JOHN S. HURLOCK IS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BY A FRIEND IN KENT

A victim of the first gunning accident of the season, J. S. Hurlock, aged 56 years, of 2205 Washington street, is in a critical condition at the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital, Wilmington.

In a party with several other hunters on the farm of his cousin William S. Hurlock, near Betterton, Friday, Mr. Hurlock was struck in the abdomen, chest and side by several pellets of shot when the gun of one of the members of the party was accidentally discharged. He was taken to Still Pond where a physician ordered him to a hospital and he was carried to the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital, in Wilmington where he was operated upon immediately. His condition while quite serious, it is thought he will recover.

According to reports of the accident, Mr. Hurlock was standing from 30 feet to 25 yards from the point where the gun was discharged. He did not receive the full force of the load but at least two of the shot penetrated his abdomen and it was found at the hospital that his smaller intestine was perforated in 14 different places. This could have been caused by one of the shot, it was said.

In addition to the wounds in the abdomen there were several others in the chest and side. It is estimated that between 12 and 15 shot were removed from Mr. Hurlock's body.

How the accident occurred or whose gun was fired could not be learned. It was reported that a member of the party was loading his gun when it went off and that Mr. Hurlock, who was obsecured from view some distance away was in the direct path of the charge.

Others in the party with Mr. Hurlock were Edward Collins and the Rev. Mr. Clarke, of Still Pond; Elias Othoson and Roger Kennedy, of Kennedyville, and Wm. S. Hurlock. At last reports from the hospital he was getting along very nicely.

News from Mr. Hurlock is very encouraging. The crisis is past and he is on the road to recoverv.

Joseph Watson, game warden, arrested four non-residents charged with hunting without proper license on Benj. Taylor's farm, near St. Paul's. They were fined $17.60 each by Justice Stafford and paid same.

After a most successful season the new circus which Andrew Downie had on the road this year, arrived in Havre de Grace last week where they went into winter quarters. Mr. Downie reports that next season he will take out one of the biggest organizations he has ever assembled. Geo. H. Brinsfield, of Kent, is with the show and will help care for the equipment this winter.

Charles H. Seward has sold to Ernest H. Burns and Chester C. Honsh of Talbot county, and Wilbert Hawley, of Leipsick, Kent county, Del., his marsh and ducking lands with the wood and improved lands attached, in Bucktown and Church Creek election districts containing about 6,000 acres. The consideration is reported as being $250,000, of which $100,000 is to be paid in cash on or before January 1, 1927.

A $20,000 Loss By Barn Fire

The barn on the farm of J. Alfred Bramble, a mile east of Landenberg, was destroyed by fire believed to have been started by defective wiring, Sunday. All the crops housed this season, an automobile, much feed, 300 chickens and a large amount of machinery and harness were burned. Firemen from Avondale responded but were too late to save the building or those connected with it. Mr. Bramble lost his stock by fire once before early this spring and this loss is quite a blow. His father, James Bramble, left here last week to visit him.

OLD TIME SERMONS DRAW HUNDREDS TO THE LOCAL CHURCH

Methodist Union Revival Finished Second Week In Campaign—Large Crowds Pack The M. E. Church On Sunday — Meeting Now Held In Christ M. P. Church.

The power of old Gospel in sermon and song to draw the people is forcibly impressed upon the people of this community by the splendid revival now being held by the Methodist Churches of Chestertown under the direction of Dr. Geo. W. Cooke and Prof. Vignuille.

Saturday night the M. E. Church was filled with an interested audience which enjoyed the splendid service put on by over a hundred children under the skilled leadership of Dr. Cooke.

After the big meeting in the M. E. Church Saturday night an interesting service was held in the Park attended by hundreds.

Sunday afternoon Dr. Cooke spoke upon the women only and at night one of the largest audiences ever seen in the church crowded aisles, "shelves," pulpit and steps. It was a great service.

Wednesday night was "Church" night and various organizations filled the edifice. Special music was furnished b ythe Sudlersville Quartette. A. C. Bacon, Earle Nichols and others.

Sunday afternoon a meeting for men will be addressed by Dr. Cooke on "Throwing Boomerangs." Prof. Harold Vigneulle, the singer, is great and with Dr. Cooke are certainly stirring up this community.

Business Men's noon-day meetings began Thursday. The addresses by Dr. Cooke are helpful and inspiring.

Christ M. P. Church was filled to overflowing Thursday night. More than 150 men sat in the middle block and sang the ninty and nine. Several were at the altor. Meetings each night next week except Monday.

