WRITING NAMES ON BALLOT IS BARRED

Maryland voters may not write on ballots the names of persons for whom they desire to vote, according to an opinion by Thomas H. Robinson, Attorney-General.

The opinion was written by Willis R. Jones, Assistant Attorney-General

In his answer, Mr. Jones said:

"The Attorney-General has requested me to answer your letter of May 17, in which you ask for an opinion as to whether the voters may now write on the ballot the names of persons for whom they desire to vote, since the passage of Chapter 581 of the Acts of 1924, the general purpose of which was to shorten the ballot by eliminating blank spaces thereon.

"This inquiry has been very carefully considered by the Attorney-General, and he is of the opinion that it is not now permissible for a voter to write on the ballot the name of any person for whom he may desire to vote.

"Inasmuch as Section 62 of the Code of 1924 does not authorize the writing of additional names on the ballot by a voter, the provision contained in Section 80 and reading for other than the name or names of any other candidate written by a voter on the ballot as provided by Section, becomes nugatory.

"You are entirely correct in your assumption that a voter may not use a sticker, and, in the opinion of the Attorney-General, no person is authorized to cast his vote other than for candidates printed on the ballots.

"There are ample provisions contained in the election law by which voters may secure the printing of the name of the candidate of their choice upon the ballot, so that the elimination of the blank spaces would seem to deprive the voters of none of their Constitutional rights."
