for the title role of "Quasimodo, the Hunchback" was a logical one. His amazing ability to portray characters such as he played in "The Miracle Man," "Outside the Law," and "Shadows" roles which required contortion ability as well as unusual dramatic training, is well known. It is claimed that Chaney required four and one-half hours daily to do the make-up of the deformed bell-ringer of Notre Dame. The Cathedral of Notre Dame was constructed in its entirety at Universal City for the production, as were eight squares of Parisian streets of the period of Louis XI.

The steamer Lincoln will start her regular trips between Baltimore and Rock Hall and Chestertown today. Schedule will be same as B. S. Ford leaving Baltimore at 8 a. m.

Worton Grange will meet in Worton Hall next Tuesday evening, May 26th, at 8 p. m. Strawberries and cake will be served, the ladies being expected to bring cake.

Read Jefferson's big adv. on another page of this issue. He has some bargains to offer.

Charles Lambert has caught for market a fine lot of frogs. He finds a ready market for them.

Lee Robinson, of Chestertown, has sold to John Hammer, of Chester, Pa., one of his 15-months-old hounds for $50.

Thomas Hogans has been awarded the contract for carrying the mails twice a day over the star-route between Rock Hall and Chestertown postoffices at an annual salary of $1,050. The contract is for a period of four years. Capt. Hogans was the successful bidder among five.

A wedding of interest was solemnized Wednesday morning in Baltimore, when Mrs. Nancy B. Hubble, of that city, became the bride of Henry Evans, of Rolph's Wharf. The ceremony took place at 10 a. m.

Mr. Evans is well known here and for the past year has been engaged in farming on his farm at Rolph's Wharf, near Church Hill. He is the son of Mrs. Sallie H. and the late Col. John H. Evans.

The Baltimore American is doing much to create interest in aviation. The "Sealed Orders Flight," noted elsewhere in News, should result in bringing forcibly to the attention of every Marylander the necessity of greater development of this plan of national defense.

We extend our congratulations to the Baltimore American in this movement.

The Wood-Reiche farm in Quaker Neck was offered at public sale in Chestertown last Tuesday by the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore, C. W. Held, Assignee, and bid in by the latter for $5,000.

Duyer Bros. have begun the erection of a fine home on Water street, Chestertown, for Mr. and Mrs. Philip G. Wilmer.

What is regarded as the beginning of a State-wide campaign to build concrete shoulders on all hard-surface highways, was taken Tuesday by the State Roads Commission, when a contract was awarded to have new concrete shoulders on the road from Easton toward Chestertown, a distance of 4.5 miles. John K. Flick, of Sudlersville, contractor, was the successful bidder. His contract calls for $46,035, to make the improvement. Eventually Highway officials expect to increase the width of all main highways throughout the State.

Bordley & Son have one of the most artistic windows in the State. Carl is some decorator.

The removal of tobacco signs, etc., in front of W. S. McDonnell's store is quite an improvement.

Great Amusement Center

Carl's Park, Baltimore's greatest amusement center, is enjoying the most prosperous season of its career, and it is noticeable that all sections of Maryland and lower Pennsylvania are well represented. A poll was taken on the dance floor Saturday night and it was found that 23 Maryland cities and 11 Pennsylvania cities were represented. Incidentally, the scintillating melodies of George Gaul and his Baltimore Syncopaters is making this one of the most popular spots in the park.

Mr. Carl has engaged a number of great outdoor acts for the summer, the first being Captain Jack Payne, the noted highdiver who does his plunge in a five-foot tank from a height of 200 feet. Firework displays will also be a regular feature each week. An unprecedented array of picnics has been booked for the park and at least sixteen towns have arranged for special trains to carry them to the park for their annual outing. Details of these arrangements are in the capable hands of Mr. J. Trimble, the assistant manager of the park.

In all probability the great Orena Theatre, the largest outdoor auditorium in the country, will house a musical comedy company for the summer. Arrangements are now being completed and it is expected to make a definite announcement of the company within the next few days.

James M. E. Church, Colored, Rev. L. H. McArthur, pastor, 10:30 a. m. preaching service, subject "The Representative of Christ," 2 p. m. Sunday school, 3 p. m. special sermon to the Veterans of the Civil War by the pastor, 7:15 p. m. Epworth League 8 p. m. preaching service. Wednesday 8 p. m. to 9 p. m., catalogue prayer service. Sunday and Epworth League convention will be held here June 16, 17 and 18.
