HILL GIVEN ONE CENT VERDICT

A verdict of one cent in favor of Walter E. Hill Tuesday ended the suit for $40,000 damages against J. Monroe Holland, president of the Chesapeake Bank, Baltimore.

It was returned by a jury in the City Court, where Hill sued the bank president because of an alleged assault May 1 at the bank.

Testimony showed that Hill went to the bank on May 1 to discuss a note which was overdue. An argument between him and the bank president followed, during which Holland is alleged to have struck Hill, injuring his right eye.

The latter admitted "slapping" Hill, but denied that he struck him in the eye. He said Hill called him a "renegrade."

Mr. Hill is a Kent countian, being a son of the late Capt. Dan Hill, of Kennedyville.

Two Chestertown Men Held On Serious Charge

Mrs. Hiram Walls, of near Millington, is under a doctor's care, following an alleged attack upon her by Louis Rust and Andrew Perry, of Chestertown. The alleged attack took place last Sunday evening and Rust and Perry were taken to the Queen Anne's county jail Monday evening, after being arrested in Chestertown by Sheriff Whitley, who was accompanied by Constables Williamson and Councill and Deputy Sheriff Lee.

It is stated that Mrs. Walls was walking beside the road near her home when the two young men drove past in their car. It is then alleged that upon seeing the woman, the two jumped from the car and started toward her. The woman screamed for help and fled for her life, and upon arriving home, was in such a nervous condition she has been confined to the house ever since. It is alleged that the men were under the influence of liquor and were intoxicated beyond such a state that they did not know what they were doing.

Sheriff Whitley was notified of the attack on Monday and he, visited the Wall's home to secure whatever information they could in regards to the case. As a result of their investigation they went to Chestertown and placed Perry and Rust under arrest.

The trial of the two men was set at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon but Mrs. Walls was in such a nervous condition that she was unable to attend and the trial was postponed until last night.

H. W. Vickers, Esq., will represent Louis Rust and W. F. Russell, Jr., Esq., will appear for Andrew Perry.

OLD KRIS TO ARRIVE IN TOWN TODAY

The Merchants' Association of Chestertown have arranged for the arrival of Old Kris this Saturday Dec. 18th. He will come on the train, and after visiting the various stores and eating his dinner, will distribute gifts to the children in the Park at 1 p. m.

And the joy of this great Santa Claus Day in Chestertown is not confined solely to the little tots who eagerly await his coming on ChrismasEve, but extends to the grown-up and even Old Kris himself. Hundreds of grown-ups, whose hearts yet beat with the sentiment of youth have zealously entered into the spirit of this early Christmas celebration and are planning to make the occasion a memorably joyous one. And up at the North Pole, an old white-whiskered man is very, very happy as he loads his big pack and prepares to deliver a personal gift to every good little boy and girl who comes to Chestertown, Saturday, December 18. A souvenir of the coming of Old Kris will be given to each boy and girl present on that day.

Remember the day — Saturday December 18th.

There is a community tree and treat planned for all the children of the Rock Hall community Thursday, Dec. 23rd, 3 P. M., at the Primary School grounds. In the evening there will be singing and music by the Rock Hall band of twenty-eight pieces around the illuminated tree. The public is invited to enjoy it all. The entertainment is under the auspices of the Rock Hall Progressive Association.

LOCAL MERCHANTS READY FOR CHRISTMAS

Kent's merchants are ready for the Christmas season. Even a casual glance through the shopping district will disclose the interesting fact that everything is in readiness for the annual onslaught of the Christmas shopper.

Shelves, counters, show-cases and display windows are attractively and artistically decorated in their new Yuletide raiment, and never before havt Mr. and Mrs. Shopper had such an opportunity to find variety, quality and economy so blended as in Chestertown's bright, fresh, new Christmas stocks.

For many weeks merchants have been working faithfully for the approaching season. Their buyers have scoured the finest markets in the world to bring here the choicest goods. Shops have been charmingly decorated and adorned for the Yuletide season, and today the stage is set for the real opening of the Christmas shopping period.

And such a wonderful array of Christmas goods are offered.

Whole windows of charming dollits are found for the kiddies. Delightfully new apparel for milady, delicately tinted fabrics, furniture, gifts for men, candies and fruits, gifts both useful and useless, practical and impractical, but all breathing the definite spirit of Christmas—and all with an appeal to the sentimental or practical instincts of innumerable buyers.

Chestertown is ready for Christmas.

BASKETBALL SEASON BEGINS WITH VICTORY

The Washington College Basketball team got off to a flying start by defeating the Philadelphia School of Osteopathy quintet, in the opening game of the 1926-27 season.

Final score was 37-21, Coach Kibler using three entire different combinations during the game.

Jack Carroll, Capt. of the Flying Pentagon, scored the first goal of the game, and opening what all the fans hope to be, one of the most successful season in years.

Washington College was the centre of attraction for hundreds of men, boys, women and girls Thursday night when two basket ball games were presented. The preliminary games was between Sudlersville High School team and Chestertown Boys Rotary Team made up of High School boys. Chestertown won 29 to 5. The winners comprised Tommy Jones, D. B. Ford, Jr., Jos. Lewis, Jr., Vernon Needles, Frederick G. Usilton, Jr., Alday Clements. Sudlersville comprised Messrs. Smith, Roberts, Mench, Ross and George.

The big game was with "Hennie" Carrington's Arnold College Team and resulted in a victory for Washington 53 to 22.

The Watermen's Protective Association of Kent County held their regular session last Saturday evening at Rock Hall and the large assemblage was addressed by Senator S. Scott Beck, of Chestertown, Representative Ellsworth Bowers, of Lynch, Representative Charles N. Spence, of Secretary and three gentlemen. Messrs. Jackson, Harrison and Harrison, of Tilghman. These all seemed familiar with the needs of the fishermen and were told that there is no diminution of the fish in the bay as is proved by the present catches all up and down its length. A large delegation from the association went to Tilghman to be present at the meeting of the association there. It was decided that no change in the law is desired.

The Volunter Fire Company will hold its annual election of officers on Monday, January 10, 1927, at 8 p. m. An oyster scald will also be held same evening.

The Fairlee Women's Club met at the school house Monday, Dec. 6th The following officers were re-elected: President, Mrs. Wm. Kendall; vice-president, Mrs. Howard Reese; secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Frank Skirven. Other committees will be named at the next meeting.
