

LOCAL NOTES

Wheat has been selling for $1.36. S. G. Roseberry had a specially fine crop for which he received $1.40.

C. G. Hadaway, of Worton, has rented his farm to Edward Johnson, colored.

Clinton D. Robertson, the courteous baggagemaster on the Pennsylvania passenger train running between Chestertown and Massey, has been appointed conductor during the enforced absence of Conductor John D. Welch, who is ill.

The Chestertown orchestra met with hard luck at Betterton one night this week. Prof. Roy Woodland's new hat was smashed, his auto light stolen and Norman Graves' hat was stolen. The supposed thief is being shadowed and will likely be put where he belongs.

Thomas Bryan, John C. Smith and Josiah Massey, of near town, reaped fine crops of wheat off their tomato ground. Mr. Bryan got 43 bushels per acre while Messrs. Smith and Massey did nearly as well.

Work was started this week on canning string-beans. Packing houses operated by D. E. Foote & Company at Crumpton; Beaven Johnson Cannery, Inc., at Price, and J. Langrall & Bro., Inc., Centerville, all have large acreages and thousands of cases of these vegetables will be canned during the next two weeks.

A bad break occurred early Sunday morning in the water main Corner Spring avenue and Calvert street. The repair was made Wednesday. The piece of pipe removed had been in service for 41 years! A four acre field of wheat on the farm of Page Gale, near Tolchester, yielded 60 bushels per acre.

Washington Camp No. 34 P. O. S. of A. will install their newly elected officers at its regular meeting next Tuesday evening. Every member should be present on this occasion. The camp is considering an invitation to the State Camp to meet in Chestertown next year. This question will probably be decided next Tuesday night.

C. A. Bacon, proprietor of Maple Avenue Garage, advertises in this issue to repair radiators. He has had 20 years experience. Give him a trial.

Clerk of Court Robert R. Ayres issued the following marriage licenses last week: J. Russell Kelley 23, of Kent county, and Evelyn Poore 20, of Kent county; Louis Edw. Rash 22, of Smyrna, and Mary Guiser 19, of Massey.

Metcalfe Bros., local grain and feed dealers, have had such a run on wheat during the past week that they have been forced to ship large quantities of grain to city elevators, their large warehouses and elevators, at Chestertown, Worton and Kennedyville being filled to capacity.

Chautauqua, this year, begins on Saturday, August 15th. This is a little earlier than formerly. Don't forget the date and remember the program this year is up to that standard of excellence we so well enjoy. Get your tickets early and help the guarantors. A week of music, instruction, entertainment that you cannot fail to miss. No form of entertainment gives more for the money than Chautauqua. Adults $2.50, children under fifteen $1.00. The guarantors have decided on August 1st as "Ticket Day." If you don't purchase before, be sure to buy on August 1st.

Judging from the catches of pan-fish, which we have heard from time to time, all one needs to do seemingly is throw a line overboard almost anywhere in the bay to be able to catch "a mess o' fish." They are very plentiful around Rock Hall and Tolchester. Fishing with Capt. Marion Coleman off Rock Hall last Sunday a party of Baltimoreans, including John Le Mieux and Harry Webster, landed 168 rock, running from one to two pounds each, and threw back scores of others that were too small to be of legal size. They used bloodworms and spinner and the Drone bait as lures.

W. C. Perego gathered a large quantity of ripe tomatoes this week from his garden on Mill street. Some of them weighed 14 ounces.

R. A. Kennedy, of near Kennedyville, threshed 2893 bushels off 100 acres.

Thomas F. (Tom) Healey, prominent local attorney and football coach, has signed to coach at Tome School, Port Deposit, this fall. Healey who last season directed Loyola College will have charge of the line at Tome. He will leave the latter part of August, for the preliminary training camp.

DeArcey Flowers is making a great record in base ball on the Pacific Coast. It is said that some of the Eastern magnates have their eye on him and will try and bring him to this section.

J. I. Rigby, on the Vickers home farm, near Chestertown, got 1238 bushels of wheat from 53 acres.

J. P. DeCorse enjoyed the first corn from his garden on Tuesday. R. F. Collins has also had roasting ears from his garden the past week.

Twelve revenue officers from Washington, known as the "Flying Squadron" swooped down on the section known as Double Creek last week and arrested three men for manufacture and possession of liquor. The men were held under $1000 bail, and taken to Baltimore.

A ten year old boy from Baltimore was drowned at Tolchester on Wednesday. The lad went over his head and couldn't swim.

Merritt Willis, of Locust Grove, residing on the Shallcross place has the finest tomato patch of 12 acres in Kent county. 15 or 20 tomatoes can be counted on one vine notwithstanding the fact they have had no rain for about 6 weeks. All his crops are looking very nice.

Harry H. Vansant's home in Piney Neck was struck by lightning Thursday night and badly damaged. Chimney and plastering knocked off. Mr. Vansant and family were home and says it seemed like a lot of dynamite had been set off.

Charles P. Crane, of the Gas and Electric Company, Baltimore, arrived in Chestertown harbor Saturday on board his beautiful yacht "Liberty." Herbert Dodson and George Hempson were with him. This yacht is 48 feet long, yawl rigged and finished in mahogany. It has won scores of cups in races North and South.

A CORRECTION
Christobal, Canal Zone, June 30, 1925
In a recent issue of the News you announced Adelaide's engagement. This is a mistake and I request you to put a correction in your paper, giving it the same publicity. The statement "It does not come as a surprise as they have been seen together lately," is also not true. As the party in question lives in Panama and is still here.

Adelaide left for North Carolina June 21 for ten days. Sincerely,
Mrs. Adelaide Lambert.

We publish with pleasure the above correction but would state that the letter we received had every indication of being authentic, even to the signature of the mother. Persons who play such "jokes" little realize the seriousness of the offence.

JULY TERM OF COURT OVER

The July non-jury term of the Circuit Court was opened last Monday morning at 10 o'clock with Judge Lewen W. Wickes on the bench. The appearance and trial dockets were called.

George Mitchell under suspended sentence for petty larceny was sentenced to 3 months in House of Correction for violating his parole.

Frank Toth, of Quaker Neck, was granted his final naturalization papers and is now a citizen of the United States. Toth is a native of Hungary, 37 years old and has been in this country 20 years. Court was then adjourned until the third Monday in October.
