SUDDEN DEATH OF COLONEL HODSON

Colonel Clarence Hodson, millionaire banker and investment broker, died Friday in East Orange, N. J. His death is a great blow to Washington College as he showed his faith and love for the college in many ways.

As a member of the Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College he was very active for the college. Last year he gave the Schauber House, known as Hodson House to the college.

He was 59 years old. Members of his family said death was due to heart disease.

Colonel Hodson came into considerable prominence during the trial of Mrs. Margaret Thimpson Lilliendahl and Willis Beach for the murder of the woman's husband, Dr. A. William Lilliendahl near Hammanton, N. J.

The Colonel was a cousin of Mrs. Lilliendahl and was said to have spent between $30,000 and $40,000 for her defense.

He was quoted as having declared that he was ready to spend a million dollars to save the woman. She and Beach were sentenced to the State Prison at Trenton for ten years recently.

Colonel Hodson was chairman of the board of Clarence Hodson and Co., Inc., 135 Broadway. He was a widely known organizer of banks Among the institutions he founded was the Hammonton Trust Company which was established fifteen years ago.

Colonel Hodson's paternal ancestors settled in Maryland in 1864, but his parents later moved to Laurel, Del., where he was born on February 22, 1868. He attended the Crisfield high school and later was taught by private tutors. He was admitted to the bar of Maryland in 1889 and entered the investment and banking business in 1893.

He was commissioned a colonel on the military staff of Governor Lloyd Lowndes, of Maryland, in 1896. He also was an active layman of M. E. Conference. Colonel Hodson was married twice. His first wife, who was Sara M. Payne, died in 1898. He is survived by his second wife, the former Lillian M. Brown.

Colonel Hodson was a member of the American Bar Association, Southern Society of New York, Maryland Society of New York, governor of the Delaware Society of New York and a governor of Washington College.

President Paul E. Titsworth, of Washington College attended the funeral of Col. Hodson, in New York on Sunday.

Thieves entered the barn of John F. Wooleyhan, of near Sassafras, last week, and carried away nine shoulders. The thieves entered the barn where the meat had been salted by prying off a rear door. Mr. Wooleyhan heard his dog barking and made an inspection around his buildings, but did not discover the robbery until the following morning.

The thieves were evidently looking for hams and shoulders, as Mr. Wooleyhan found pieces of meat strewn all over the barn floor, and the intruders were likely disturbed when he arose and fired several shots.

ANNUAL REPORT OF CONTINENTAL AMERICAN INSURANCE CO.

How the Continental American Life Insurance Company has stepped forward in the past ten years was brought out in the annual report of President Philip Burnet presented at the annual meeting of Supervisory Representatives and of the Advisory Committee from the field sales force held at the Hotel duPont Biltmore on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week and which was attended by Frank V. Simpers, of this town.

Since 1917 there has been a lower death rate, net earnings have doubled business has quadrupled and the outlook for the future is exceptionally good. In speaking of the growth of this insurance company, which is the only concern of its kind having its home office, on the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula, located in Wilmington, Mr. Burnet said:

(President Burnett's Report is in type and will be published next week)

Tuesday, May 15, has been set for the County Field Day for the White Schools of Kent.

The Field Day for the colored Schools of the county has been set for Monday, April 16. Both events will take place in Chestertown.

In the past four or five shooting days the Ringgold Point Ducking Club has not fallen below 85 ducks a day.

Capt. Wallace Williams, Statt Commander of the American Legion will visit the Frank M. Jarman Post No. 36, on next Monday, all ex-service men are invited to be present.

"Colonial St. John's College," Annapolis, is the title of a splendid publication issued by this well-known institution. A commission has been named for the restoration and enlargement of the college on a large scale. A request for one of these books will be quickly granted.

The Court of Appeals heard the Chestertown Bond contest case Wednesday.

Plans are being made by well-to-do Federalsburg men to build a bakery in Chestertown near Culp's factory. They will receive a warm welcome.

Although the issuance of 1928 automobile tags in Maryland has not been nearly completed the State Automobile authorities have already selected the color schemes for the 1929 and 1930 tags. In 1929 the present colors will be transposed and the tag will have a white background with blue numerals. In 1930 the background will be of green and the numerals will be in white.

Th... Triangle Club of Christ M. P. C... held a pleasant meeting on ... evening at the home of Mrs. ... Gill.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE WINS TWO GAMES

Washington College won its first Maryland State championship game when it defeated Loyola College, on Saturday night at Evergreen 41-24.

