BISHOP McDOWELL HERE THIS WEEK

Chestertown has been on the map this week from a religious view-point. A gathering of about 30 ministers of Middletown District of the Wilmington Conference met in the Chestertown M. E. Church Thursday. Included among the visitors were Bishop William F. McDowell, of the Washington area, and Bishop John L. Neulson, of Zurich, Switzerland.

The conference, which was an all day affair, was called to consider and discuss the problems affecting the welfare of the church at large and the problems confronting the various annual conferences of the church in this country. The morning session began at 10 o'clock with devotional services in charge of Rev. Wilbur F. Corkran, pastor of the local church. There was an adress by Rev. F. A. Lindhurst, superintendent of educational work in the Wilmington Conference, on "The Next Step in Religious Education."

This was followed by an address on "Cultivation of World Service in the Washington Area," by Rev. Morris E. Schwartz, of the Washington area. At 11 o'clock there was an institute on law enforcement conducted by Rev. Deets Picket, followed by roll call and reports from various committees.

After devotions conducted by Rev. L. E. Poole, of the Wilmington Conference, the afternoon session began with an address by Rev. G. B. Jones on "Conference Claimants Endowment." This was followed by an address on "World Service," by Rev. L. E. Linzele, o fBardoa, India. The feature of the afternoon session was an address by Bishop Nuelson. In the evening there were addresses by Bishop McDowell and Bishop Nuelson.

The district quartet of Middletown, Del., furnished musical selections during the session.

Woman's Auxiliary Meets In Emmanuel P. E. Church

The thirty-third annual convention of the Women's Auxiliary, of the Diocese of Easton, closed Thursday night following a two-day session in Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church. Delegates from every parish on the Eastern Shore have attended. At noon Thursday the Rev. George Ferguson, of Rosemont, Pa., addressed the convention following the 11 o'clock services and Holy Communion. Luncheons were served by women of Emmanuel parish. Wednesday afternoon, Miss Louise T. Davis, provincial president of Virginia, delivered an address on "The Bishops' Crusade," and at night, Dr. John W. Wood, of New York, executive secretary of the Department of Missions of the National Council, addressed the delegates.

Mrs. Dudley G. Roe, wife of Senator Roe, of Queen Anne's county, was the president and presided at all business sessions.

Delegates from every parish in the diocese, together with representatives from the young woman's branch, comprising a number of parishes, were in attendance. The Woman's Auxiliary is a branch of the department of missions of the Protestant Church of America, and its work is confined almost exclusively to raising funds for both home and foreign fields.

One of the unique features of the work is the department of Little Helpers, composed of the children of the Diocesan parishes, who are being trained in the work of missions and whose contribution of pennies during the year amounts to several thousand dollars.

The auxiliary also excercises supervision over the Children's Home in Easton, which is one of the most prosperous and modern orphanages in the State. The reports of the treasurers of the various funds showed that the work of the year has been successful.

Homeopathic Meet This Week In Chestertown

The Maryland Homeopathic Medical Society closed its fall convention here Tuesday night with a banquet at the Voshell Hotel. Harry E. Parkhurst, of Baltimore, the principle speaker, spoke on "The Medical Profession in its Relation to Modern Business."

Dr. Fred G. Livingood, of Washington College, rendered several violin selections with Mr.s Livingood at the piano.

Vocal and instrumental music was furnishes by Mrs. Merrick Clements and Miss Mable Toulson.

The guests were Dr. and Mrs. John A. Evans, Dr. and Mrs. G. Latrobe Ewalt, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Davies, Dr. William Dulaney Thomas, Dr. Maurice E. Shawer, Dr. H. H. Stansbury, Dr. Julia C. Loos, Dr. and Mrs. Herman N. Frentz, Dr. Eldridge C. Price, Dr. Mary Dean, Dr. W. Bode, C. Hirschey, Dr. J. W. Wisner, Dr. Henry Russell, Dr. and Mrs. N. V. Wright, Dr. and Mrs. Ira D. Fetterhof, Dr. and Mrs. Chas. L. Rumsey, all of Baltimore; Mrs. Sara Spencer, of Philadelphia; Dr. O. Josephine P. Baird, Herald Harbor, Md.; Dr. and Mrs. George R. Jones, Galena, Md.; Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Urie, Kennedyville, Md., Dr. Wm. E. Van Norden, Chesapeake City; Rev. J. T. Richardson, Chesapeake City; Dr. Winfred T. Morrison, Elkton; Dr. Lewis P. Atwell, Still Pond; Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Dodd, Chestertown, and Dr. and Mrs. H. Benge Simmons, Chestertown.

Monday afternoon the physicians and their wives were entertained at an oyster scald by Dr. and Mrs. H. Benge Simmons, at Rolph's Wharf. In addition to the entire visiting medical body the following were present: Dr. and Mrs. Paul E. Titsworth, L. Bates Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Evans, Carl N. Bordley, J. S. Kreeger, Miss Kathryn Berry and Miss Sarah Ruth.

IMPROVED STORES IN TOWN

Conlyn Noland has been compelled to enlarge his store and has added the big room heretofore occupied by H. B. Rote as jeweler. An addition has also been added in the rear. This will make one of the biggest store rooms in Chestertown filled with merchandise of all kinds and served by courteous and industrious help. H. B. Rote has removed to the room at the Voshell House.

Due to increased business, W. P. Newnam has enlarged his store on High street. increasing the size of his show rooms and adding to the appearance of his up-to-date music store. The front part of the store is divided into a piano show room and a victrola and radio show room. In the back part are victrola and radio demontrating booths and the office. The second floor will be taken up with a display of toys.

Sheep killing dogs have been making wholesale raids upon farmers' sheep in various sections of the county during the week. The farm of Harper R. Carter, near Still Pond Station was raided on Monday night and twenty-five out of a flock of twenty-eight sheep were either killed outright or terribly mangled. Robert Joiner on Buck Neck farm lost six and Wm. F. Gale, near Tolchester, lost four several nights before. Complaints have been made to the Board of County Commissioners who will reimburse the owners to the extent of $6 for each sheep destroyed. This money is provided from a special fund collected by the county commissioners in the form of a dog tax, which this year amounted to more than $2,000, enabling the commissioners to pay all claims for loss of livestock, poultry, etc.
