WASHED OUT ROADS

A continued downpour in upper Kent County during twelve hours on Monday flooded the town of Millington and the new iron bridge over the Cypress branch of the Chester river, which connects Kent and Queen Anne's counties. The river, in its upper reaches, overflowed its banks and flooded fields on both sides.

The traffic between Millington and Queen Anne's county was completely stopped and considerable inconvenience was caused in the streets of the town itself. Gilbert B. Taylor, county engineer for Kent, is repairing the damage. Many roads were damaged by washouts.

BASEBALL NOTES

The Kennedyville nine Saturday defeated Providence 4 to 3. "Tough" Groff twirled one of the best games of his pitching career. One earned run was all the Providence nine was entitled to off the deliveries of Groff.

A Ford car belonging to Massey & Wilmer, local fertilizer manufacturers was damaged by the fire last Thursday while parked near the home of Mr. Massey on High street. A short circuit started the blaze which consumed the fan belt and burned the insulation off the wires before it was discovered.

Gurney Lowman, of Millington was fined $100 and costs by Justice of the Peace Olin B. Stafford last week, for driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He ran his car into the machine of Thomas Keyser, of Baltimore, on the Massey-Millington highway. The Keyser machine was demolished. Lowman's car was only slightly damaged.

The diamond feud between Silverbrook M. E. Church, of Wilmington, and St. James Methodist Protestant Church, of Kent county, was settled here Saturday when the Delawareans won, 11 to 2. The stick work of Silverbrook did the trick. Silverbrook got going in the fifth with eight tallies. Prior to the game each team had won two games in a series. RAMS SELL HIGH

The public sale of pure bred rams at Centreville last Tuesday was attended by a good crowd and they sold well. The rams brought from $56 to $20 each. They were pure bred Shropshire and Hamshire stock. Among the buyers from Kent were H. S. Startt who bought five; Lester Carter, Mrs. Evelyn Harris, Miss Miriam Leaverton and Holt Woodall, who bought one each.

Senator Humphrey Wolfe, of Howard county, served as auctioneer. He is the President of Maryland Sheep Growers Association.

This was the first pure bred ram sale ever held on the Eastern Shore and was a success. It was held under the management of K. A. Clark, of the University of Maryland.

CHESTERTOWN SHIPS OVER MILLION CHICKS

A striking illustration of the fact that the baby chich business on the Dedmarvia Peninsula is rapidly becoming one of its chief sources of revenue is the oppreciable increase in the gross receipts of the local posoffice during the fiscal year ended June 30.

According to information furnished by Postmaster Bennett, the total receipts for the office for the twelve-month period is $25,725.88, more than $2,000 in excess of the receipts of last year, and which places the office very close to the first-class grade. For the quarter ended June 30, which is the heaviest baby-chick shipping period during the season, the total reciepts were $7,270.90, which exceeded any quarter's total in the history of the office, not excepting even the quarter in which the Christmas rush occurs.

At least $1,000 of this total was paid in postage of the thousands of chicks shipped by parcel post during the three months, as many as 22,000 being shipped in one day.

Since the beginning of the shipping season 1,300,000 chicks have been shipped by two hatcheries, which is more than twice the number shipped during the past year. It is estimated that by the close of the present month, which will virtually close the season, at least 1,500,000 chicks will have passed through the postoffice en route to all sections of the country.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

The Ford coupe driven by Walter Rawleigh was turned over at the corner of Maple avenue and Cross street last Saturday. The top of the car was torn off. Young Rawleigh escaped injury.

One of the supply trucks of the Crook's Stores turned over near Wye Mills on Monday seriously injuring the driver. One of his legs was badly mangled.

Two cars crashed together in Kennedyville and one, a Pontiac was nearly demolished. The father of Rollison Baxter, local Hearn Oil representative, was driving the Ford that was hit by the Pontiac. No one was seriously hurt.

