Brush Away Your Troubles

It is not that we want to do the county dentists out of any business but undoubtedly the best tooth brush on the market is the latest edition of FULLER TOOTH BRUSHES. Wise people use them and make their visits to the dentist less often, dentists will get most of their business from those who are not so wise.

FULLER BRUSHES take care of every need and we are also offering a DENTAL PLATE BRUSH for artifical teeth that is giving wonderful satisfaction.

On account of their lasting qualities you will find all FULLER BRUSHES the most economical you have ever bought.

Yours for service,

FIRE COMPANY KEPT BUSY THIS WEEK

Burning brush and rubbish on the banks of the old Mill Pond near town. caused an alarm to be sounded at 10 o'clock Saturday night. The blaze was getting dangerously near the Sinclair Oil tanks. The firemen within a short time were on the scene and pumping from the stream at Brooks' Mill soon extinguished the blaze.

About four o'clock Sunday afternoon last, an alarm was turned in from Rock Hall, summoning the local fire fighters to the home of Hydie Jones, residing on the Richard Jones farm in Swan Creek; the barn and cow shed, which were practically consumed was prevented from spreading to the other buildings, a plentiful supply of water being available from the creek near by.

At 11 o'clock Sunday night, the siren for the third time within 24 hours called the local firemen to action, the Fred Nicols property on Princess street, just below Cannon being a mass of flames and while it appeared, when the firemen got on the scene, that not only the burning building but others near by were doomed, as the fire had gotten much headway, the firemen with both engines at work and streams flooding the building, both front and rear, the fire was soon under control, being confined to the one building and it being only partially destroyed. The building was occupied by Susie Lindsey and Jerry Garrison. Jerry had to be pulled out of bed after the firemen arrived. This fire is another evidence of our boys' good work.

The dwelling on the "Catlin" farm in Rich Neck, near Union, owned by Charles B. Ford, of Chestertown, and tenanted by Millard Gibson, was totally destroyed by fire last Tuesday night. The Volunteer firemen were summoned but lack of water prevented them from saving the greater portion of the building, the roof about the chimney, from which the fire originated being a mass of flames. The State Roads men, who happened to be going past the farm, with the aid of neighbors saved all of the household effects of Mr. Gibson with the exception of a few dishes and some clothing. Mr. Ford estimates his loss at about $1200 with no insurance.

At noon Wednesday, the fifth fire alarm since Saturday last, was turned in. The barn yard and cow sheds on the Penn Norris farm, near Lynch, tenanted by Thomas Hadaway, being on fire. The firemen responded promptly and aided in checking the flames spreading to the barn and stables. Mr. Hadaway and neighbors having the fire under control when the fire truck arrived.

GUERNSEY SALE BIG SUCCESS

The most important sale of purebred cattle ever held in Queen Anne's county took place in Centreville on Tuesday when 20 Guernseys from prize herds were sold at public auction. The twenty animals sold for well over three thousand dollars and considering the stock this figure is considered very conservative by those familiar with thoroughbred values.

The heifer, affered as a prize by the Harbison Dairies was won by W. B. Yates, of Centreville. Among the purchaserers were:

Nonparieil's Audacity sold to Frank T. Price, Chestertown, price $157.50.

Homestead Proud Royal sold to J. B. Cleaver, Middletown; price $215.

Clarie De Lure, sold to Frank T. Price, Chestertown; price $160.

Couragior Grace, sold to Frank T. Price, Chestertown; price $157.50.

DEATHS!

Clarence Akers died at Maryland General Hospital Sunday morning, May 9th, 1926, after an illness of four days of lobar pnumonia, aged 44 years. The deceased was employed as a carpenter by the Bethlehem Steel Company at Sparrow's Point and was stricken Wednesday morning with a congestive chill. He leaves a wife, Pearl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Stevens, two daughtesr, Rebecca and Clarice, his father, Capt. George Akers, two brothers, Capt. Franklin and Capt. Hillry Akers and two sisters, Mrs. Andrew Stevens and Mrs. Lon Hubbard. He was a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge at Highlandtown, Baltimore, and of the Knights of Pythias and Red Men of Rock Hall, from which societies the bearers were selected. The sermon was delivered by Elder Shoup, of Baltimore, minister in the Seventh day Adventist Church.

Mary Frances Watts pasesd away at the home of her duaghter, Mrs. Charles H. Hurd, near Worton, on Saturday evening, May 8th, in her 79th year. She had resided with her daughter for many years. She was a faithful attendant of the M. E. Church, of Cecilton. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Chas Hurd and three drandchildren. Services were held on Monday afternoon at the home of her daughter. Services in charge of Rev. Mr. Randall; interment in Forest Cemetery, Middletown. The pall beavers were Samuel Nickerson, Alonza Foreman, Walter Hurd, James Gears, Charles Hurd Floyd Meekins; B. R. Fellows, undertaker.