Pulling away from their opponents in the last five minutes of the second half, and with Carrington on a scoring spree in the second half, the Flying Pentagon proceeded with such speed and precision that Loyola was practically helpless.

Dopson started the bombardment when, taking the ball from Giriatis on the first tip-off, he dribbled in and made the first score of the game. However, Loyola soon followed with a field goal and until the last five minutes of the first half the score was never separated by more than two or three points.

With five minutes to play, Coach Kibler substituted Jacobs for Usilton at center. Then Dopson and Cavanaugh began a scoring contest which, when the cannon sounded for half time, resulted in a 22-14 lead for Washington.

From the beginning to the end of the second half Washington had the upper hand and with Carrington popping baskets from all angles, the score was soon doubled at 40-20. Thruout the second half Loyola tried to take the shooting edge from Washington by roughing the game, but this attempt did not in the least bother Kibler's Colts who proceeded steadily to enlarge the score. With five minutes to play and a twenty-point lead, Coach Kibler sent in his Junior Varsity to finish the game and, when the final cannon sounded the score stood 41-24.

Dudley, of Loyola, was by far the outstanding player of his team altho he had been covered thruout the game by Cavanaugh.

Offensively, Carrington was Washington star while the substitution of Jacobs for Usilton was the turning point in the defense of Washington.

The line-up:—

WASHINGTON DEFEATS SALEM QUINTET

Washington College conquered Salem College on the local court on Wednesday night, 30 to 25, but it was only after an uphill battle in the second half that Tom Kibler's boys were able to capture the dtcision.

Flashing an attack centered about Kistler and Dodds in the first half Salem had a lead of 17 to 14 when the rest period rolled around. In the second half, however, Washington tightened its defense and yielded only eight points, while its own attack, with Giraitis and Carrington leading ran up 16.

In the presence of two disinterested witnesses, one on the truck and one on a car following the truck, it was found that the 1½ ton Ford truck had made 25.8 miles on one gallon of straight gasoline. In the speed test made about 50 miles an hour.

A quiet wedding took place Dec. 29, at the home of Hersey Hyland, Baltimore, when his mother, Mrs. Mary Katherine Hyland, formerly of Grasonville, and Harry W. Mr. and Mrs. Curlett left for Florida, where they will spend the rest of the winter.

ANNIVERSARIES

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Loller celebrated the anniversary of their marriage last Saturday evening, Jan. 14. About 80 guests were present, many of them having attended their wedding 25 years ago, and recalled that happy occasion. During the evening a collation consisting of chicken salad, Maryland biscuit, hot rolls, cheese, pickles, coffee, ice cream, cake and mints was served. Mr. and Mrs. Loller received many handsome gifts including linen, silver, cut glass, a clock, a bridge lamp and several checks, which only proved the esteem in which they are held. After several hours spent in pleasant reminiscence and a feeling of general good will the guests departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Loller many more happy anniversaries.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hicks celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage at their home here January 16th; only the immediate relatives being present. They have lived in Kent 47 years where the "Groom" is still actively engaged in business. Both have always been interested in church and community work. They have four daughters, one son, and three grand children, all of whom are devoted to them. A special feature of the occasion was the presence of Mrs. R. H. Hicks, a niece of the "Bride," who was formerly Miss Emily Nutz, of Talbot, the only one living who witnessed the ceremony in 1878, which took place at the home of the "Bride," near Claiborne. They received many tokens of remembrance, among them fifty-five dollars in gold, flowtrs and many articles, beside letters and more than fifty post cards bearing their message of love and best wishes. The final touch was given when in the evening their pastor, Rev. Dr. Corkran, hearing of the event came with several of their church friends to offer congratulations and best wishes. Thus ended the golden wedding day.

A parade which created considerable interest took place in Chestertown last Saturday afternoon. A big crowd were on the line of parade. The oldest and newest models of cars, together with the latest models in each were in line of two agencies. The parade passed through the principal streets of the town and ended at the public square where the models were on display for several hours. George H. Watts rode in his Ford 1910 model while Howard Baldwin's dodge had been run since 1915. A band consisting of Charles Miller, two sons, and Hyland Crew enlivened the parade with good music.

Some of Kent's watermen near Chestertown have been losing nets and the guilty parties were found in our neighboring county. It was a "family" affair.
