Automobile Financing

The demand for service of companies conducting business similar to that of the Summons Finance Corporation is practically unlimited. When you take into consideration the fact that thousands of automobiles and motor trucks, the value of which runs into millions of dollars, are produced every day in the year, and a great majority of them are purchased on time payments—you will very readily realize that this particular form of financing has grown to be one of the great businesses of the nation.

The Growth of The Summons Finance Corp.

has been phenomenal in this and the other communities where they operate. This is due to both the natural demand for this kind of financing and the efficiency of this particular institution.

Mr. Summons, the president of the company, has had many years of experience in the automotive industry, being entirely familiar with the various makes of cars and their values.

His opinions are based on practical knowledge and years of experience.
