

Budget of Breezy Local Happenings Here and There

The examination for postmaster at Church Hill will be held in Chestertown. Applications will close Nov. 4, 1925. The salary is $1100. The vacancy occurred July 1st.

Princess D. formerly owned by George Sutton, of Worton, won a $1,000 stake race at Greensboro, N. C., last week.

Francis Willson, who received the county prize of ten dollars in gold for the essay, "Teeth, and Their Care," was awarded also a gold medal by The Eastern Dental Association, the presentation being made last Thursday by Dr. Paul E. Titworth, at Washington College where Francis is enrolled as a freshman.

Governor Ritchie has appointed Bruce Dukes a justice of the peace for the Second Election District with offices in Kennedyville, upon the recommendation of Senator W. B. Copper, to succeed Justice David T. Nickerson, who has resigned.

Wm. G. Gunning, who for 13 years has managed satisfactorily the Boarding Club at Washington College, has resigned on account of poor health and gone to make his home with his son in Atlanta, Ga. E. L. King, of Baltimore, who lost an arm during the late war, is taking Mr. Gunning's place.

Kennedyville Grange will meet Monday evening, October 19, at 7:30 o'clock in the school building. A good attendance is desired as the goal for the year is being discussed. A fire escape for our school building, something much needed for the protection of our citizens of the community.

In attempting to save his home from destruction by fire, F. M. Soper, the "Apple King," living near Magnolia, had his feet scorched and his hands burned and bruised on Sunday morning. The flames were extinguished with damage of about $500. Five men in an automobile, on their way to Ocean City, Md., were passing the home of Mr. Soper when they saw flames coming from the kitchen. They aroused the family and four men were left to fight the fire while the fifth drove to Dover to summon help.

Saturday, October 24th, is the day for the great air plane race at Bay Shore. Swift as the flights will be, they will have spectacular qualities, for the planes will pass seven times around the course, from Bay Shore to a point off Gibson Island, thence to a point off Huntingdon near Rock Hall, on the east side of the Chesapeake and then home, a distance of 31.5 miles. Seven planes will fly in groups of three, two and two, so that all will be in the air at once. Safety patrols will be posted on each leg of the course and additional patrols will circle continually in the middle of the triangle.

"Bolder," for five years one of the fastest and most sensational hunters in the kennels of B. W. Townsend, Centerville, was sold last week for $150 to James Parks, of Parkley, Va. "Bolder" is reputed one of the best coon dogs on the Eastern Shore of Maryland and on a recent trip to Virginia acquitted himself in such a masterly fashion that one of the Virginia hunters determined to become his owner.

Figures issued this week by the State Department of Health disclose the regrettable condition that typhoid fever has had serious strides in Queen Anne's county this year, compared with the number of cases reported last year. In August there were 13 cases while in September there were 19. In 1924 there were 13 cases and in 1925, 37.

Several Salisbury institutions, fraternities and churches are bequeathed stipulated sums of money annually for the period of several years in the will of Oscar L. Morris filed for probate in the Orphans' Court of Wicomico county. Bethesda M. P. Church $100 annually to be applied on minister's salary, for term of trust. Rev. Dr. Richard L. Shipley, $100 yearly during the period of his natural life or until termination of the trust, "in appreciation of his spiritual and warm encouragement." Bethesda Church also receives thru insurance policies from $25,000 to $30,000. A large endowment is also left to the Y. M. C. A. treasury and Western Maryland College.

The Town Relief Society has called a special meeting for next Tuesday evening, October 20th, at 7.30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. H. B. Rote. A large attendance is requested.

The Shore Radio Service, Inc., of Chestertown, has given fine base ball news service during the exciting world series games between Washington and Pittsburg. Crowds have been present at their store here every day to hear the game. Philip Kratzer, of this firm, is an expert radio operator, has manipulated the wires for the base ball fans.

The J. W. Crooks Stores opened Saturday in fine style. Courteous clerks, fresh groceries, tender meat and all low prices. A loaf of bread was given with each 50-cent purchase.

Dr. M. E. Parsons has sold to Prof. P. B. Winn, of Washington College, a lot 94x250 feet on Philosophers' Terrace. He will build a residence there. This lot adjoins that of Walter Pippitt's. There are only two more left of this tract.

The Henry B. Price farm adjoining "Stoneton," near Betterton, containing about 186 acres, has been sold to Herman Crew thru the Betterton Realty Company for $7,500. This is said to be only the beginning of a big real estate boom in this section.

