Rock Hall Carnival Begins Today For A Week

All arrangements have been made for holding the first big carnival at the bayside town of Rock Hall beginning this Saturday and continuing a week. Here are the committees.

Carnival committee, Prof. W. A. P. Strang (chairman), Leonard Rich, G. Ellsworth Leary, John Harman, Maxwell Jacobs, Capt. Chas. R. Kerr, Joseph Davis, Frank O. Puppe, Edwin Smith and George M. Coleman; store room, Joseph B. Davis, Reuben Rodney, Leonard Rich, G. Ellsworth Leary and John Harmon; finance, G. Ellsworth Leary and Joseph B. Davis; automobile, G. Ellsworth Leary; cake, Mrs. G. E. Leary, chairman; dance, Mrs. Harry Price.

The carnival will be held on the High School grounds, which are already prepared. Carpenters have erected booths, stands, dance floor etc., following which the grounds will be decorated and illumination facilities provided.

Wednesday, August 25, will be the big night of the carnival, when the firemen's parade will be held. Fire companies from many of the leading towns on the Peninsula will compete for the following prizes:

Company coming the longest distance, company making the most attractive appearance and the one having the most men in line.

The Firemen's Band of Denton will be the principal attraction for one evening, and a fine orchestra will furnish music for the dance each evening.

The net proceeds of the carnival will be used for the purpose of installing modern water system and fire-fighting apparatus in the town, including large tanks and pumps plugs and other apparatus which may be used in connection with the Chestertown fire trucks in case of big blaze.

The Progressive Association is composed of the business men in the town who have banded themselves for the development and expansion of the bayside town along modern lines.

On the final night a Ford or Ford Sedan will be given away.

County Agent H. B. Derrick addressed the Rotary Club on Monday evening on his trip abroad.

The ladies of Mowbray M. E. Church held their annual fish fry on Wednesday notwithstanding the rain and realized about $150.

Prospects Bright For Increased Milk Prices

As the result of an agreement reached between the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of the Inter-State Milk Producers' Association and the co-operating buyers in Philadelphia Milk Shed, it is believed that Kent County dairymen have an excellent prospect of obtaining a thirty-five cent increase in milk prices, effective September 16.

The new agreement is a modification of the present "basis and surplus" plan. It follows:

1. That the basic average quality established by our members during October, November and December, 1925, shall continue to be effective during October, November and December, 1926. And members making more than this amount during any one of the three last months of this year, to be paid for that additional amount at surplus prices.

2. The average basic quality established during October, November and December, 1925, shall continue to be effective during 1927, or until further arrangements shall have been made.

3. That all members shall continue to regulate their dairies so as to maintain in the future a uniform supply of milk. The basic average of October, November and December 1926, and of succeeding years, will be recorded and may be used at some later time in negotiating for this sale of your milk.

While the Philadelphia Selling Plan usually termed the Basic and Surplus Plan, has been the dominating factor in the method of selling its members' milk by the Inter-State Milk Producers' Association, and has been most successful up until recently, conditions have arisen in connection with the supply and demand which have made modifications of the original plan advisable.

This, however, is not an entirely new program. At the annual meeting of the Inter-State Milk Producers' Association the membership adopted a resolution giving its Board of Directors power to make such modifications if desirable.

In view of this condition the Board of Directors at a meeting held on July 27th, 1926, adopted by motion certain modification in the present selling plan.

It was further arranged with the co-operating buyers that in view of these modifications an advance in the price of basic milk to the producers be effective on September 16th, 1926. Complete details of this program will be considered at a meeting to be held prior to that date.

Until that time, therefore, the present method and basis of payment for members' milk will continue unchanged.

LIGHTNING DOES DAMAGE IN LOWER KENT

Saturday evening's storm did considerable damage especially about Rock Hall.

Lightning struck Benj. Kramer's house at Gratitude and shattered the rafters but no fire resulted. Mrs. Thomas Wheat, the tenant, was at the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Hilry Akers, and both were stunned. When they went home it was found that the lightning had entered through the attick at the front of the house and tore holes in the walls and flooring of the upper rooms and broke pictures. It then tore a hole through teh parlor ceiling, broke all the glass in the front door, ripped off a shutter and burst out through a hole over the kitchen door.

