SERIOUS AUTO ACCIDENT FRIDAY WEEK IN CHESTERTOWN

Another frightful accident occurred on High street Friday evening shortly after 10 o'clock, in which Mrs. Mary Barnett, wife of Ralph W. Barnett, was seriously injured. She was crossing the street in front of Edgar Clark's home and was going to mail a letter in the box on the corner and had gotten but a few feet in the road when she was struck by a car driven by Joseph Russell. Mrs. Barnett is somewhat deaf and failed to se or hear the car which was coming down town in time to avoid the accident. Joe saw the lady and pulled into the curb but not far enough to prevent the rear of the car from striking her and knocking her to the street.

Young Russell immediately stopped his car, and assisted Polk T. Bramble and Jos. N. Wheatley to pick the injured woman up and carried her to the home of A. Howard Covey, where three physicians rendered first aid, and she was hurried to Easton Hospital in an ambulance obtained from Undertaker B. R. Fellows at Still Pond. Messrs. Bramble and Wheatley arrived on the scene in a car shortly after the accident as did H. B. Rote and others.

Ralph W. Barnett, husband of the injured lady, after five days of almost constant attention, was enabled to return home Thursday night. A telephone message from Easton yesterday reported Mrs. Barnett as improving slowly.

SOWING TREATED SEED WHEAT

About one-half of all the seed wheat sown in Kent county this fall will be treated with copper carbonate dust to control stinking smut, so treated is very rough and does not run through the drill as freely as untreated wheat. Drills differ as to their ability to sow treated wheat. Usually the indicator must be set at about one quarter peck more than is desired to be sown in order to sow the desired amount. For example, if one wants to sow six pecks, it is often necessary to set the indicator at seven pecks.

Perhaps the best method of setting a drill to seed the desired amount of copper carbonate treated seed wheat per acre is as follows: Measure the amount of wheat for one acre and put it in a sack. Put the same amount of wheat in each of three or four sacks. Before starting to sow wheat, set drill clock at zero. Set the seeding indicator. Put the seed from one bag in the drill and sow, noting the clock and seed. When the clock indicates one acre, check the seed in the drill, setting to seed more or less as necessary. Try another acre or so until rate of seeding is correct. Check rate of seeding in same way once or more during seeding to correct any variation.

Copper carbonate dust sifts into all the working parts of the drill. After the drill has stood overnight, turn the feed shafts with a wrench to free the feed wheels. This avoids possible twisting of feed shaft and breaking of gears. Such trouble is apt to occur during wet weather. It is better to provide a water-proof cover for the drill and to oil the gear bearings frequently.

Treated wheat cannot be used for flour or feed.

CHESTER OYSTERS FINE

Chester river oysters are in splendid condition, according to local watermen, and the cool weather of the last few days has greatly increased the demand considerably.

At Crouse's shucking house near Cliff City, a few miles below Chestertown, hundreds of bushels of bivalves are being shipped to markets throughout the North and Middle West, including Baltimore, Wilmington, Philadelphia and New York. At this port and other bay fishing centers it is reported that oysters were never better than they are today.

The Methodist Protestant parsonage at Kennedyville was sold at public sale Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Othoson for $1925.

BISHOP McDOWELL DEDICATES THE NEW M. E. CHURCH

Sunday's program proved to be the climax to a series of services held in the remodeled M. E. Church at Chestertown. It was on this day that the splendid building was formally dedicated in an impressive manner by Bishop W. F. McDowell, of Washington.

In the evening a special Epworth League meeting was held after which the Rev. Dr. W. W. Wilson, of Flushing, N. Y., delivered the sermon. Dr. Wilson is a former member of the Wilmington Conference.

The vested choir made its first appearance both morning and evening. It is believed the local church is the only Methodist Church on the Eastern Shore to have a vested choir.

The vestments that were dedicated were a gift to the church and were made by Cox Sons & Bining, New York City.

Following the dedicatory services officials of the church announced that practically the entire cost of remodeling the building, aggregating $65,000 has been provided for in subscriptions and cash contributions. More than $25,000 was raised at the Sunday services; the officials of the church at a meeting on Saturday afternoon doubled their original subscriptions, and quite a number of $1,000 subscriptions and lesser amounts were received from former members and friends of the congregation now living elsewhere. The subscriptions have ranged from $20,000 to $25. Among the memorial subscriptions received were, one for $1,000 from Mrs. Lydia T. Barrett Dawson, in payment for the handsome stairways leading from the firts floor to the auditorium, in memory of her former husband, the Rev. Dr. L. E. Barrett, for seven years pastor of the church; another for $300 from Mrs. Seth Ellegood, of Ossing, N. Y., a former member of the church choir, in payment for the vestments worn by the choir for the first time at the services on Sunday, and $300 subscribed by Mrs. John D. Urie, in the name of her deceased sister, Miss Idel Baker, in payment for the handsome pulpit furniture, in memory of her father, the late Chas. H. Baker, for many years one of the leading members of the congregation. Rev. Dr. Corkran, pastor, and the officials of the church are greatly pleased with the generous response on the part of members and friends of the church and the News joins in congratulations to all for this splendid accomplishment.

