

Budget of Breezy Local Happenings Here and There

Chestertown and vicinity is fortunate in having a store like that of Owen C. Smith's. He has a choice of gifts in the electrical line including one of the largest lines of floor lamps ever seen here. He has also china and glassware. Two floors are filled with an exhibition that is worth a visit.

The sales of furniture by W. H. Waddell on the Square in town and by W. A. Bramble at Rock Hall were largely attended and big prices obtained. Wm. Bramble says he sold a stove for $11 that cost him $6 and he never saw people so anxious for what he had to sell. He will be greatly missed by three bidders — W. Robinson, Wm. Lee and J. Miers—all of whom had lost furniture in recent fires.

Pinned by an 1800 pound wheel from a loader used by the County roads engineering department, James Perry, sixty-five, sustained a crushed foot Friday while directing a gang of workmen near Edesville. The sale of antique furniture at W. L. Woodburn's, near Galena, on Saturday was largely attended and fine prices realized.

Two stacks of hay on the farm tenanted by Albert Chaires, of near Rock Hall, were destroyed by fire Tuesday night. The origin is a mystery.

Dumschott, the expert Washington College basket ball player, received word this week of the death of his father at Waterbury, Conn. He left for home at once and will likely be back until after Xmas if then. He will be greatly missed by the football team for 1926.

Dumschott has also been elected captain of the football team for 1926.

Charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating beverage, Chas. D. Walls of Crumpton, was fined one hundred dollars and cost, Monday, by Magistrate Robert W. Coursey, Jr. R. Edwards, who was with Walls, was also fined for disorderly conduct.

The trial of the two men was the outcome of a collision on Commerce street, Centreville, when the car being driven by Walls crashed into the auto of Samuel A. Adler, of 521 S. Charles street, Baltimore, causing a heavy shock to both cars. Mrs. Adler, who was in the car with her husband, was slightly injured.

An elaborate and palatial cow-barn is to be constructed at Pioneer Point Farm, owned by Mrs. John J. Raskob, near Centreville. The new home of the Rascob dairy herd will cost approximately $50,000, and will be the finest of its kind in rural Maryland. Mrs. Raskob purchased Pioneer Point Farm last spring. All of the old buildings will be razed, and new and attractive structures will replace them. The farm embraces nearly 650 acres.

Local buyers were offering yesterday 61 cents for cob corn and 76 for shelled. Wheat, $1.64.

The gross receipts of supper given at Firemen's Hall by The Town Relief Society amounted to $150.

Beginning Monday, December 7th Kreeger's Jewelry Store, Cross St. will remain open every evening until after the holidays.

Formal announcement was made Wednesday by the Public Service Commission of Maryland that all applications for permits to operate motor freight lines into Centreville in competition with the Baltimore and Eastern Railroad Company, had been denied.

DeGrief, Haley & DeGrief, for motor freight line from Baltimore across the bay to Tolchester, and thence to Centreville, without the sanction of the Commission. In denying the permit to DeGrief, Haley & DeGrief, the application of Hoggans' Express also was dismissed.

In recognition of his faithful service, Harry C. Onley, manager of "Headlong Hall Farm," near Centreville, will receive $5,000 through the will of the late Arthur P. Clapp, of New York City. Other bequests were $10,000 to Otto Ritz, chauffeur for the deceased, and $10,000 to his friend Frank B. Walker, of New York, who is also named one of the executors.

To avoid a dog, Deputy Game Warden John Anderson, of Cecilton, ran into a side ditch and upset his car, which was badly damaged, but he escaped injury.

It is reported that M. W. Edwards has sold his "Taylor's Ranch" property of 420 acres situated on Chester river to Henry Theodore Weisheit, of Baltimore, for $50,000. Mr. Weisheit proposes as soon as the final transfer is made to develop the tract in ducking shores and sites for summer homes.

The League of Nations' first Peace victory was that of Tuesday when nearly all the great nations, including Germany, signed the Locarno Treaty. Our country, sad to say, is not a party to the affair.

It is reported that the Health Department of Philadelphia is proposing an ordinance forbidding the sale of milk there from any cattle which have not been tested for tuberculosis. This would mean a grave problem for Kent and all other counties. The matter is being brought to the attention of Maryland officials so that the testing of cattle may be continued.

The Community Club of Fairlee met at the School House, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Romie Skirven, president, had charge of meeting. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. William Kendall, president; Mrs. Howard Reese, vice president; Mrs. Mabel Skirven, secretary and treasurer.

John A. Russell and wife, of Chester, Pa., formerly of Chestertown, were injured in an automobile accident last Saturday. While motoring on the Baltimore pike, near Lima, Pa., a tire blew out on Mr. Russell's car, and the continuous blowing of another car behind, caused him to turn out suddenly and lose control of his machine, which ran over an embankment and upset. Other occupants of the car, Mrs. Martha Hoffecker, Mrs. Russell's mother, Miss Amanda Engrem and Henry Chaires escaped injury.

