HOW MRS. WEAVER WAS HELPED

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

As Mrs. Weaver herself says, "I was never very strong." This is a mild statement describing her condition for, according to her letters, she was subjected to no small amount of ill health. Fortunately, her sister was familiar with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged Mrs. Weaver to try it. "After three or four weeks," writes Mrs. Weaver, "I felt a great difference in myself. I would go to bed and sleep sound, and although I could not do very much work, I seemed stronger. I kept on taking it and now I am well and strong, do my work and take care of three children. I sure do tell my friends about your wonderful medicine, and I will answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Lawrence Weaver, East Smithfield St., Mt. Pleasant, Pa.

If you knew that thousands of women suffering from troubles similar to those you are enduring had improved their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, wouldn't you think it was worth a trial?

In some families, the fourth generation is learning the merit of Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Tempted Fate Too Often

Sam Patch was a lad widely known for daring leaps and dives. Born in 1807 in Rhode Island, he became a cotton spinner in Paterson, N. J. A jump from a bridge into the Passaic river brought him such notoriety that he traveled about leaping from bridges and diving from topmasts of ships. He was killed in 1829 when attempting a jump of 125 feet into the Genesee river.

Distance Lure

I have heard it said of a great painting, "Don't go too close to it." In order to get the best out of a picture view it in the proper light and from a distance. If you get too close to look you will realize the rough way in which it is made. . . . "I prefer (now) to also view women from a distance; never closer than four or five feet.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Electrocuting Criminals

New York was the first state to electrocute a man. The first criminal to be executed by electricity was William Kemmler, August 6, 1890, at Auburn prison. The "death chair," with its adjustable headrest, binding straps and adjustable electrodes, was devised by E. F. Davis, the state electrician of New York.

Keeps Something Back

"A truly wise man," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "is careful not to offend the ignorance of the crowd by pretending to know too much."—Washington Star.

The Likable Doctor

We have not a word to say against our great medical specialists, but personally we like a doctor who looks at our tongue, feels our pulse, says it's nothing organic and gives us something to cure it.—Ohio State Journal.

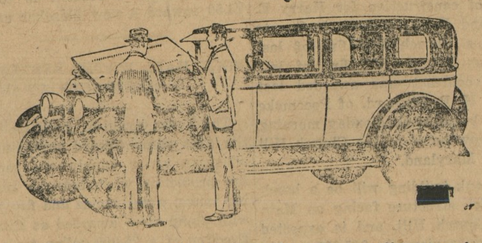

Building on Right

Let a man try faithfully, manfully to be right, he will daily grow more and more right. It is at the bottom of the condition on which all men have to cultivate themselves.—Carlyle.

Momentous Day in History

The first shot from American forces in the World war was fired by Battery G of the Sixth Field artillery of the First division on October 23, 1917, at 6:05 in the morning. The gun was placed in position 400 meters east of Barthlemont.

Only Buick has an engine Vibrationless beyond belief

BUICK'S remarkable freedom from vibration is due primarily to three vitally important factors. First—the inherent smoothness of the Buick Valve-in-Head six-cylinder engine. Second—rubber engine mountings, front and rear. And third—the scientific and almost perfect balance of the entire Buick crankshaft assembly.

Only Buick enjoys these advantages. And only Buick provides the silken performance—the unvarying smoothness at all speeds—the longer life and greater serviceability of an engine vibrationless beyond belief.

Camel

The cigarette that earned first place by its goodness

The greatest endorsement ever given to a cigarette is revealed by the fact that Government figures show that more Camels are being smoked today than ever before. An endorsement by the many—not the few.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.