The Young Men's Bible Class taught by John N. Bennett, presented one of the large Chandeliers to the church, and the Ladies Luncheon Fund Organization presented the other. These handsome chandeliers cost $400 each. The Colonial Lanterns in front of the church were presented in memory of their mother. These lights cost $200.

The entire sum has been provided for by cash and subscriptions.

The church gave itself five years in which to raise the required amount but it is thought by members of the committee that the full amount will be in the treasury long before that.

Storm Does Damage In Kent And Elsewhere

High-powered wind that accompained heavy rainfall did considerable damage in Chestertown and rural Kent early Monday morning. Farmers were the main losers, and it is estimated that their crops suffered many thousands of dollars.

Corn was leveled by the wind, and late apples and pears were blown from trees. A barn on Eastern Neck Island was blown over.

At Church Hill a tree blown down fell across the home of Mrs. Clara Spry. A limb of the tree crushed through the wall of the house into the room where Mrs. Spry was sleeping, but fortunately she was not injured.

At the home of Levi Everett near Centreville a window was blown out in Mr. Everett's bed room and he was cut by some of the flying glass.

The furniture store of Nathans in the heart of the business section was almost destroyed by fire. A store on Isabella street was razed, and damage was sustained by fire at the huge warehouse of D. W. Perdue Auto Company and a residence on Division street.

Each of the fires was attributed by firemen to short circuit of wiring caused by the gale and driving rain. Throughout the city trees were levelled.

CHAS. H. BLANCHFIELD KILLED BY A FALL IN CHESTERTOWN

Charles H. Blanchfield, employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad at the local yard, met with an accident on Thursday which proved fatal. He was on a 12-foot ladder icing the passenger cars at the old depot near the Chestertown ice plant, when the ladder slipped and threw Mr. Blanchfield across the railroad track the blow striking his back. Dr. Hines was summoned and at once arranged for his removal to Easton Hospital where he died during the night.

The deceased was about 66 years of age, an industrious and honest employe and highly esteemed. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Hope Kent Blanchfield. The funeral will take place from his late home in Chestertown, at 2 p. m., interment in Chester Cemetery, Rev. N. O. Gibson officiating; C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

WEDDINGS

Miss Olympia Stevens, daughter of Walter Stevens, of Delaware Water Gap, and grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman, of Rock Hall, became the bride of Nelson LeCompte, Saturday evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. L. Hanby at his home in Fairlee. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Aileen LeCompte, sister of the groom and Otto Eierman. The young people will reside in apartments at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beauchamp LeCompte, near St. Paul's.

Rev. and Mrs. John W. Prettyman announce the marriage of their daughter, Julia Stansbury, to Norman Richard Touchton, Saturday, October 1st, 1927, at Zion, Md. The Rev. Pretyman was a former pastor at Rock Hall M. E. Church.

The New York Spur, a nationally known society journal in a recent issue announced the engagement of Miss Josephine Nelye Crisfield, of Savannah, Ga., to William Spencer Connerat, of the same city. Miss Crisfield is a sister of Mrs. Wm. T. Dixon, of Worton, Kent County, and is the daughter of J. A. Pearce Crisfield, formerly of Chestertown, but for many years a resident of Savvnah Ga.

A wedding took place at St. Martin's Church on Monday evening when Miss Marie Angela Lochboehler, daughter of the late Charles A. Lochboehler, became the bride of Thomas A. Elliott, of Baltimode.

The altar, a huge bank of flowers, lights and ferns, formed a background for the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Father Baldus.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Carl Lochboehler, and wore a Parisian gown of white satin and old lace and carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses. The bride's sister, Miss Catherine Lochboehler, was maid of honor and was dressed in an old-fashioned dress of yellow organdy over yellow satin and a large picture hat to match. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Lillian Murphy and the matron of honor, Mrs. Carl Lochboehler. Both wore old-fashioned dresses of green organdy over pink satin with picture hats to match and carried Columbia roses.

The best man was Frank Lochboehler, brother of the bride, and the ushers were Thomas V. Murphy and Howard Erdman.

After a reception at the Concord Club, Baltimore, the couple left for an extended honeymoon through the South.

The groom is the grandson of Mrs. Hallie Kelley, of Chestertown, and well-known here.

MRS. NEHUS FLED ASYLUM

Mrs. Marie Nehus, now in Spring Grove State Hospital, Baltimore, for observation, escaped from that institution Thursday afternoon. After roaming around for some time Mrs. Nehus was finally taken and is now in the hospital.

Mrs. Nehus was accused of setting the fire that nearly wiped out the little town of Church Hill not long ago. She was committed to the hospital for a mental examination and the authorities decided that she was unfit mentally to be allowed freedom.

She is the wife of Henry Nehus, of Eastern Neck Island, this county.

Business interests in the town are discussing seriously the advisability of the establishment of a central market in the town for the convenience of the large number of Delaware and out-of-town truckers.