The storeroom of Wm. S. McDonnell on High street was burglarized Sunday night. The thief entered by crashing a rear window.

In 1914 there were 63 high schools in the State of Maryland and 720 graduates. Last year (1924) there were 156 high schools with 2248 graduates. This is a record that every Marylander should be proud of. Maryland is forging ahead in public education, as well as public health. Are we as solicitous of progress in public morals?

WEDDING EVENTS

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Roland Homer Crewe of this county, to Miss Margaretta Read, of Huntingdon, Pa. Due to the very recent death of the bride's uncle, the wedding was witnessed only by the immediate family, and was solemnized at her home November 28th. After a wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Crewe left for New Orleans and other southern points. They will be at home in Huntingdon, February 1st. The groom is a son of Mrs. Sara C. Crewe, of Bayside, Betterton, and is a graduate of Washington and Swarthmore Colleges and a post graduate of the University of Paris, France. The bride who is a daughter of H. Wilcox Read of Huntingdon, and well known in society circles there, has several times been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Roseberry, in Kent county. Mr. Crewe is an assistant supervisor of the Pennsylvania Railroad with headquarters at Huntingdon, Pa.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at noon on Saturday, November 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira G. Leazer, of Chestertown, when their daughter, Iris Allen, became the bride of J. Rodney West, of Wilmington. The ceremony was performed by Rev. N. O. Gibson, of Christ M. P. Church.

The bride was becomingly attired in brown brocade georgette crepe and carried a shower bouquet of yellow roses, snap dragons and ferns.

They were attended by Miss Jenny Seney, maid of honor, and Robert Moore as best man.

The home was tastefully decorated with ferns and a beautiful arch, under which they were married. Mr. West is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. West, 102 East Twenty-third St., Wilmington, and is connected with the Pennsylvania Railroad Shops.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served. The couple left for an extended trip to Niagara Falls, Pittsburgh and Washington. They will be at home after December 15th at 103 East Twenty-fifth street, Wilmington.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Tuesday evening, November 24th, at the Wesley Chapel parsonage when Miss Anna R. Dowling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dowling, became the bride of Anton Heinfield, Rev. C. L. Dawson officiating. The attending couple were Miss Bessie Dowling, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and John Boulter, Jr., as best man. The bride was charming in pencil blue silk tulle and the maid of honor wore navy blue crepe. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Heinfield, with whom the young couple are residing at their home in Skinner's Neck. A large reception was held Saturday evening.

DEATHS

Capt. J. E. Nickerson died suddenly on the power boat Chester while at Crumpton Thursday night. The Captain ate a hearty supper and retired in fine spirits. Engineer Donald Ross went to awaken him yesterday morning and found him lifeless. The deceased was 54 years of age and had been employed by C. W. Kibler & Sons in freighting business since 1915. He was a brave and industrious seaman popular and courteous. He leaves a widow, a daughter, Mrs. Katherine Boff, of Florida, a son, two brothers and a sister living in Sudersville. Arrangements for the funeral will be made upon the arrival of Mrs. Nickerson from Baltimore. The Captain and family removed to the city from Chestertown about a month ago.

Thomas L. Hines, a former citizen of Chestertown, and employed in the office of the State Tax Commission, Baltimore, died Tuesday in Union Hospital after a long illness, aged 70. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Hester Wickes, and one son, also a brother, Isaac, and three sisters, Mrs. R. F. Gundry, Mrs. W. S. Walker and Mrs. Horace Beck. The funeral was held yesterday from his home 3301 Elgin avenue, Rev. Geo. W. Hadaway, of Starr Church, officiating. Interment was in Druid Ridge Cemetery.

Glenn B. Pennington, son of the late Robert O. Pennington and Elizabeth Pennington Walmesley, departed this life after an illness of four weeks from complications on November 26th, at the Woman's College Hospital, Philadelphia, age 46 years. He was a member of the 9th District Police Force in that city for 12 years. His remains were taken to his late residence 2258 N. Bonvier street, and then removed to the home of his mother at Fredericktown, Md., where the funeral services were held on Saturday at 2 p. m. The service was in charge of Rev. Robert W. Lewis, rector of Shrewsbury Parish, assisted by Rev. M. E. Hungerford, brother-in-law of the deceased. Two hymns "Rock of Ages" and "Thy Will Be Done" were beautifully rendered by Capt. Walter Hadley and Mrs. Chester Davis, of Galena. The pall bearers were John Price, Thos. Bramble, B. Frank Cohee, Captain Walter Hadley, A. J. Schofield and Wm. H. Hall. Floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. He is survived by his widow, Lula, and one daughter, Margaret M., also his mother and three brothers, Paul M. Pennington, of Fredericktown; Robert O., of Washington, D. C., and Wm. H., of Baltimore; also two sisters, Mrs. M. E. Hungerford, of Hebron; and Mrs. N. C. Scotten, Jr., of Georgetown. Interment was made in the family lot.
