P. A. makes a pipe perform!

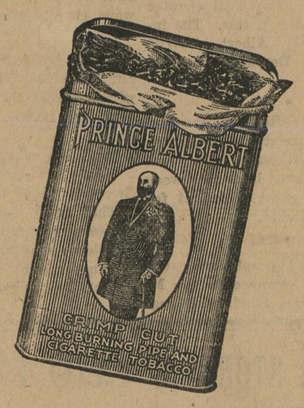

PUT it down for a fact here and now—if you don't know Prince Albert, you don't know how well that old pipe of yours can perform. You're going to find this out by personal experience some day. You may as well cut the corners and start today.

Buy yourself a tidy red tin of P. A. now. Open it up and let that fragrance of real, honest-to-goodness tobacco tell its own story. Then pack a wad of it into the bowl of your pipe and light up. The first pull will tell you no other tobacco ever tasted so good.

P. A. is so cool in a pipe . . . so refreshingly cool and sweet. It seems you never will get enough of it. Fortunately, P. A. is mild enough to let you smoke all you want. And it has body enough to make you want to. You try it and see!

You may think you are all set on a smoke-program. Never mind. Just wait till you have smoked Prince Albert! A pipe just hasn't had a chance if it has never been filled with P. A. Get some today! It will be a revelation. It will, for a fact!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen has been imitated and emulated but it has never been duplicated.

Only two movements are required to fill a Waterman's—pull out the lever and push it back. When the pen is filled it automatically locks. This is just one of the good features that add to Waterman's popularity. Ask us to tell you about the Waterman spoon-feed.

WASHINGTON WINS

The Washington College football team scored its first victory of the season here Saturday when it triumphed over St. Joseph's, of Philadelphia, 28 to 7. When St. Joseph's scored in the first few minutes things looked dark for the Eastern Shoremen, but the Washington eleven came back and in a few plays had tied the score.

The rest of the game was a picnic for Washington. Only once did the visitors threaten the Shoremen goal line, and then with first down on the one-yard line the Washington line tossed them back for four successive plays.

Cavanaugh was the star of old for the first time this season. He ran the ball, passed and made many tackles, in addition to scoring once and making four extra points after touchdowns.

The work of Alexander, quarter back, was also another Washington feature. All season Coach Brown has been looking for a signal caller and it looks like Alexander is the answer to his problem.

Ted Norris, the fast sprinter, pulled down a foward pass and outran the whole opposing team for a touch down.

The last game of the season will be played today. Then will come basket ball with more enthusiasm for old Washington.

The dirigible Los Angeles, the largest of Uncle Sam's arishps, passed over Chestertown Friday afternoon, apparently en route to Bolling Field, Va. The Los Angeles is commanded by Lieut-Com. C. E. Rosendhal, a survivor of the Shenandoah disaster. The long, silvery craft was visible for some time as it glittered in the sunshine on its way to the southwestward.

Officials of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company have decided to install in its firehouse the necessary equipment that will enable telephone operators at the local telephone exchange to operate the siren fire alarm, and do away with the present unsatisfactory method of calling some one living near the firehouse to sound the alarm. A telephone will also be installed in the firehouse through which the location of fires occurring in the town or country will be announced. Another service would be for the telephone operator to inform subscribers the location of fires when requests are made.
