Message of Mr. Upshur

To Tomato Growers

FRANKLIN UPSHUR

Candidate for Congress from Worcester County.

During the Democratic Administration of President Wilson there existed a moderate tariff on canned tomatoes of about twenty-five cents. When the Republican Party came into power again, just after the War, they, as usual, passed a tariff bill and raised the tariff sky high on things manufactured in the North which we have to buy, but, repeating an old practice, they actually lowered the then existing tariff on canned tomatoes, which we produce and they buy, to about fifteen cents. Our present Representative was in Congress then, with practically nothing to watch out for but this one industry of his district, while the Great Republican Tariff was being framed and sat by and let this injustice be done his people without a protest because, forsooth, he was a low tariff man! Well, I am a low tariff man too, but the tariff must be low for all alike, for I also believe in that other paramount Democratic Principle of Equality for all and special privilege to none. I would not sit idly by in a situation like that in which my district was vitally interested and uphold the mere empty letter of the low tariff doctrine when the spirit of fair play was being violated by the selfish interests of the Northern manufacturers at the expense of my people who were at best having a struggle to make both ends meet. This lowered tariff have induced tremendous quantities of foreign canned tomatoes to flood our markets: the freight rate being as low from Europe to New York as from the Eastern Shore to New York. The canners took all the loss last year before they knew what was hitting them. This year they have been compelled to pass part of the loss along to the farmers by making his contract on tomatoes $2.00 less per ton than they would have allowed but for this lowered tariff. You are therefore losing $2.00 a ton on your tomatoes this year and will continue to take this loss each year to come until this gross inequality is rectified.

I invite every Democratic voter, who would like to be represented in Congress by a man of sincere purposes and by a friend of the farming interests, with the courage of his convictions, to honor me with his or her vote at the Primaries on September 14, 1926.

ANOTHER CHESAPEAKE BAY FARM SOLD TO A SYNDICATE

Victor Atwell has purchased from Norman C. Dunn, of Philadelphia, and H. Stockton Startt, of this town, the Stokes farm on the Chesapeake Bay, adjoining the property of Mrs. T. B. Willson, purchased by him last week, for about $20,000. This farm contains 200 acres. Mr. Atwell represents the same people who purchased several weeks ago, from Walter U. Lusby, of Chestertown, the Tolchester farm for $45,000, since which time the farms of Robert Francis, of Baltimore, and of Mrs. T. B. Willson, of this county, have been purchased at a combined price said to be $45,000, and this latest transaction involved another $20,000 making a total of $115,000 invested by capitalists up to the present time. The outlay of such a large sum of money means much for Kent county but what else is involved in the purchase remains to be divulged.

There are all sorts of rumors regarding the development of the properties, and it is generally believed here that the property will be converted into an exclusive bayside town with fine country club, golf course, and bathing beaches for the owners and their firends. It was stated that the reason for the purchase of the Stokes' farm was to convert the large lake on the property which has an outlet to the bay, into a harbor for the yachts and motorboats belonging to the owners of the property and their friends. Surveyors have been at work during the week laying off the grounds.

"THE LITTLE MINISTER"

Sir James M. Barrie's masterpiece played originally in this country by Maude Adams and in England by Winifred Emery and Cyril Maude. Ruth Nugent, our "Lady Babbie," played the lead last winter in the Broadway production of "The Trouper," while Alan Bunce was the star in "Laff That Off" on Broadway.

Without doubt the best dramatic production ever presented here. The two most important features of a good play are, the play itself and the cast. "The Little Minister" has both. The play needs no introduction and the cast is composed of New York professionals. One of the really big things of the week. To be in Chestertown and miss seeing this production is like visiting New York and not seeing the Woolworth Tower.