The Rock Hall and Fairlee cooperative canneries have closed for the season. The Rock Hall canneries packed 48,000 cases of tomatoes during the season, while the Fairlee plant packed a total of 32,000.

First football game of the season on the Washington College home grounds this afternoon at 2.30. Loyola will be the opponents against Coach Kibler's youngsters. A good game is expected.

W. S. & A. M. Culp have purchased of S. Scott Beck, trustee, the big Clements lot corner Mt. Vernon and Campus ayes. They are now prepared to furnish eligible building lots in a desirable part of Chestertown.

During the week buyers from Northern cities have come into Kent with offers of from 50 to 60 cents a pound for their half-grown turkeys and a profitable price for young ducks with which to supply the demand from the large cities. One dealer in Chestertown last week paid a grower $50 for twelve half-grown turkeys, which is more than she could have received at Thanksgiving and Christmas time for the same number of full-grown birds.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NOTES

E. A. Corey, of Chestertown, sailed from Baltimore Sunday, October 11 on the steamship Juniata of the Merchants and Miners Line, enroute to Jacksonville, Fla.

Henry Gill, of Gill Bros., will attend the National Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers in Detroit next week. He is always looking out for new methods and styles and hopes to get the latest at this national convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Wood, son and Mrs. Wood's mother of Atlantic City, have been guests in Chestertown the past week. Mr. Wood, at the living at the seaside, says he has not been on the boardwalk once within three years. He is now representing a big wholesale meat firm and predicts pork will be very scarce.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Harris, Mrs. Spencer Harris and Mrs. R. H. Collins left Chestertown Thursday for an automobile trip through West Virginia.

H. Dietz, of Chestertown, left Baltimore Friday, October 2nd, on the steamship Juniata of the Merchants and Miners Line, enroute to Jacksonville, Fla.

Mrs. Hartha H. Baker quietly celebrated her 84th birthday Monday at her cosy home on Mill street. She is quite active and takes continued interest in her poultry and flowers.

Mrs. Arthur Cooper was given a miscellaneous shower by the Christian Endeavor Society of Christ M. P. Church last Thursday evening.

Miss Martha Rasin has returned from a delightful trip to Los Angeles, Cal. Miss Rasin with a party of friends spent the past week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lotan Rasin at Betterton.

Mr. and Mrs. Covey Chilcutt, of Snow Hill, spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. Kate Chilcutt on Cross street, who has been quite sick for the past two weeks but is much improved at this writing. Prof. and Mrs. Mark Creasy received word last week of the sudden death of Homer G. Ames, of Haverly, Pa. Mr. Ames who was 55 years old died on Thursday following a stroke of paralysis. His funeral was held on Saturday afternoon. He was well known in Chestertown where he and his wife were frequent guests of Prof. and Mrs. Creasy.

Mrs. Harry Thompson was taken to Emergency Hospital at Easton Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob F. Allen and family visited their daughter, Mrs. William Bennett, near Salem, N. J., last week.

Mrs. Jane Chaires returned home from Easton on Tuesday evening for a few days rest. Mrs. Chaires has been nursing her mother, Mrs. Emma Miller, who has been a patient at Easton Hospital for two weeks and reports her mother doing nicely. She returned to Easton Thursday.

Mrs. Seth G. Ellegood, of Ossining, N. Y., formerly Miss Anna Lambert, of Chestertown, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Alice Burchinal. Mrs. Ellegood visited her sister, Mrs. Emma Miller at Easton Hospital the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hyde Thompson and Clark Davis motored to Philadelphia on Sunday and spent the day with relatives.

Leroy Jacquette visited his wife at Salisbury from Friday to Sunday. Mrs. Jacquette is getting along nicely but will complete a four months' stay.

Mrs. Carrie Ways, of Philadelphia, spent several days last week the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Needles.

Mrs. Charles R. Brown, of Baltimore, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. M. E. Newsome.

Mrs. H. C. D. Wilkison, of Baltimore, spent several days last week the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Barnes. Her son, Prof. John Wilkison, and friend, Miss Estelle Dotterer, of Baltimore, were guests of the latter on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Kirby and Mrs. J. Webster McIntire, visited Chesapeake City Council D. of A. last Thursday evening. There were also present the State officers.

The Samuel Turbutt Wright Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, met at the home of Mrs. Wm. H. Truflow, near Chester Bridge, last Saturday afternoon.

Joseph Lewis, Jr., and family have moved to the dwelling formerly occupied by his father, Cross and Cannon streets.

