DUCK HUNTERS WAIT FOR SEASON

Owners of private ducking shores, as well as clubhouse owners, are anxiously awaiting the opening of the season for shooting wild ducks and geese on November 1. Judging from reports being received from Sassafras river, Rock Hall and Chester river shores, there is always a good supply of early ducks feeding along these famous gunning grounds.

For the past month or more owners of shores have been baiting them with hundreds of bushels of corn and wheat which has served to keep the ducks already in the bay and rivers from leaving and has attracted thousands of others. Many improvements have been made to the club houses and blinds during the past month and during the coming gunning season there will be several new clubs located in this and nearby Queen Anne's county.

A group of Baltimore sportsmen, headed by Stuart S. Janney, has leased the shore of the Miller Strong farm, on Chester river, which is being prepared with blinds and bungalow accommodations. Sportsmen from Wilmington and other cities have also leased shores in this and Queen Anne's county and sportsmen are anticipating a successful season.

On November 10th the season for shooting rabbits and partridges opens and the supply of each kind of game in the county is reported to be greater than for some years past. Resident gunners are charged a license of $1.25, Statewide license costs $5.50 and non-resident $15.50.

WESTERN GUILTY OF PERFORMING RITES ILLEGALLY

Richard P. Western, who was tried last month for performing a marriage illegally, was found guilty and fined $500 and costs in the Cecil County Circuit Court Friday.

The verdict was announced by Associate Judge Lewin W. Wickes, who, with Chief Judge William H. Adkins and Associate Judge Thomas J. Keating, presided at the trial.

Mr. Western showed no emotion and made no comment on the verdict. He was attended in court by his counsel, former State's Attorney Joshua Clayton. Mr. Clayton refused to state whether an appeal would be filed.

No Longer A Preacher.

The State's case was based on the allegation that Mr. Western's orders had been cancelled in 1921 by the Wilmington conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, after he had been found guilty of "commercializing the office of marriage."

Mr. Western at his trial declared that he believed he was still a regular minister of the gospel and exhibited credentials showing he was ordained in 1908 by a conference of the church in Northern Iowa.

Had No Standing.

In announcing the decision Judge Wickes pointed out that Mr. Western was under the jurisdiction of the Wilmington conference when his orders were canceled and that he therefore had no standing as a minister.

The judge also pointed out that all marriages performed by Mr. Western were valid under the law of Maryland, according to a decision of the Court of Appeals, which held ceremony legal when parties believed the person perforimng the marriages was duly authorized.

"How best can I trade in my present car for a new car?"

WHEN you are ready to trade in your present car for a new car, you naturally want full value for your present car. But most of all you want full new car value.

It will therefore pay you to consider varying trade-in allowance offers in the light of these basic facts:

1 Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value: i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.

2 Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.

3 The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.

4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.

5 First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car.

6 Remember that you are making a purchase—not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply using your present car as a credit against the new car's purchase price.
