PRAISE

If with pleasure you are viewing any work a man is doing,
If you like him or you love him, tell him now;
Don't withold your approbation till the parson makes oration,
And he lies with snowy lillies o'er his brow;
For no matter how you shout he won't really care about it;
He won't know how many teardrops you have shed;
If you think some praise is due him, now's the time to slip it to him.
For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.
More than fame and more than money is the comment kind and sunny
And the hearty, warm approval of a friend,
For it gives to life a savor and it makes you stronger braver,
And it gives you heart and spirit to the end;
If he earns your praise—bestow it;
Let the words of true encouragement be said;
Do not wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover,
For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.—Selected.

"THE STORE WITH A CONSCIENCE"

Getting Ready For Summer

Mrs. Fowler of Harry F. Jefferson's, "The store with a conscience", is on a buying trip to New York for Summer millinery and dresses. She will also select the latest in novelties so delightful to the ladies.

The shoe department at "The store with a conscience" is developing rapidly under the efficient management of Mr. Emerson. The stock of shoes and novelties is larger and better than ever before.

"All goods, except staples, must be moved within 30 or 60 days regardless of price", says Harry F. Jefferson of "The store with a conscience". "This policy will enable me to offer a wider selection of goods to my customers at lower prices. I am sure that the ladies will appreciate a policy which assures them of up-to-the-minute styles at all times."