The father and mother of George Edward Furbush, of Chestertown, with two of their grandchildren were in an automobile that was turned over in Queen Anne's county when struck by another car. Mr. and Mrs. Furbush were taken to Easton Hospital for examination. It was found that they were not seriously injured.

BIG SHOOT AT BETTERTON

The fifth annual trap shooting tournament of the Betterton Gun Club was held there this week. Some of the most noted marksmen of Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania, as well as from New York and the District of Columbia were present and some remarkable records made.

CHILD KICKED BY HORSE

The 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walker Lamb, of Morgnec, was injured last week when kicked by a horse. He was carried to Easton Hospital where it was found that his injuries were not as bad as first supposed and he is now at home.

The horse kicked or stepped upon the child leaving the imprint of its hoof upon the boys' head. He wandered away from the house and went to the stable where it is supposed he hit a 3-year-old horse. The lad was able to get out of the reach of the horse and when found was lying unconscious with a stick beside him.

Gill Bros. have started to manufacture their famous flavor of ice cream, fresh peach.

ELECTRIFIED MILK IS THE LATEST

Electrified milk, that is milk treated with electricity to eliminate the bacteria that is in the milk, is the latest in the treatment of this food even though it come from accredited herds, according to Dr. Arthur T. Davis, executive secretary of the State Board of Health.

For several years Dr. Davis has been following experiments begun in 1914 that have reached conclusion not only abroad, but in this country. One of the chief dificulties according to Dr. Davis, has not been in the ability to electrify the milk, but to do it cheap enough to bring it within commercial value. This stage has been about reached and there are several plants in the country either distributing electrified milk or building plants to do so.

Dr. Davis pointed out the need for this sterlization which is but a step farther than pasteurization. The electrical treatment of milk, he state, was really pasteurization in an advanced stage.

Even though milk should come from a herd that is tuberculin tested, that is from animals that are not tainted with tuberculosis, there is still the danger of the milk having typhoid and diarheal germs. For that reason, pasteurization such as is practiced now, or electric sterlization, which is the latest method, are needed to make milk free from disease.

The advantage of electrifying milk is that it practically eliminates all bacteria. Experiments have shown that in many instances less 2 per cent. of the bacteria remain in the milk after it has been sterilized with electricity. It is also claimed for this new process that certain vital elements o fmilk, usch as vitamins and a percentage of butterfat are not destroyed or lessened in any degree is a food furnishing way.

DEATHS

Capt. Wm. R. Coleman died at Easton Emergency Hospital on Tuesday morning where he had been a patient about two weeks. Thomas H. Casey, funeral director, brought the body to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Scott, in Skinner's Neck the same afternoon.

Mrs. Josephine Trenchard Gould, 81, widow of Wm. D. Gould, died at her home, the Rectory, in Cambridge, Tuesday night. Mrs. Gould was the daughter of William E. B. and Eliza Trenchard Faithful, of Baltimore. She spent the major portion of her life in Queen Anne's country, her parents moving there in her early childhood. She leaves two sons, the Rev. William Dunbar Gould, rector of Christ P. E. Church, Cambridge, and Dr. Clarence Penbroke Gould, formerly president of Washington College, Chestertown, and now professor of history and assistant dean of Western Reserve University. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Edwin S. Valliant, of Church Hill, and four grandchildren.

Joseph M. Jacob died Wednesday, July 6th, at State Sanatorium, aged 21 years. Mr. Jacob was a son of Mrs. William Kirschnick and leaves his mother, step-father, two sisters and two brothers, the latter are Mrs. Annie Gore, Mrs. Avery Ashley, Earl Jacob and John Kirschnick. The remains were brought to Rock Hall and funeral services were conducted by the Rev. T. S. Barrett in Piney Neck M. E. Church Saturday afternoon. The bearers were Charles Galaskin, Clarence Pierce Herman Kirschnick, Charles Bryden, Albert Bryden and Jorn Edwards. Interment in Wesley Chapel Cemetery. Thomas H. Casey, undertaker.