William Rutter, a native of Queen Anne's county, but for several years a resident of Wilmington, died suddenly Thursday morning in that city of heart trouble. The deceased for a long time resided near Double Creek, where he had many friends. He is survived by several brothers and sisters as follows: Mrs. S. A. Wallen, of near Double Creek; Mrs. Fred Slack, of Baltimore; Mrs. Thomas Swann, of Queenstown, and James Rutter and Frank Rutter, of Ridgely, and Walter Rutter, of Denton. The remains were brought to the county and funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at Providence M. P. Church. Interment was in the church cemetery. Rev. Edwin Gardner, officiated.

William Moore, a well-known resident of near McGinnes, near Chestertown, died at his home Saturday following an illness of several months. The deceased is survived by his widow, and four sons: Romie Moore, and Hiram Moore, of Wilmington; Lee Moore and Raymond Moore, and one daughter, Miss Edna Moore, at home. Funeral services were held Tuesday at the M. E Church, Double Creek, and interment was in the Church Cemetery. Rev. L. P. Corkran and Rev. Otis P. Jefferson, officiated.

Rev. Mr. McClintock assisted by Revs. Mr. Barrett and A. H. Covey, officiated at the funeral of W. L. Faulkner last Friday, May 7th.

BETTERTON TO BE UP-TO-DATE RESORT

Not since the establishment of Betterton as a summer resort has there been as great activity and preparations for a successful summer season as is manifest among the residents of the resort at the present time. A new impetus has been given the town through the organization of the Betterton Realty Company at the head of which are some of the leading merchants and taxpayers in the town who have realized the possibilities of the bayside resort as a large and prosperous summer colony. Since the organization of the company last fall $53,800 worth of property has been sold, a large part of which has gotten into the possession of men of means from Philadelphia, Baltimore, Wilmington, and other cities, who already have begun extensive improvements for the development of summer homes and the erection of pretentious cottages and bungalows which are giving to the place a semblance of the larger resorts.

Nine pretty bungalows have already been erected, hotels and boarding houses are being enlarged, and parks, boulevards, and promenades, are being attractively located. The most recent transfer of property by the Realty Company was the sale last week of the Crew Hotel on Ericsson avenue owned by Wm. H. Crew and operated by George Brice, to Mrs. Florence L. McCrone, of Baltimore for $7,500.

Prior to this sale Dr. Warren H. Weaver, of Philadelphia, purchased the Clements farm near the town, which is being converted into a fine summer home, and one of the proprietors of the Wilson Line, of Wilmington, has recently purchased a very desirable property which is being developed. Everywhere at resort there is hustle and hurry of preparations for the opening of th esummer season about June 1, in anticipation of a recordbreaking season.

WEDDING NOTES

Mrs. Joseph R. Lambert announces the marriage of her daughter, Gladys A. Beauchamp, to Barclay H. Eshman, at Elkton, Md., March 5, 1926.

The wedding of Miss Rebecca Elizabeth Fox Jarrell, the charming daughter of Mrs. Clifton Lloyd Jarrell, of Chestertown and Harry LeRoy Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Owens, of Betterton, took place at the home of the bride's mother, on Wednesday evening, May 12th, at 7.30 p. m. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ivanhoe Willis, of Galena. To the starins of "Loengrin" played by Miss Lida B. Wheat, the bride entered on the arm of her uncle, Fred Howard Flounders, of Ridgely, Md. She wore white crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of lillies of the valley. Miss Ernestine Jarrell, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a dress of orange taffeta and carried sweet peas. Jos. R. Crew, of Betterton, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Owens will reside at present with the latter's mother in Chestertown.

A marriage license was issued in Elkton last week to James A. Williams, 25, Camden, N. J., and Clara W. Elias, 21, Chestertown, Md.

An interesting Ascension Day service attended by Chesapeake Commandery, No. 10, Knights Templar Chester Lodge of Masons and others was held in the M. E. Church, Centreville, Thursday evening. Rev. Edgar T. Read, of Easton, preached the sermon, his theme being the Cross. A social season was spent at the Armory later in the evening.

The Town Commissioners have cut down 18 trees the past few weeks. Who will see that more Norway maples are planted. Another job for our Ladies' Civic Club. The men have their Rotary why not a club for ladies similar in character?

Walter T. Pippin, contractor and builder, has been awarded the contract to build the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence G. Brown on Campus avenue.

Don't miss "Melody Land," Chestertown's big show next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Cast of 150. Benefit Fire Company.

The local Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Exchange has taken on the following new operators: Misses Laura Nicholson and Alice Coleman of Chestertown; Miss Elva Walls, of Kennedyville, and Miss Lucy Starkey, of Templeville, Md.
