Three Important Questions

"WHAT SHALL I DO WHEN I AM OLD?"
"WHAT WOULD I DO IF I WERE DISABLED?"
"WHAT WOULD MY FAMILY DO IF I DIED?"

These are questions that men and women ask themselves as they look into the future and as they note the increasing hazards of life.

This NEW PLAN takes the worry out of life. Ask

Col. Hodson Gives Busts To Washington College

Col. Clarence Hodson of New York City, who has shown himself increasingly a friend of Washington College in many thoughtful ways and at opportune times, recently sent the institution some beautiful bronze busts in honor of men now or formerly affiliated with it who have rendered or are rendering Washington distinguished service.

At the Thursday assembly last week President Titsworth, for Col. Hodson, made the formal presentation of these busts: that of "Julius Caesar" in honor of Vice President James R. Micou; that of "Labor" in honor of Dean J. S. Wm. Jones; that of "Coronimo, the Indian Chief" in honor of Judge Lewin W. Wickes; that of "Shakespeare" in honor of Dr. Clarence P. Gould, and that of "Sir Arthuur Conan Doyle" in honor of Dr. James W. Cain.

These busts are in the Library on exhibition.

MOVING PICTURE NOTES

"The Flying Horsemen"

Although his screen career is shot through with exciting moments Buck Jones encountered some of the most gripping experiences of his life in making "The Flying Horseman," his latest Fox Films Western which comes to the Lyceum next Monday. In his fast-moving story, based upon Max Brand's novel, Buck is surrounded by an excellent cast. Gladys McConnell has the leading feminine role.

Buck, cast as Mark Winton, is en route to the sleepy little town of Los Santos, when he encounters Bert Ridley abusing one of eight boys, the sons of Happy Joe. Happy Joe is a jolly old derelict who has a shack on the ranch of Colonel Savary. Ridley in love with June, Colonel Savory's daughter, takes a beating at the hands of Buck. He leaves swearing vengeance. How he compromises Buck, falsely accuses him of murder, and tries to prevent Silver Buck winning the Comanche Handicap lays the foundation for one of the most absorbing screen stories seen in recent months.

In the cast with Buck is Harvey Clark, inimitable comedian and many other screen favorites. The list includes Bruce Covington, Walter C. Percival, Hank Mann, Vester Pagg, Joseph Rickson and eight of the liveliest youngsters in pictures.

"Three Weeks In Paris"

Matt Moore and Dorothy Devore, the Warner Bros. stars, are coming to the Lyceum Theatre Tuesday in "Three Weeks in Paris," their latest production for the Warners.

Moore plays Oswald Bates, a shy, retiring young American who is shipped off to Paris immediately after his wedding on business for his firm. Miss Devore plays his distressed little bride, left at home because only one passport has been provided.

Meanwhile Gus Billikins (Willard Louis,) Oswald's best man, sails on the same steamer. Once in Paris, the diffident hero finds some difficulty in attending to business, but none at all in sharing the jaunts of the jovial Gus, who shows him the sights of the gay city. They become involved in a dual and are sent to jail, while the bride still waits hopefully at home.

The steamer on which Oswald was to return goes adrift and when he is given up as dead, his wife collects his insurance and mourns his loss. Once out of jail, Oswald decides to get home by hook or crook —and uses a forged passport. But his return to his native land leads to further complications, and the climax of the picture brings about a series of hilarious situations, with an unexpected solution.

"A Kiss for Cinderella"

"A Kiss for Cinderella." the Paramount picture scheduled for showing at the Lyceum Friday and Saturday of next week, may be set down as a distinct triumph for every one who had a share in its making.

As all the world and his wife know, the story is the brain child of that famous Scottish master of whimsical and poetical writing, James M. Barrie, and the old-timers will recall that Maude Adams achieved a great measure of success with it as a stake vehicle many years ago.

The story has lost none of its delicate flavor and essential whimsy by its transition to the screen, and, in its finished photoplay form, stands out as a delightful modern romance, beautifully staged and directed by Herbert Brenon and charmingly enacted by a superlative cast, headed by Betty Bronson, Tom Moore and Esther Ralston.

The central character is an imaginative little London waif, who has so hynotized herself with a book of fairy tales that she believes she is Cinderella and confidently looks forward to the day when her fairy godmother will take her to the ball where the Prince will choose her for his bride. How her dreams of love lead to a real-life romance with a policeman is the surprising denouement of the plot.

The magnificent dream ball, introduced to show the workings of the little slavey's mind, is a novel combination of georgeous fantancy and glorified reality, and makes up a scene that would wring roars of laughter from a wooden Indian.

Betty Bronson handles the role of Cinderella with a subtlety and skill that gains the sympathy of the audience from the very first moment she appears on the screen. Tom Moore is a splendid hero-policeman, and Esther alston is lovelier than ever as the fairy godmother.

A Representative From The State of Maryland

Percy G. Skirven has written for Senator Moses, of Washington, the following interesting account of James Barroll Ricaud, a Representative from Maryland:

"Mr. Ricaud was born in Baltimore, Maryland, on February 11th, 1808. He was the son of Benjamin Ricaud and his wife, Mrs. Rebecca Hyatt, nee Miller, of Kent counuty, Maryland.

In all probility he attended school at Chestertown, and was graduated in June, 1828, from Washington College, at Chestertown, Maryland. He studied law and was admitted to the Bar, at Chestertown, Maryland., on September 22, 1829, and commenced the practice of law in Chestertown. His first wife whom he married on November 29th, 1831, was Anne Elizabeth Gordon, daughter of Dr. Joseph Nicholson Gordon. His second wife was Cornelia, daughter of the Honorable Thomas Worrell, of Chestertown.

He became active in politics and was elected to The House of Delegates, at Annapolis, Maryland, in 1834, and to The Maryland State Senate in 1836, where he served until 1844. In 1836 he was Presidential Elector on the Harrison Ticket, and in 1844 on the Henry Clay Ticket. In 1854 he was elected on the American or "Know Nothing" Ticket to The Thirty-fourth Congress (March 4th, 1855, March 3rd, 1857) and re-elected to The Thirty-fifth Congress (March 4th, 1857-March 3rd, 1859).

Upon his return to Chestertown after the closing of Congress in 1859 he resumed the practice of law and continued it until his death in Chestertown, Maryland, January 24th, 1866. He was buried in the cemetery of St. Paul's Parish at St. Paul's Church, near Chestertown.

Mr. Ricaud was appoined in 1864 by Governor Augustuus W. Bradford Associate Judge o fThe Second Maryland Judicial District. He served during the May Term of 1864.

A portrait of Mr. Ricaud hangs in the Court House, at Chestertown Maryland."