Mrs. Belle Long, of Pine Dale, Pa., passed away at the Fountain Spring Hospital, Ashland, Pa., on July 3rd. Mrs. Long underwent an operation on June 29th. She had the kind and loving attention of her husband and daughter. Mrs. Long is well known in Kent county as she was the daughter of the late Margarette and Edw. Faulkner. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband, Levi Long, and a daughter by a former marriage, Mrs. Herman R. Fligge, of New Ringgold, Pa., and too grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. John E. Matthews, of Chestertown, and Mrs. Henry Rosin, of Golt's. Funeral services were held in Freidens Lutherian Church of New Ringgold, Pa., interment was in Freidens Cemetery; Rev. John Smithinmer, of Plain Field, N. J., a former pastor of Friedens, preached the service; Undertaker Berkey had charge The pall bearers were Aug. Fligge Fred Fligge, Norman Schaffer, Wm. Gangloff, Aug. Bunner and Harry Eckroter.

MAY INCREASE TOMATO TARIFF

The Kent News has received word from Washington that the U. S. Tariff Commission has ordered an investigation to determine the advisability of increasing tariff on canned tomatoes. This action has been urged by the Tri-State Packers' Association with a large membership on the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula, in view of the steady importations of Italian tomatoes which have forced down the price of the domestic product.

MARION ARRIVES HOME

Marion deK. Smith, Jr., arrived home on Monday night from a two-months trip to Europe. He attended the Rotary Convention at Ostend, Belgium, as a representative from the Chestertown Rotary Club. He reports a splendid time. The Chestertown Rotary Club met him when he arrived on the train Monday night. On Tuesday night the Chestertown Rotary Club was entertained by Marion and his sister, Miss Ann, at a fine supper served on the beautiful lawn at their home on Washington avenue.

A NEW THRESHING MACHINE TRIED OUT

The new machine at the Gilder farm, Talbot, was tried out last week, but the grain was too green to handle with much success. On Tuesday last another was made and this time it is said the machine worked better.

By this one machine a farmer can cut his wheat, thresh it, and bag it as the machine goes along the field. This saves considerable expense in threshing and in hauling the straw back and forth from the field.

Kent county has conditions that are not found in the middle west, where the machine works to perfection. Here the close proximity to the water makes the air damp and more moisture is found. This keeps the wheat soft until it is dead ripe. In the Middle West this dampness is not present and by the time the grain is ripe the wheat is ready to handle.

Farmers in Kent are looking for something that will help cut down the expense of growing wheat. This machine is one of the things that is believed will bring about a lower cost of production, and the first one in this section of the county was watched with considerable interest by many.

WHEAT THRESHING THRUOUT COUNTY

Tough wheat threshing started the later part of last week in a few sections of the county it has now become general with the fine weather that has prevailed for the last week.

In some cases reports state that a few crops have been above the average, but as a rule the major number of reports show that the returns are a little below those of last year. It is hoped that when more definite reports come in that the results will show a big wheat crop.

Reports from other sections of the country state that considerable smut is present in the wheat, which with the short wheat crop accounts for the strong market.

WM. PHILLIPS AWARDED MACHINE AT MILLINGTON

William Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Ford Phillips, 618 Geddes street, Wilmington, was the holder of the lucky ticket which won for him an Essex super-six coach, at the Community Fire Company at Millington, last week. "Billy," with his mother, father and sister, Margaret, was visiting relatives at that place for several days. He is enjoying his car and wishes the fire company a successful future; Millington was the birth place of his mother.

The carnival cleared $900.

BOY BITTEN BY DOG

Robert Gitt, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle A. Gitt, of Allendale Road, Baltimore, while playing in the garage in the rear of its parents home, on Saturday last at noon was attacked by a bull dog belonging to one of the neighbors and painfully hurt. One of its hands was so badly chewed it required several stitches to be taken.

It is not known whether the dog was mad, but it was killed. The little boy is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Clark, of Chestertown.
