MISSING NEGRO PREACHER REPORTED LOCATED

It has been reported this week that the Rev. J. H. Fitchett, who disappeared recently from his church and family, has been located at Berkley, a small town on the outskirts of Norfolk.

It is said this was hinted by his brother, who has made a trip here, and who claims that the pastor is still in the land of the living. These reports have not been verified, so the Democrat can not vouch for their accuracy.—Pocomoke Democrat.

COLLEGE DEBATING TEAMS

Washington College entertain the negative debating team from Western Maryland College Wednesday, in William Smith Hall. The question debated was "Resolved, That the U. S. should enter the League of Nations."

At the same time Washington sent its negative team to Westminster where they argued the same question.

The judges for the local contest were Prof. Mark Creasy, W. Irving Walker and Miss Helen J. Woodley.

The Washington debators were W. Vernon Kirby, Michael F. Kelley and Baker O. Shelton, affirmative, J. Calvin Copper, Philip Nuttle and Stanley Long, negative.

The affirmative team was coached by Dr. Randolph Faries while the negative was tutored by Dr. F. G. Livingood.

The result at Chestertown was in favor of the home team and at Westminster in favor of Western Maryland.

At Western Maryland, the Washington College team was composed of Messrs. Nuttle, Long, Copper while the host debaters were Paul Lemberton, Ballard Ward and Addison Stewart.

The judges were Michael E. Walsh and Earl Shipley, of the Westminster bar, and Professor Flore, of Blue Ridge College.

George W. Carter, Jr., Injured By Auto

George W. Carter, Jr., former sheriff of Kent county and now tenant on the Parks-Smith farm, near Chester bridge, was injured Monday morning while cranking his automobile. The crank flew off striking him in the face, knocking out two teeth and cutting his lip so as to require several stitches. A colored man standing near prevented Mr. Carter from falling.

Harry C. Willis' Has Narrow Escape

Harry C. Willis, a well-known farmer of near Fairlee, met with a narrow escape from a serious accident Monday afternoon. He started to Fairlee riding his favorite family horse, and while on the State road near the village, Koester's bread wagon came at a fast pace striking his horse on the leg, breaking it, and causing Mr. Willis to fall in the road. The driver of the truck lost control of the wheel and crashed into a telephone pole breaking it off and injuring the top of the auto. Mr. Spencer, of Easton, was driving the truck and escaped with some bruises.

Mr. Willis was not hurt and procured the services of Jos. Watson who put an end to the horse's suffering.

JAMES W. CHAPMAN DIES IN 87TH YEAR

James W. Chapman passed away early Saturday morning at the home of his son, William Walter Chapman, on Washington avenue, in his 87th year. The deceased had been in declining health for some years. Last Fall he was carried to Easton Hospital for treatment and later brought to the home of his son where every comfort and attention was given him. For many years he resided at the Voshell House where he made acquaintances far and wide.

He was a son of the late Thomas N. and Mary Chapman and was born near Thomas' Chapel, near Dover, Del. When a young man he moved to Smyrna, and after making his home there for several years, he came to Chestertown and with the late James W. Lambert worked for the late David A. Benjamin. After 5 years apprentiship there the two purchased the business. This was in 1864. It was in March of this year, he also married. He and Mr. Lambert built homes on Mill street side by side and reared families of high reputation.

For nearly fifty years this firm continued in unbroken operation, earning and maintaining throughout this long period the confidence, respect and patronage of practically two generations.

In 1906 he and his partner retired, selling their plant to Davis & Satterfield.

The deceased was for many years a director of the Chestertown Bank of Maryland, and was vice-president of that institution until January of this year.

He was a member of the board of stewards of Christ M. P. Church, and was a member of the building committee of this church, which erected the present edifice in 1886. Two sons William Walter Chapman, of Chestertown, for many years prominent as a bank official here and later in Chicago, and James W. Chapman, Jr., one of the leading attorneys of Baltimore.

He was an uncle of Colonel James C. Wickes, owner and editor of the Delaware State News, of Dover, Del. He was the oldest Odd Fellow in Kent county, Md., and was also a member of Reed's Rifles, a unit of the old Maryland National Guard.

Mr. Chapman was rated as one of the wealthiest residents of Kent county, his estate consisting of approximately 1400 acres of fine farm lands, besides about $100,000 in government bonds and bank stocks. During the war, he exhibited his loyalty to government in the purchase of Liberty bonds to a very large amount.

The funeral was held on Monday from Christ M. P. Church, the sermon and service being conducted by the Rev. N. O. Gibson, pastor. The pall bearers were Wm. A. Wheatley, Fred. G. Usilton, Allan A. Harris, Charles S. Smith, Lewis S. Price and Edwin S. Valliant. The interment was in Chester Cemetery, Charles L. Dodd, undertaker.
