Kent News

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1926

Emerson R. Crothers, of Elkton, who was private secretary to his uncle, the late Governor Austin L. Crothers, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Clerk of the Court for Cecil county.

The articles running in the Kent News under the head of County Government of Maryland are prepared by the League of Women Voters.

Thomas Bryan, near Chestertown, butchered a hog this week that dressed over eight hundred pounds. It took eight men to handle the big fellow.

Wm. F. Metten was unanimously re-elected president of the Chamber of Commerce, Wilmington, for the ensuing year, at the re-organization meeting of the new board of directors.

John R. Lambson, manager of Kennard-Pyle Company, was named to succeed Mr. Bush as second vice president and Charles C. Kurtz, real estate dealer, was re-elected treasurer for the fourth term. Gerrish Gassaway, business manager, was reappointed for a third term and Wm. T. Budd was reappointed secretary for his eighth consecutive term.

AN HONEST, INDUSTRIOUS MAN

In another column of the News today is recorded the death of James W. Chapman, one of Kent county's oldest and well-to-do citizens. His career is one of great interest proving the truth of the old statement that frugality and industry have their material reward. He came to Kent when a boy working in a shop awhile for $5 per month and his board. In 5 years he bought the business and for half a century has been one of the outstanding successful figures in the business life of Chestertown. He was honest in all his dealings and took an especial pride in the reputation of his output. He was industrious and had but few idle moments. He was frugal, putting his savings in land and by wise management allowing his profits to accumulate until at his death his wealth was measured in six figures. He was a great reader and loved to study noted characters in history. He loved companionship and enjoyed conferring with tenants, farmers and others. He had in his opinions and was positive in his opinions when once studied out.

During his long life he took pride in his church and put his faith in the Redeemer closing his life as given by Willaim Cullen Bryant:

"So live that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan that moves
To the pale realms of shade, where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not, like the quarry slave at night,
Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

THE CHESAPEAKE BAY BRIDGE

Baltimore, Feb. 12, 1926.

The Kent News, Chestertown:

I noticed with some pleasure that you had quite a write up on the proposed bridge over the bay. This has always been my view that there was and is an urgent need of one, and that it would be of vital interest to both Kent county, and the whole Eastern Shore, as well as to the Western Shore, and I wish you would start up some of this often to awaken interest that lags on this public improvement and the writer is only too willing to give you any data and aid that may be helpful.

Specially did the want of this improvement show its need this winter as with Rock Hall ferry, one burned, and the other out of commission, together with ice conditions that every year occur to stop the Tolchester boats, the connection with Baltimore was entirely cut off. This practically left business at a stand still between the Eastern and Western Shores of the State because of long round about way of connection, and consequently it was deflected into other States.

I moved my family to Kent about six years ago, and will frankly state that I think it is one of the finest places anyone could live, for the climate conditions and people are par excellent.

Very truly yours,
W. O. EDMONSTON.

THE PRICE OF ROCK FISH

Rock Hall, Md., Feb. 16, 1926.

Messrs. Editors Kent News:

In your issue of February 13th, 1926, appeared an article setting forth that the Rock Hall fishermen made the largest catch of Rock of the year on Monday, February 8th, 1926, amount being five tons or ten thousand pounds, that the price obtained for this lot of fish was twenty-five cents per pound. But that the market in Baltimore was so glutted from this large catch that it broke to seven cents per pound the next day. The statement relative to the amount of fish taken is correct, but we wish to have corrected the statement that the market was at all glutted and the price so ridicuously broken for any fish since caught, the fact is that the lowest average price per pound for the entire season was twenty-two cents and since this catch mentioned, the price has remained twenty-five cents.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my little daughter, Myrtle H. Needles, who departed this life to be with her beloved Savior, one year ago, February 21st, 1925.

"Daddie is just one mile stone nearer you Myrtle."

1t* Leonard C. Needles.

In sad but loving remembrance of my granddaughter who departed this life one year ago, Feb. 21, 1923.

In the grave yard softly sleeping
Where the flowers gently waive,
Lies the one I love so dearly
In her lone and silent grave.
Grandmother.

Through the pearly gates of heaven,
Passed the one I loved so dear,
God thought it best to take her from me,
Though it left a vacant chair.
Uncle W. H. Waddell.

In sad and loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Amanda C. Fogwell, who died eight years ago, Feb. 24th, 1918.

She has gone to the home of her Saviour,
Who loved her and bore her away,
From earth's sorrows and suffering and heartaches
To that realm of endless day.
Shall we grieve that her voyage is ended
And her storm-tossed soul at rest?
She has entered the haven of refuge,
That eternal home of the blest.
And left sweet memories to blossom,
Bearing fruit for the years to come
In the lives of those who loved her.
Precious memories of the days that are gone.

Loving daughter, Emma A. Ford.

COUNTY-WIDE MEETINGS FOR CLUB WOMEN

Plans have been made with the Kent County Women's Clubs to hold meetings as set forth in the following schedule.

These meetings are open to all club members and all Kent County women who desire to attend:

February 26, 9.30 a. m., Millinery Meeting in High School.

March 2, 9.30 a. m., Foods Demonstration, Miss Jessie Campbell in charge.

March 15, 9.30 a. m., Demonstration in Hooked Rugs, Block Printing and Lamp Shades, meeting in High School.

March 24, 9.30 a. m., Gardening including Vegetables, Shrubbery, etc., Mr. W. R. Ballard in charge, meets at Court House.

April 1, 10 a. m., Demonstration, Care of Floors, Woodwork, Furniture, etc., meets at High School.

Mrs. Richard Groves has been sick with grip at her home on Cannon street. Mr. Groves is able to be out after being housed for a week.

J. W. Kendall, of near Fairlee, is having fine luck with his lambs. He has only lost one lamb and not any ewes.

MILK PRODUCERS TO GET MORE MILK

At extra half-inch of milk in every cow's milk pail at each milking would add $2,591,860 to the profits of Maryland dairymen during the next twelve months, according to the Larrowe Institute of Animal Economics. Better feeding and care of the animals is urged by the Institute as the means of bringing this additionel sum of money into the State this year and every year.

"The average cow in this State gives around three inches of milk at a milking," states the Institute. "At the prevailing market price of milk the extra half-inch in the pail would mean about fifteen extra dollars in the pocket of her owner. On the basis of the 172,791 cows of milking age on Maryland farms, this should mean $2,591,860 that may be available to dairymen and to the farm family."

As an instance of what better care and feeding will do for a dairy herd: the Institute cites the cown testing association records of fifteen cows on the Valley Farm of Smith & Preston at Conotton, O. Ten dollars a day above their board is what this group paid the owners each day for a year for the privilege of remaining on the farm or at the rate of $279.84 per cow per year. The herd ate from 2338 pounds to 3739 pounds per cow of a prepared, balanced ration and produced 1447 cans of milk of a total value of $5,528.39. This was $3,-941.71 above the feed cost.

An outstanding example of what good feed and treatment will do for a cow is Sabina one of the herd. In one year's time she produced 11,-599.9 pounds of milk. The total value of her production was $509.04, or $426.87 over the costs of her feed during the twelve months.