Wm. E. Slagle and family have removed from the Lewis house to the Covey house on College avenue.

Mrs. Alvin Brown has been quite sick for several days.

Mrs. Harry Wilson and mother, Mrs. Wm. B. Coleman left Baltimore Tuesday night for St. Petersburg, Fla., where they will spend the winter months.

Miss Mildred Manlove, daughter of L. B. Manlove, Cecilton, was operated on in Dr. J. J. Jones' Hospital, on Saturday for appendicitis.

Miss Amelia Blanchfield, daughter of Samuel Blanchfield, of Earleville, Md., was operated on at Dr. Jones' Hospital Tuesday for appendicitis.

Edwin H. Chrisfield bought the "Home Farm," near Galena, at public sale Tuesday. S. Scott Beck, Assn., sold same.

DEATHS

The entire community was shocked to learn of the death of J. H. Warren who departed this life October 14th, 1925, at his home in Still Pond. He was born in Caroline county in 1859, coming to this county in 1880, living in this community until his death. He leaves his widow and one son and a host of friends to mourn his loss. He was an ever faithful, honest and true friend, always to lend a helping hand. Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon at one o'clock, at the M. E. Church, Still Pond, Rev. E. M. Shockley officiating; interment Still Pond Cemetery. The bearers were Stanley Matthews, Eugene Bonwill, Wm. H. Bonwill, A. J. Hackett, Chas. Hague, Howard Turner, B. R. Fellows, undertaker.

Mrs. Julia A. Pierce, wife of James Wesley Pierce, died at her home, East Neck Island, Saturday, October 10th, of heart trouble, aged 73 years. Besides her husband she leaves the following children: John Wesley, James Alfred, Clarence, Charlie, George, Morris Pierce, two daughters Mrs. Susie V. Downey, and Mamie Goodman, also a sister, Mrs. Della Stevenson and one brother, John Richard Goodman, also eleven grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m. at Wesley Chapel Church. Interment in adjoining cemetery. Rev. Mr. Dawson, officiating. The pall bearers were Clarence Pierce, Millard Goodman, Clarence Goodman, Nelson Culley, Frank Wood, John J. Stevenson, C. L. Dodd, undertaker in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Mrs. Mary A. Matteson, of Brockton, Mass., formerly of Chestertown, died last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul, in Millville, N. J. Mrs. Matteson, who will be remembered with kindly feeling by many of the older residents of this community as Miss Mollie Willis, had been spending the summer visiting old friends and acquaintances in Maryland. She was for several weeks the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Maul in Chestertown, and accompanied them on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maul in Millville, where she was taken ill with intestinal influenza. She received the attention of skilled specialists and trained nurse, and the ministrations of loving friends, all without avail. Her body was taken to her former home in Brockton, Mass., for interment. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank Willis, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, and two step daughters to whom she was devoted and who in turn gave her all the love and affection of natural children.

Anna Catherine Dickerson, wife of Benj. F. Dickerson, died last Wednesday at her home in Broad Neck. She leaves besides a husband, her father and mother, J. W. Krill, also three children, Bertha Craig, Leona C. Craig and Charles R. Dickerson. She was 36 years of age. She also leaves three sisters and one brother. The funeral will be held from her home on Sunday at 2 p. m. with interment at Chester Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Dawson will officiate; C. L. Dodd, undertaker. The bearers will be George William and John Dickerson, Alfred Chaires, Medford Jones and C. M. Vickers.

SNOW FELL HERE SATURDAY

The storm of Friday night and Saturday was accompanied by quite a high wind and Saturday noon a snow flurry surprised everyone. The low tide prevented the big ferry at Tolchester from making a satisfactory landing Saturday afternoon and some amusing incidents are related. Some of the lady passengers in their eagerness to get on wharf climbed on the piling while others used a narrow plank. No autos could be gotten ashore until Sunday morning. Capt. Cobb and his crew proved their sterling qualities during the storm. The Rock Hall ferry made its regular trips with but one exception.

TRESPASS NOTICE

All persons are warned against trespassing with dog, gun or otherwise upon the lands and marshes of R. NELSON STEVENS. o10-3t

CAUTION

All persons are warned against trespassing with dog, gun or otherwise upon the lands or shores of the undersigned as the law will certainly be enforced. JAS. M. WOOD, Piney Neck. o103t

TRESPASS NOTICE

All persons are warned against trespassing with dog, gun or otherwise upon the lands, shores and marshes of Kennard's Point Farm, managed by Mr. Roger B. Harris and owned by the undersigned. HENRY W.