SALISBURY NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES

Kent county's students write an interesting letter to the News readers:

November 10th and 11th were eventful days at the Maryland State Normal School at Salisbury. On November 10th we had with us the nine superintendents of the Eastern Shore and we were fortunate indeed to have messages from each of these men in our assembly period. These messages were very fine and well given, but we, as Kent countians and students of Salisbury Normal School were especially pleased and very proud of our own superintendent, Professor L. C. Robinson when he addressed us in a few words of welcome and best wishes. We are proud indeed that our county has such a splendid man at the head of its school system and we feel that the citizens of Kent county should appreciate the fact that they have a school superintendent of such sterling qualities. Signed,

On November 11th the Chesapeake Royal Arch of Masons presented the school with a magnificent flag, flag pole, cement base and bronze tablet in honor of the men of their order who served in the World War. The exercises were very fitting for this great occasion and it makes a "red letter day" in the history of our own Eastern Shore Normal School.

We are happy to have our superintendent, Mrs. Robinson and Miss C. H. Bryan with us and we wish more of you good folks could have witnessed the ceremony. Signed,

ANNA E. JONES,
CATHERINE WATSON,
JESSIE E. WILKINS.

I SLEEP GOOD NOW

Says New York Man. A Healthful Bladder Does Not Act At Night.

Mr. J. A. Davis, East Setauket, N. Y., says, "Lithiated Buchu has corrected my bladder and I. do not have to get up at night. You may use my name and I will be gland to tell or write my experience." Lithiated Buchu cleanses the bladder as epsom salts do the bowls. It isn't a patent medicine as the formula is on the label. The tablets cost 2 cents each at leading drug stores. REV. S. S. HEPBURN RESIGNS RECTORSHIP

Will Retire On January 1 As Head Of I. U. Parish In Kent County—46 Years In Ministry — Oldest Active P. E. Clergyman On Shore, Who Is 80, Will Live On Farm.

Rev. Sewell S. Hepbron, one of the oldest active Protestant Episcopal clergymen on the Eastern Shore, has tendered his resignation to the vestry of I. U. parish and will retire from active work on January 1. Rev. Mr. Hepburn was ordained in 1869. Since 1911 he has been rector of I. U. parish, during which time he has accomplished an important work in the rebuilding of the membership of one of the oldest congregations in the Easton Diocese.

During his long and successful ministry, Mr. Hepburn has served a number of prominent parishes in Maryland and Virginia. He was rector of old St. Paul's parish, this county, from 1874 to 1881, after which he was called to Virginia, where he remained until 1906, when he became rector of St. Luke's parish, Church Hill. In 1911 he was chosen rector of I. U. parish, this county, where he has since remained.

Walled Historic Cemetery.

The Rev. Mr. Hepburn was the originator of the idea of memorizing the ancient history of I. U. Church by the erection of a handsome $300 concrete wall around the historic cemetery of the church, where lie buried some of the most prominent residents of Kent county in Colonial days, and through his efforts the ancient cemetery and church grounds have been greatly improved.

The Rev. Mr. Hepburn has held a number of important positions in the Diocese of Easton. He served as dean of the diocese for several years, has attended all the diocesan conventions and has represented the diocese on several occasions as delegate to national church conventions, the last of which he attended in Portland, Oregon.

Has Agricultural Interests.

Aside from his ministerial activities Mr. Hepburn has for years been one of the leading agriculturists of the county, and is regarded as an authority on agricultural subjects. He is an active member of the Kent County Grange, and for a number of years was a prominent breeder of Pol-Angus cattle on his country estate near Still Pond.

He will retire to private life January 1 after an active ministry of forty-six years. He recently observed the eightieth anniversary of his birth, and not only enjoys good health, but devotes the major part of his time to his large farming interests.

Bohanan, who for five years has been dean of the Trinity Cathedral, Easton, and also executive secretary of the Diocese of Easton for three years, has resigned these positions to take effect January 1st. He will go to Washington, where he will be associated with the National Cathedral work under Dr. Freeman, and for the next year will organize National Cathedral League Chapters throughout the country. He will be a canon at the cathedral. Besides being dean of the cathedral and executive secretary of the diocese he was also the first editor of the Eastern Shore Churchman, the official organ of the Episcopal Church in the Diocese.

RED STAR OIL STOVE

Think of getting vigorous "Lively Heat" from an oil stove! Yes, the same intense cooking heat given by a bed of red-hot coals or a modern gas or electric burner.

That is the kind of "Lively Heat" you get from a Red Star Oil Stove—produced from common kerosene or gasoline; without wicks. Converts these fuels into a gaseous vapor which, when burned, gives the active, keen heat required for perfect cooking and baking.

As beautiful, sturdy, sanitary and easy to clean as the best gas or electric stove. Yet it costs no more than any good oil stove.

A type and size for every home

The Red Star brings freedom from the inconveniences of a coal or wood stove. It starts cooking the instant burner is lighted. It means a cool kitchen in summer. The oven burner provides delightful warmth for cool days. Your furnace insures a comfortable kitchen in winter. Convenient terms of payment gladly arranged.
