FARMER WOMAN IN OKLAHOMA

Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Because It Gave Her Health and Strength

In a sunny pasture in Oklahoma, a herd of sleek cows was grazing. They made a pretty picture. But the thin woman in the blue checked apron sighed as she looked at them. She was tired of cows, tired of her tedious work in the dairy. She was tired of cooking for a houseful of boarders, besides caring for her own family. The burdens of life seemed too heavy for her failing health. She had lost confidence in herself.

One day she began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her general health began to improve. She took it faithfully. Now she can do her work without any trouble, sleeps well and is no longer blue and timid.

This woman, Mrs. Cora Short, R. R. 9, Box 387, Oklahoma City, Okla., writes: "Everybody now says: 'Mrs. Short, what are you doing to yourself?' I weigh 135 and my weight before I took it was 115. I have taken seven bottles of the Vegetable Compound."

Other women who have to work hard and keep things going may find the road to better health as Mrs. Short did, through the faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

REGENTS ACCEPT BUST OF BELL

W. S. Gifford, President, American Telephone and Telegraph Company; Charles G. Dawes, Vice-President of the United States; Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, daughter of Professor Bell; Chief Justice Taft, and Charles D. Walcott, Secretary of the Smithsonian Institute.

A bust of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, has been presented to the Smithsonian Institute at Washington by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. The presentation was made by Walter S. Gifford, president of the company, and was formally accepted by the Regents of this Institution at their annual meeting in December.

Mrs. Gilbert S. Grosvenor, the daughter of Alexander Graham Bell, unveiled the bust which is the work of Victor Salvatore, of New York. Dr. Bell's former associates and friends, who were among the audience at the presentation, were enthusiastic in their admiration of the likeness to the late scientist.

In presenting the bust, Mr. Gifford said: "In behalf of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the telephone, I present to the Smithsonian Institute this bust of Alexander Graham Bell."

The bust was accepted in behalf of the Smithsonian Institute by the Chancellor, Chief Justice and former President, Taft.

To Patch Plaster

Wallboard joints and also small cracks and holes in plaster may be filled with a composition made of flour paste thickened with plaster of paris. This is often used by paperhangers in concealing blemishes, as the paper can be placed over it immediately and it does not shrink noticeably or cause stains to appear.—Popular Science Monthly.

Insomnia Remedy

A medical reader, himself a poor sleeper, sends this suggestion in the hope that some readers of this journal may derive benefit from it. If sleep will not come, stretch slowly and fully three or four times in bed. The reaction that follows has a slumbersome effect.

Preserving Paper Map

To make a paper map more durable the United States bureau of standards suggests dipping it in a weak solution of high-grade animal glue and hanging the map over a line until thoroughly dry. This can be done, of course, only if the printing ink is fairly resistant to water.

Exports of British India

British India annually exports goods to the value of $1,200,000,000. The leading kinds of exports are raw cotton and cotton yarn and manufactures, grain and flour, raw jute and jute manufactures, seeds, tea, metals and ores, hides and skins, leather, wool and woolens. About 21 per cent of all the exports go to Great Britain.

Six Ways of Being Good Driver Told by Expert

Seven nationally known traffic and safety experts were asked to state what they believe were the characteristics of a safe and good driver. An analysis of the opinions submitted show that the men all agreed on the following major essentials of good driving:

1. The good driver has a high degree of self-control at all times, this control manifesting itself in various ways.

2. The good driver always maintains his car in such shape that it responds easily and quickly, thus assuring control of the car as far as the purely mechanical equation is concerned.

3. The good driver regulates his speed in accord with the conditions of the road over which he is traveling and never travels at such a rate that he cannot stop it within the "clear course" ahead.

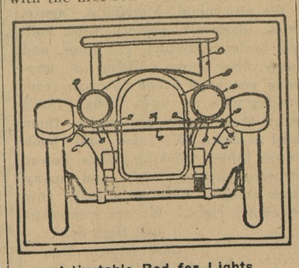

4. The good driver invariably exercises due regard for the rights of others and always applies the simple axioms of courteous behavior.

5. The good driver accepts the safety of the pedestrians as a primary consideration.

6. The good driver keeps his mind on the road ahead, as day-dreaming or chattering at the wheel causes many more accidents than are caused by bee stings.

Mechanism for Headlights

The illustration shows an adjusting mechanism for vehicle headlights, comprising a rod extending transversely across the front of the vehicle, having conical-shaped recesses in its ends, a brace rod arranged parallel with the first rod and having its ends secured to the fenders of the vehicle, brackets supported by the fenders at each end of the first rod, adjustable bolts carried by the brackets, pointed ends on said bolts for engagement in the recesses of said first rod, a foot pedal and adjustable connection between the foot pedal and the first rod for imparting movement thereto.

Always Release Clutch When Rounding Corners

Always throw out the clutch when rounding a sharp corner. It has a beneficial effect upon the tires. Whenever the car tends to skid, due to its deflection from the straight course, a cross strain is brought to bear on the tire treads, which is directly proportional to the weight of the vehicle and the radius of the curve and proportional to the square of its velocity. If the power is applied in rounding a curve, the tendency to rip off the tires is further aggravated by the backward drag due to traction. If the clutch is released, however, the factor is eliminated and the strain is thereby reduced.

Jealous

"Fortune's smile" is the thing to which other people give the credit for the results of your hard work.

Clean Utensils Potent Factor in Care of Milk

Clean utensils are perhaps one of the most potent factors in producing milk and cream of good quality. According to Thomas M. Olson, head of the dairy department at South Dakota State college, if milk or cream is stored in utensils which are already teeming with bacteria of various kinds, the quality is affected, and nothing can restore the cream to its original quality.

However, clean utensils are only one factor in the production of quality dairy products. Small-top milk pails have proved under actual trials to decrease the dirt which enters the milk by 60 per cent.

The condition of the separator comes in for the greatest criticism in connection with clean milk production. If you do not believe this, take a sample of sweet cream from a separator which has not been washed properly after each separation. Allow it to incubate at a temperature of 70 to 80 degrees Fahrenheit for 24 hours. If the separator was dirty or not cleaned thoroughly, you will get a noticeable "dish rag flavor" and the cream will show the effects of bacterial flavor.
