THE heart of Christendom rejoices on Easter Sunday.

The entry into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday, the agony of Christ in the garden, the crucifixion and burial on Good Friday—all these are past. Death is swallowed up in victory. Christ the Lord is risen today!

If, as has been suggested, the word Easter is derived from Oster, which signifies rising, then is Easter Sunday, both in name and reality, the feast of the resurrection.

It is more probable, however, that Easter gets its name from Eostre, a Saxon deity, whose feast was celebrated every spring about the time of the Christian festival. A compromise was thus effected, Christians accepting the pagan name and pagans accepting the Christian significance of the day.

Easter is a movable feast. It falls on "the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon or next after the twenty-first of March, and, if the full moon happens upon a Sunday, Easter day is the Sunday after."

In earlier days Easter was called the Paschal feast, for it was kept at the same time as the Pascha, or Jewish Passover.

So much for the origin of the name.

Easter Sunday today is celebrated by young and old alike.

For the children there are rabbits and Easter eggs—and the unrestrained joy of egg hunts in back yards and in public parks.

For the grown-ups there are new suits, new hats.

But surely Easter holds more than this for us. It is not a day of happiness alone, nor of outward show alone. It is a day of victory.

Just as our Saxon forefathers celebrated Eostre and the victory of things physical, so we celebrate Easter and the victory of things spiritual. The heart of man is filled with the beauty of spring's flowers that have sprung from death to life.

The soul of man is triumphant, for it is filled with a spirit which dieth not.

Christ the Lord is risen!

Trouble with supervisors of tax assessments on the eve of the State-wide reassessment because they "have not been on the job of followed orders of the State Tax Commission" has developed in four counties, J. Enos Ray, chairman of the State Tax Commission, said Saturday.

In Harford and Anne Arundel counties the supervisors of assessments have been requested to resign while complaints by the County Commissioners of Jueen Anne's and Caroline counties indicate that more resignations will be asked by the State Tax Commission unless demands by the commission are met.

Mr. Ray would not make public the orders given to the county supervisors. It was reported, however, that the supervisors in the counties had been assessing property at a rate deemed too low by the Commissioners.

Senator Beck

Seated in the front row of the Senate chamber, at the desk adjoining that occupied by Orlando Harrison, of Worcester, who ranks as the senior from his twelve years in continuous service in the Upper House, is Scott Beck, of Kent County, who is now serving his first term at the State House. He is one of the most determined looking men in the General Assembly and those who know him, say that his looks do not belie his character. That he is one of the ablest men in the General Assembly is not a matter of doubt, and that he will make his mark, and that a high one is also without doubt.

Mr. Beck ranks as one of the best lawyers on the Eastern Shore. He has a large and lucrative practice, and is engaged in all sorts of enterprises which make Chestertown, where he lives, one of the most progressive and attractive towns in Maryland. As a politician, and politics is only an incident in his career, he has been successful, and he now is the almost undisputed leader of his party in Kent, and is one of the outstanding leaders of the Democratic party in the nine counties on the Eastern Shore.

He is a decided acquisition to the General Assembly. He is the sort of a man whose presence in the public life of the State leads even those who may be pessimistic of the future welfare of Maryland, to take on hope that better things are in store for the days to come, and the Marylander will have more to say about him as the weeks roll on.—The Marylander, January 29, 1927.

Biblical Story of the Resurrection

IN THE end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary, to see the sepulcher.

And behold there was a great earthquake, for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven and came and rolled back the stone from the door and sat upon it.

His countenance was like lightning and his raiment white as snow.

And for fear of him the keepers did shake and become as dead men.

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear ye not, for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

He is not here, for He is risen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

And go quickly and tell His disciples that He is risen from the dead, and, behold, He goeth before you into Galilee; and there shall ye see Him; lo, I have told you.

And they departed quickly from the sepulcher with fear and great joy; and did run to bring His disciples word.

And as they went to tell His disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came, and held Him by the feet, and worshiped Him.

Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them.

And when they saw Him they worshiped Him, and some doubted.

And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and earth.

Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost;

Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

THAT ST. PAUL ROAD

Messrs. Editors:

I saw in a recent issue of yuor paper that a delegation had been before the Hon. Board of County Commissioners petitioning said board to have constructed a concrete road the short distance between St. Paul's Church and what is known as McClain's Corner. Without hesitation the writer heartily endorses said petition.

Old St. Paul's Church has long been one of the beautifully sacred spots on this Eastern Shore. Many years ago this parish school was the only school for miles around. One of my grandfathers attended it about the year 1790, and so, her uplifting influences has gone on and on, and she stands today one of our cherished land marks fitted to continue benevolent and christian service. While never a communicant there it has always been a delightful pleasure to the writer to acknowledge her great worth in that community. May the Commissioners give the petition an early and favorable consideration.

A FINE EXAMPLE

A sample of what can be done to Kent county dirt roads is seen this week on the Chesterville dirt roads. Thomas A. Conner, whose farm is on this road, has used a drag on this road and the improvement wonderful. He did it without any cost to the county. Suppose every farmer in Kent county would do the same thing to the dirt road along their farm what a wonderful improvement it would make to our dirt roads.

Farmers and landowners of Kent think this over. The example of Mr. Conner is certainly fine and worthy of emulation.