Ben Everett Killed In Auto Accident

Week-end automobile accidents in Wilmington and vicinity resulted in the death of Benjamin Everett, 35, of Centreville, Del. He was formerly from Kent and has a brother, James Everett, living in Chestertown.

Mr. Everett, an ex-service man, was struck and instantly killed at 2.30 o'clock Sunday morning by an automobile operated by Theodore Damiecki, of 1025 Chestnut street, Wilmington, while he was walking along the State Highway above Minquadale.

Damiecki was arrested by Private Knecht, of the State Highway Police on a charge of manslaughter, and held under $5,000 bail to await action of the coroner's jury.

According to the police, Everett and Frank Webster were walking along the road when the automobile driven by Damiecki approached. In attempting to get out of the way of the machine, Everett is said to have stepped directly in the path of it. He was knocked down and one of the wheels of the machine is thought to have passed over his head.

Deputy Coroner Hirzel removed the body to the morgue.

JAS. E. WOODALL'S ESTATE

Letters of administration were granted Tuesday by the Orphans' Court of Kent County upon the estate of Capt. James E. Woodall to his son. James E. Woodall, Jr., who gave a bond of $100,000.

Captain Woodall left no will and the large estate, consisting of six fine farms in Kent and Cecil counties, mortgages, stocks and bonds will be divided among the widow and three children—James E. Woodall, Jr., Mrs. John Welch, of Georgetown, and Mrs. Howard B. Strong, of Chestertown. The estate is believed to be one of the largest in Kent county.

AUTUMN WEDDINGS

William Selby Beck and Mrs. Daisy Crouch Ashley, were married Saturday, Nov. 6th, in the evening by the Rev. Thomas S. Barrett at Grace M. E. parsonage in Piney Neck. They are residing nearby.

Miss Helen Bolton, of Galena, and Robert Kent, of Wilmington, were married Tuesday afternoon at Galena. The bride was attended by Louise McCoy, of the city. Jester Smith was best man. The ushers were William Jones and Robert Stewart. The bride wore a pretty white satin gown trimmed in lace. Her tulle veil was held in place by orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lillies of the valley. Miss McCoy wore a gold-colored velvet frock with shoes, hose and hat to match. She carried an arm bouquet of orchid colored chrysanthemums. After a wedding trip south, Mr. and Mrs. Kent will live at 913 Van Buren street, Wilmington.

A Terrific Wind and Rain Storm

A southeast wind, accompanied by a driving rain that lasted for 12 hours, struck Chestertown and Kent county Tuesday.

Backed up by the "sou'easter," the waters in the Chester overflowed the banks in what is said to be the highest tide since 1915. The water was within an inch of the driveway of the Chesttr river bridge here. Many of the yards on the river side of Water or Front street were completely inundated. The County Wharf and the pier at the old railroad dock were covered with water. The river road in Quaker Neck, Swan Creek, Morgan Neck and elsewhere were flooded to such an extent that passage was made dangerous.

The rising waters entered the boiler room at the Chestertown Electric Light and Power plant and made necessary the shutting down of one of the dynamos. The heavy winds caused many wires to be crossed and for nearly an hour Tuesday afternoon Chestertown was without electric power, Boats, pulled up upon the shore for the winter were cast adrift, and from the basket factory pier floated out many logs. All that could be seen of the Massey and Wilmer wharf, about a mile down the river, was derrick-like structure used in the unloading of boats.

When the extent of the storm is considered it is remarkable how little real damage was done.

Cleric Finds Gin In The Sands

The natural inlet, joining the Atlantic Ocean with Sinepuxent Bay three miles south of Ocean City, Md., has become one of nature's leading spots on the Eastern Shore almost overnight.

Discovery by the Rev. Lewis B. Sheen, Protestant Episcopal clergyman, of Berlin, of several bottles of old Gordon gin half buried in the sandy flats at the inlet while he was returning with a friend from a clamming trip, has made him an outstanding figure in Worcester county.

The liquor, signed and sealed, was in a good state ofpreservation. A chance kick against a hard surface by the minister, returning from his clamming trip with a friend, led to the discovery.

The astonished minister uncovered several bottles in the sands. A seal was broken, cork removed and there came from the bottle an odor reminiscent of pre-prohibition days.

Gathering a few bottles of the gin for medicinal purposes and carefully marking the spot, the minister and his friend started briskly homeward.

Reports spread that several cases of the liquor were undoubtedly buried near the inlet and a general rush for the location began.
