Football Starts Season Today

With the squad increased to 85 men at Washington College, Coach Kibler is looking forward with great anticipation to the opening game with the university of Maryland at College Park Saturday.
Coach Kibler's greatest drawback in previous years has been the lack of weight and stature, but this year it has been overcome by a line which appears to be the heaviest in the history of Washington College and by a backfield which purports weight, speed and experience.
The center of the line with Keenan Adkins and Kelley, averages 235 pounds. Conant and Smoot, tackles, are both six-footers and tip the scales at 185 pounds each. Reiger left end, is a little over six feet and weighs 185 pounds. The material for the backfield jobs is very promising, being very fast and sufficient for a well balanced and shifty combination.
The veterans from last year, Negri, Dunschott, Galvin, have shown to date that they are right at home in their togs and already appear to be in mid-season form. Cavanaugh, Washington's big gun in the backfield, reported for practice Thursday, and Washington's gridmen began real serious grind.
Great things are predicted of Bobby Cavanaugh this season on account of his great showing last season, and under his field generalship at quarterback his teammates should be hard to stop.
The squad is in fine physical condition and is prepared by his course of two weeks' intensive training to meet the hard schedule of games arranged by Graduate Manager W. R. Howell and Student Manager H. T. Rayne.

No Money For Local Waters

As a result of a preliminary investigation, the War Department is considering the advisability of recommending for abandonment of the existing project for the Federal improvement of Rock Hall harbor, and inner harbor at Rock Hall. The reason for its attitude are that the only wharf in the inner harbor is privately owned and not open to general use. The only vessels using the inner harbor are local fishing boats of light draft which anchor there. The main landings for this community are at Deep Landing about a mile north of the inner harbor entrance, where there is a harbor of sufficient natural depth. The channel across the bar would require large and incommensurate expenditures for maintenance, and is not necessary as a natural channel of ample depth exists around the end of Swan Point.
Also the War Department is considering the advisability of recommending for abandonment of the existing project for the Federal improvement of Fairlee Creek, Md. The reason for its attitude is that there is no apparent necessity for the improvement.
Also as a result of a preliminary investigation, the War Department is considering the advisability of recommending for abandonment of existing project for the Federal improvement of Worton (Creek) Harbor, Md. The reason for its attitude is that no apparent necessity for the expenditure of government funds on the harbor exists.
All concerned are hereby notified that they have the privilege of submitting to the District Engineer, U. S. Engineer Office, 300 Custom House Baltimore, Md. within thirty days from the date of this notice, written arguments tending to show why the proposed abandonments should not be recommended.
