Abe broke open the smaller egg and found it to be a perfect one in every respect.

John Leaf, of Chesapeake Haven, was motoring from Philadelphia and as he was passing through St. George's was hailed by two boys asking for a ride. As soon as they were seated in the car they asked Mr. Leaf to have a piece of candy which he took. The candy poisoned him and Mr. Leaf was found in his car on the west side of town, suffering with severe pain and not knowing how he got there. He was immediately taken to Dr. Jones, of Galena and from there to Union Hospital.

Defeated by Pennsylvania Military College last Saturday, 12 to 3, Washington College gridders are still laboring under the twin handicap of paucity of material and injured players. Chapman, rangy Chestertown quarter, sustained a dislocated shoulder in practice last week; Von Beisen has an injured ankle; Bozman has been laid up for a while and Captain Dumschott has not recovered sufficiently from an old knee injury to be of effective service. With all these handicaps the team is doing well and the practice they are getting will mean much for the future.

Dr. Fred G. IN MEMORIAM

Loving remembrance of my dear wife, Annie E. Bramble, died 12 months, october 5, 1925. Loved in life, in death remembered.

Twelve months of silent sorrow,
Twelve months of grief and pain,
Praying every day to God, dear Annie,
Until we meet again.
How happy we were in days gone by
When our circle was fully complete;
But it is borken, one has gone,
To sleep at the Saviour's feet.
Some day I am going to meet you
On that beautiful, golden shore,
Our circle will be complete again,
Never to be broken no more.
By Her Loving Husband and Sons.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear sister, Ma y Hadaway, who departed this life 8 years ago this month, October 16, 1918.
Dear is the grave
Where my sister is laid;
Sweet is the memory
That never shall fade.
Flowers may fade, drop and die,
Friends may forget her,
But never shall I.
Sadlymissed by brother
Norman E. Peterson.

GET INSIDE

Since the resumption of school our attention has been repeatedly attracted by boys, and in some cases even girls, riding on the running boards of automobiles. We can conceive of few dangerous practices and plead the cause of safety before a tragedy occurs in our midst.

Transportation of children to and from school has become a serious problem since the great distances covered by some virtually necessitate their operating cars. While the intentions of these youngsters are the best in some cases their judgment is poor, and they do daring things without giving thought to possible consequences. While it is commendable for them to give less fortunate children "a lift" it is none the less dangerous if the car's capacity is over-taxed and children are carried on the running board. A distressing accident some day is but the natural sequel.

School authorities can go but so far in controlling the actions of pupils outside the school hours. Once they are beyond the shadow of the school walls the conduct of children is very largely governed by the character of discipline and training they receive at home. While there is no iron-bound rule it is generally safe to assume that a child well behaved at home will equally well be safe and sane while bound to school.

Let teachers and parents alike cooperate in preaching the law of safety to those who operate cars, and particularly stress the fact that all should be seated inside the machine.

Notice To Turkey Growers

The Maryland turkey is conceded to be the choicest turkey that goes into the northern markets, and brings at least ten cents a pound more than birds from many sections of the United States. Kent County can raise them, and Kent county could get the full benefit of the high northern prices for Maryland birds, if the turkey growers were organized. There is no strength in a few growers banding together; there is much strength in all growers banding together.

A meeting to organize takes place in the Court Room of the Court House in Chestertown, on Wednesday afternoon, October 13th, at two o'clock.

HELEN M. BAKER,
Chairman of a Committee to Investigate the Organization of a Turkey Growers' Association.

Mrs. Warren Shaw Fisher, of New York, has been the guest of Mrs. Anna Wyble in Worton.

Miss Wilson has accepted a position as assistant in Dr. Hughes office.

M. J. Sutton leads Massey's batting average with 500 per cent, Isaac Gibbs 384, B. J. Sutton 375, G. Moffet and T. Shockley 333.

Donato Colafemina, young Italian singer, who is to appear in Chestertown, Tuesday evening, October 19th, at the William Smith Hall, is considered one of the finest tenors on the concert stage today. Several years ago the Chicago "Music News" referred to him as a "rising star in the firmament of song," and today he fully justifies the prophecy. At Pasadena, Cal., he was "conceded by all who heard him the best soloist of the season." —Pesadena News.

Beside Signor Colafemina's vocal genius, his career from the humble ranks of a western section gang to Carnegie Hall, singing under the baton of the world-famous band master, John Philip Sousa, arouses the interest of music lovers everywhere, and his concert here is eagerly awaited. He will be assisted by Edna Coates, violinist, and Emily Sibley Harris, pianist and accompanist.

Angora Goats

As a rule Angora goats are small, weighing from 80 to 100 pounds. Sometimes in the United States they weigh as much as 140 pounds, with an occasional one even heavier than this. Both males and females usually have horns and beards. The fleece weighs from 3 to 12 pounds.

Shelley's Words

His words are as flexible as any words: the rhythm of some modulating air seems to move them into their place without a struggle by the poet, and almost without his knowledge. This is the perfection of true art.—Walter Bagehot.
