CHESTERVILLE NOTES

Harvey Freeman, of Chesterville, was seriously hurt when he fell from a porch roof on the Boggs farm, now owned by Col. Lloyd and tenanted by Fred Larimore. We are glad to hear that Mr. Freeman is improving and hope for his early recovery as he is an estimable and useful gentleman.

Revival services are in progress at the M. E. Church South, Chesterville, Let's all come out and lend a helping hand for a good cause.

-now 75 Horse Power

Buick Performance steps further ahead in World Leadership

The Valve-in-Head engine in the Better Buick Master models delivers more than 75 horsepower! Extra power has been added to the extra power always a feature of Buick's famous engine.

Even drivers of previous Buicks will be amazed at the performance the Better Buick now places at their command. The higher efficiency of the engine in the Better Buick includes the same economical consumption of gasoline and oil that has distinguished all past Buicks.

And the Better Buick now leads the world in protection for engine and driving units. Three new seals have been added to Buick's famous Sealed Chassis. An air cleaner, a gasoline filter, and an oil filter, now insure clean air, oil and gasoline for the engine.

Drive one of the Better Buicks. Know how much the new 75 horsepower Standard of Performance adds to the pleasure of Buick ownership.

You never again will be satisfied with the power and performance of the ordinary motor car.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE CELEBRATION IN 1932

Washington College is looking forward to the Sesqui-Centennial of the institution which will be celebrated in 1932. The ancient seat of learning was founded in 1782 and, by a unique coincidence, the one-hundred and fiftieth anniversary of its foundation will also mark the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington, an occasion that will be celebrated with elaborate ceremony throughout the country.

It happens that the history of the "Father of His Country" is intertwined with the history of Washington College in a number of interesting historical ways. The Chestertown school is the only college to which Washington gave his direct consent for the use of his name. He paid several visits to Chestertown; once when he came to receive the degree of doctor of laws at the hands of the college and on another authentic occasion when he passed through here for one night on his way to the Continental Congress, then meeting in Philadelphia. He presented the college with the sum of fifty guineas in gold and wrote a letter to Dr. William Smith, the president, stating that it was his earnest desire, that the college should grow and prosper. Smith was a close friend of Washington and was instrumental in helping thwart the so-called "Conway Cabal" which was engineered by a former German army officer, then an officer in the Continental Army, for the purpose of ousting General Washington from his command. A duel was fought between Conway and General Cadwalader, one of Washington's officers, over the whole affair. Cadwalader, at his death some years later, was buried in Shrewsbury Churchyard, near Chestertown.

Dr. Smith later went to Philadelphia, where he became the first president of the University of Pennsylvania. He was a man of prominence and influence in the Colonies and, through his friendship with Washington, he did much toward putting the Chestertown College on the road to prosperity and achievement.

Thus it is that plans for the Sesqui-Centennial of the old college on the Chester are going forward with vigor and thus it is that, coincident with the celebration in honor of the birth of Washington in 1732, the two anniversaries will be a matter of historical interest to all who have studied the life of the Nation's first President.

Death Of Judge George Gray

The death of Judge George Gray, of Delaware, removes a long-time outstanding figure in Eastern Democratic ranks. His party had several times given him consideration as its national candidate. He was of the day of Cleveland and Tilden, of Lamont and Olney. Twice he was a member of the United States Senate. He helped draft the Spanish-American Peace Treaty in 1898. That asme year he was named to the Joint High Commission at Quebec. Two years later he went to The Hague as America's representative on the Court of Arbitration. In 1902 he headed the anthracite commission named by President Roosevelt to settle a five months' strike. Appointed as a Federal Judge in 1899, he found time to serve in the Canadian fisheries dispute as an arbitrator in 1910 and as Peace Commissioner to Great Britain in 1915. Judge Gray was one of the sanest minds of his day. He represented his country often and ably in great negotiations. His record was a credit to his country and himself.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cain and daughters, of Philadelphia, visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Freeman the past week.

Master Edward Lee Freeman, of Massey, has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Freeman, of Chesterville.

E. G. Coppage Dies Suddenly At Church Hil Home

Enoch G. Coppage, influential banker, retired farmer and business man of Queen Anne's, died suddenly Thursday night week at his home in Church Hill. Death was due to apoplexy. He was 66 years old.

The deceased had been in failing health for the past three years, but on Thursday was apparently as well as usual, and spent the afternoon with friends at Rolph's. His death occurring so soon after his return home was a shock to his friends and relatives.

Mr. Coppage was born May 22nd, 1859, on the Coppage home farm, where B. Clay Coppage now resides, and was a son of the late John Coppage and Rebecca Taylor Coppage. He spent his boyhood on the farm, and when a young man took up agricultural pursuits near Church Hill. He remained on the farm until 1914, when he retired and moved to Church Hill, where he has since resided. Throughout his life Mr. Coppage was regarded as one of the most successful business men in the county.

When the Church Hill Bank was founded Mr. Coppage became a charter member, and in 1921, was elected vice president, which post he held at the time of his death. In politics Mr. Coppage was a Democrat.

Mr. Coppage was married twice. In December, 1893, he married Miss Sarah F. Hollingsworth, and by this union he leaves two sons: John Hepburn Coppage, connected with the Maryland State Insurance Commission, and Hiram S. Coppage, Valuation Engineer for the Southern Pacific Railway, located in Washington. Mrs. Coppage died in 1909, and on January 7, 1914, Mr. Coppage was married to Miss Fannie Smith, daughter of the late Wm. D. Smith. She survives him. He also leaves three sisters: Mrs. Annie Downes, Mrs. D. T. Hurlock, and Miss Margaret H. Coppage, all of Church Hill.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock at St. Luke's P. E. Church, Church Hill, conducted by Rev. L. I. Insley, assisted by the Rev. S. S. Hepburn, a former rector. The honorary pall-bearers were directors of the Church Hill Bank and Vestrymen of the church. The active pall-bearers were the following nephews of the deceased: D. Edgar Hurlock, Dr. W. G. Coppage, Thomas K. Dudley, James F. Hall, Fred M. Seney and B. Clay Coppage. Interment in Sudlersville Cemetery.

Royal Welsh Male Quartet

The Royal Welsh Male Quartet represent a nation of singers, that have thrilled the world with their music.

This Welsh Quartet, which appears at Chautauqua, made several successful tours of England and Wales before coming to America, and since their arrival in this country, New York City, Chicago, Boston, Cleveland, and other large cities have welcomed them.

It is interesting to know that every year in the month of August, there is held a National Competitive Musical Festival in Wales to foster and find out Singers and Musicians and give them a chance, if they are successful, of winning one of the conveted prizes offered by this Festival. From these Festivals wonderful singers are located and quite a number are making splendid reputations in America and Canada.

Welshmen are known all over the world for their wonderful voices. This organization of Welsh Artists will make you understand why when you hear them at Chautauqua.

KENT NEWS $1.50 PER YEAR

Time is fleeting. Tomorrow—next week—next month—and next year—come and are gone while one still plans to start action for that "someday" of ease, comfort, peace and plenty.

The YOU of today, in the full power of earning capacity is responsible for the YOU of tomorrow, when earning ability is decreased.

Heed these words from the pages of experience. Call it charity—but start today for the other man—the YOU of tomorrow—so that he may live in comfort and without worry.

Spend less than you make today—and bank the difference.