Lightning burned Mr. and Mrs. George Penning, of Gratitude, about the arms.

Lightning struck a house in Sandy Bottom Lane Saturday night and it was destroyed by fire. It was owned and occupied by a colored family, Irving Dawn. No one was affected in the house excepting the wife, who had to be carried to a neighbor's home. She soon revived. The Volunteer Fire Company were called out and prevented the loss of adjacent property.

The 25 young recruits of the Medical Detachment of the Maryland National Guard returned from camp Saturday. Capt. J. P. Franklin and all the boys report a fine time. Some narrow escapes from drowning is reported.

PLAN LARGE TOWN AT TOLCHESTER, MD.

At Tolchester, Chesapeake Bay, Kent County, Md., within a comparatively short time, will be reared one of the biggest pleasure resorts and summer residential sections in the history of the Delmarvia Peninsula, if plans of the Tolchester Estates, Inc., materialize.

Announcement was made today by interests of the Tolchester Estates of the acquiring of a vast area of farmland, comprising about 12,000 acres, in which is embraced 16 acres of inland lake water, to be developed under the present plans into a yachting harbor. It is proposed to transform the entire plot into a beautiful playground, with a residential section of 3,000 homes, golf course, club houses, parks, boardwalk and pavilions.

Although many lots have been sold, and the first section opened, next Sunday has been officially designated as the grand opening. Preparations have been made to care for every visitor, and it is generally believed several hundred will attend. The principal officers of the corporation will be on the Tolchester Estates.

That the climate and water at Tolchester are healthful is contained in a report following a careful survey of the vast tract. A topographical study also has been made, which reveals the midland drainage to be of the best, thus providing only nourishing soil for shrubbery, trees, growing vines and other foliage.

It was further stressed that it is the purpose of the Tolchester Estates, Inc., to sell the home sites only to reputable people, with restrictions to a certain class of improvements. It is planned to dedicate certain parks in honor of the residents. Trees will be planted along the streets and every modern improvement made.

The Tolchester Estates are 65 miles south of Wilmington, 21 miles from Baltimore. Good roads and transportation facilities add to the importance of the place. Also, with the opening in the fall of the Chesapeake and Delaware canal, the Tolchester Estates should prove an incentive to sportsmen, it was pointed out by those back of the proposition

The new harbor development will provide every facility for yacht clubs, boathouses and suitable cottages. There are 2½ miles of bay front adjoining Tolchester Park.

CHAUTAUQUA HERE AUGUST 26-SEPT. 1ST

A meeting of the guarantors of the 1926 Chautauqua was held Friday night in the Kent County Savings Bank. Dr. Paul E. Titsworth was present and delighted everyone with his address and reference to the features of the coming Chautauqua.

This year's meeting convenes — August 26 to September 1 inclusive, 6 days of the usual delightful afternoons and evenings.

There is a new feature connected with this year's Chautauqua, and it is explained in a leaflet distributed by the Association. It is explained as follows:

Each committee is asked to elect a delegate to the International Lyceum and Chautauqua Association convention in Philadelphia for September 6, 7, 8. There will be an excellent program of discussion, music, entertainment, with afternoons free to attend the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition, which will be at its height at this time. The delegate will be the guest of the Swarthmore Chautauqua Association, as they pay mileage from the home town and return, and provide hotel accommodations for the three days, provided:

Sufficient season tickets are sold at full, regular prices, for the 1926 Chautauqua to cover the contract and local expenses; and no tickets be given away or sold to guarantors in excess of the number required for their families. It is expected that the person selling the largest number of tickets shall be elected delegate.

Others appointed by the Committee may act as additional delegates, paying their own expenses, but receiving the privileges of the convention and the special hotel rates given the Association.

The International Lyceum & Chautauqua Association will present a great program. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis has accepted an invitation. President Coolidge has been invited, and it is expected he will accept for the great session to be held on Valley Forge field, on Better Citizenship Day, September 6th. Mayor Kendrick of Philadelphia will receive the delegates in Independence Hall.

With reference to the above anyone who wishes to take a part in the selling of tickets for the coming Chautauqua, will please see the chairman of the Guarantors Committee, W. R. Huey.
