$10,000 FIRE AT "RIVERSIDE" FARM ON THE CHESTER RIVER

The outbuildings on "Riverside" farm owned by W. P. Crenshaw, of Baltimore, and tenanted by J. Cordray Loud, of Chestertown, came near being wiped out by fire at 10.30 o'clock Monday night. Before the flames had been extinguished the granary, wagon shed, all implements, 6 tons of hay and 500 bushels of corn, fertilizer and spring seed which had just been purchased, were completely destroyed, causing a loss of about $10,000 on $6,500 insurance.

The live stock was saved. The fine old Colonial mansion on the farm, which building is one of the show places of Kent county, was saved from destruction by the good work of the Chestertown Fire Company. Richard Hodges, colored, one of the caretakers on the farm, was seriously burned, while trying to save his automobile from the flames. He is in the Easton Hospital having been taken there by Edward Wilkins the night of the fire.

The blaze originated from an automobile which Robert Hodges had been driving and which he had just put away in the wagon shed. It was while trying to save his auto that Hodges burned his hands and limbs. Robert Gilbert, another caretaker, had retired for the night, but was awakened by the light and noise outside. The Chestertown firemen responded to a call for help. They laid a line of hose to Chester river and saved the residence and the stables.

This farm was the homestead of the late Colonel Edward Wilkins. It was purchased some years ago by E. Cordray Loud, of Baltimore, and since sold to Mr. Crenshaw.

The horses were gotten out of the stable by Robert Gilbert and cows turned out of pound. Fortunately the wind helped in saving the stable and house.

Edward Wilkins lost his bateau and lot of decoys which were in the barn. He had $175 insurance on them.

2 DWELLINGS AND STORE AT ROCK HALL BURNED

Fire Sunday morning destroyed two dwellings, a store and burned part of the roof of Thomas Maslin's dwelling in Rock Hall before it was gotten under control by the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company.

The blaze originated in the store attached to the dwelling belonging to B. F. Sewell and is a mystery as all fires had been carefully attended to before Mr. Sewell closed his store.

The flames spread to the home of Thomas Elburn, owned by Romie Fogwell, and to a third dwelling which was saved by hard work.

The damage to the Sewell dwelling and store property is $2,000. On the Elburn and Fogwell property, $1,500. Damage to the third dwelling is slight. There was only $400 of insurance on these properties.

Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company did good work with chemicals in saving.

SALE OF PROPERTY

H. Theodore Jewell, agent, has sold to Robert Albert. of Baltimore, the Jarrell farm on Chester river known as "Travilla," and contains 320 acres.

The Betterton Real Estate Company sold their third farm this season on Monday. It was Raymond Harper's "Robinson" farm located on Chesapeake Bay. The purchaser was Joseph S. Wilson, of the Wilson Steamboat Company, of Wilmington. who expects to build a bungalow there and make other improvements. The farm contains 150 acres of tillable land and 66 acres, woods and shore. The price was $8,500.

The Betterton Realty Company is a live organization and have other deals pending.

Fracas at Crumpton

One man was seriously injured and several others slightly bruised in a free for all fight that was the outcome of a party held in Crumpton last Saturday night. The fight, it is alleged, was started by an argument over "moonshine whiskey," at the Crumpton House.

The Crumpton House held a public supper which was well attended. Among the guests of the hotel were a party of young men from Wilmington, Del. These men, it is said, after engaging rooms, proceeded to get lit-up. A party of Crumpton youths, according to allegations, decided that they would join the festivities. Accordingly one of the group entered the rooms of the Wilmington men and secured a quanity of "firewater," with which they proceeded to get tanked.

The only person to receive serious injury was Lloyd Gale, who according to all reports was an innocent bystander. Friends of Mr. Gale state that he never drinks. However, he happened to be near the place where the fracas started and several men spying him knocked him down and beat him in a manner. He sustained a broken jaw-bone and several bad bruises on the body. He is now in Easton Hospital.

A warrant was sworn out for a man by the name of Hudson, who was fined twenty-five dollars in a hearing before Dr. Stack. No evidence could be obtained sufficient to lodge any of the men in jail.

The Washington College 1925-26 basketball squad met in the Varsity Club room of the gymnasium last night and by a unanimous vote elected Conover Crouse manager for next year basketball team. Crouse is a native of the Sho', being a resident of Denton, Md.

While practicing baseball on the college diamond last Saturday E. P. Monfort, of Wilmette, Ill., a freshman at the college, was accidentally hit in the face with a bat. Several teeth were knocked out and broken off and five stitches had to be taken in mouth. He left for Wilmette on Monday, but expects to return and finish his school term as soon as his injuries permit him.

A FINE OPPORTUNITY

I have the Deep Point Farm in Quaker Neck, on Chester River, two miles water front, containing 308 acres for sale or rent. Over 10 acres apple orchard, oak timber, etc. I will rent a part of this farm or sell it off in tracts to suit inquirer. For instance I could rent or sell the bungalow beautifully located on the water and with 60 acres attached. Then there is the farm house with stable, barn, etc., which I will sell or rent. Inquire of Benj. L. Bonnett, the merchant on High street, or by appointment of Simon Rief, 2101 Linden ave., Baltimore, Md. Easy financing. mm27-3t*

Ku Kluxers Visit Kent County Wednesday

Meet At Still Pond, Organize And Go To Perkins' Hill To Break Up A "Still" Kept By Whittington.

Chestertown was excited Thursday when a report spread over the town that the Ku Klux gang had thrown a man overboard from Chester gridge, rescued him and delivered him over to Sheriff Goodman. Upon investigation it was learned that a crowd of college boys out for a "lark" had carried some Freshmen to Queen Anne's for a "paddling" then on the way to town threw a large stone off the bridge and pulled it up again.

The Ku Klux incident follows. For sometime it has been known that a "still" was being operated at Perkins' Hill, near Urieville, and the Sheriff found recently where one was located but the owner was able to evade arrest. The citizens of that community became interested. A Ku Klux Klan of 25 was organized at Still Pond, and with a Cecil countian at the head, made a raid on the still Wednesday night after notifying the Sheriff.

One of the most perfectly constructed and best-concealed stills ever found in this State was uncovered in a subterranean room at this place.

As the result of the raid, James H. Whittington, negro, said to be the proprietor of the roadhouse, was arrested and is held in the Chestertown jail.

He will await Federal officers who will take him to Baltimore for a hearing on the charges of making and selling liquor illegally.

Another negro who attempted to aid Whittington in resisting the officers also was held.

The masked band which surrounded the roadhouse, on the main highway from here to Elkton, found several rooms evidently fitted up for the entertainment of guests and in another, beneath the cellar, they found a 25-gallon still and a smaller apparatus.

Pipes from the still led fifty feet underground to a remote spot in a hollow which could not be seen from the highway.

When members of the masked raiders called Sheriff William Goodman and a Deputy Robert Lee, the negroes confronted the officers with drawn pistols but were quickly subdued by members of the masked group.

Four fifty-gallon barrels of mash found in the subterranean room were destroyed. One of the stills and a quantity of alcohol found in the room were brought to the jail here to be used as evidence.

4-H CALF CLUB HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

The Third Annual Banquet of the Kent County 4-H Calf Club was held last night at 7.30 at the Chestertown High School Auditorium. The toastmaster was Stanley B. Sutton, a young, progressive Kent county farmer boy, who has done some wonderful work in a number of farming activities. He acquitted himself with credit as toastmaster. The following program was carried out:

Showing My Calf At State Fair, Albert Nicholson.

The 1925 Kent Judging Team, Walter T. Morris.

Club Travels During 1925, Stanley B. Sutton.

The Grange and Club Work, Edgar R. Pennington.

Farm Bureau and Club Work, Wm. G. Smyth.

Future Calf Club Work in Kent. Horace B. Derrick.

Song.

State Banker's Association and Club Work. Senator W. B. Copper.

What Club Work Means to a County, Dr. F. B. Bomberger.

4-H Club Spirit, E. G. Jenkins.

Radio Concert, A. L. Sterling.

The menu was served by the ladies of St. James Christian Endeavor Society as follows: Fruit Cocktail, Celery, Biscuit, Turkey, Hominy, Dressing, Gravy, Cold Slow. Peas, Pickles, Jelly, Rolls, Chicken Salad, Ice Cream, Cake, Mints, Coffee, and Cocoa.

The officers of the Club are: President, Stanley B. Sutton; vice president. Franklin Moffett; secretary, Martin L. Sutton; Treasurer, Walter T. Morris.

The Club gets its name from the four words—Head, Hands, Heart, Health.

The following excellent thought was left for the Club members:

To live as gently as I can;
To be, no matter where, a man;
To take what comes of good or ill
And cling to faith and honor still;
To do my best, and let that stand
The record of my head and hand;
And then, should failure come to me
Still work and hope for victory.
