LOCAL NOTES.....

The appearance of a large number of crabs in the Chesapeake Bay during the past few weeks has led Swepson Earle, State Consedvation Commissioner, to predict that 1928 will be a record year.

During February Lankford School lead in attendance with 98.3 per cent; Skinner's Neck 96.5; Kennedyville 94.8; Betterton 97.4. Galena High made 92.2; Chestertown 90.7; Millington 89.6; Rock Hall 89.2.

The Rock Hall High School is making preparations to present their second Operetta "Miss Cherryblossom." on April 10, 1928.

E. D. Noll, of Queen Anne't county, and Claude Ireland, of Preston, Md., were each fined one dollar and costs following an automobile accident Tuesday afternoon on the Chester bridge. Corporal Jesse Bradley of the State Police force made the arrests. Each man accused the other of reckless driving. The machines were only slightly damaged.

A filling station operated by the Hearn Oil Company at the corner of Cross street and Maple avenue was robbed of $100 and a quantity of cigars and cigarettes Monday night before employes had arrived at the office. Local police and Sheriff J. T. Hadaway are now investigating the robbery. Entrance to the office was gained through a window, which had been forced. Several other business places in town have been robbed the past month.

The P. T. A. of Swan Creek School was highly honored on the evening of March 13th by the presence of Dr. T. B. Symons, of College Park. Dr. Symons' discourse covered a wide range of subjects intensely interesting not only to the farmer alone but to the entire community. Our county Agent, Horace B. Derrick, followed Dr. Symons with a short talk on seed corn, testing, etc., dairying and poultry raising.

A large chemical laboratory of New York has donated to the chemistry department of Washington College, a complete set of synthetic perfumes, flavors and oils. Professor Fox, department head, states that it is the largest and best collection of artificial perfumes on the Eastern Shore.

IMPORTANT MEETING

All farmers are invited to attend the regular monthly meeting of the Chestertown local of the Kent County Farm Bureau Wednesday, March 21, 1928 at 1.30 p. m., in the auditorium of the Chestertown High School. Mr. Oldenburg, agronamy specialist of the Extension Service of the U. of Md., will be with us, and we hope to have a very instructive program. The one act play "Bread" will be presented which brings out more forcefully what the farmer is up against.

The Kent County Court room is being improved by a new coat of paint by M. Elwood Baker and force and a beautiful new floor covering of Armstrong's dark gray battleship linoleum which will greatly add to its dignity and appearance. G. E. Noland and Son, the local merchants, were awarded the contract in strong competition with several large city stores. The room has been also equipped with up-to-date electric light fixtures by Owen C. Smith and all who have seen the improvements are loud in their commendation of same. Judge Lewin W. Wickes deserves the thanks of all for his interest in procuring the changes.

The Kent County Board of Education is asking for bids for the erection of an addition to the high school building at Galena, made necessary by the overcrowded condition of the present class rooms. The addition will cost between $8,000 and $10,000. Work will begin during the summer.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of The Peerless Fertilizer Company in regard to top dressing your wheat and why it pays to fertilize your corn, and how essential it is to feed your asparagus crop with the proper kind of plant food that is particularly adapted to the growth of asparagus. FANS BANQUET 1927-28 BASKET BALL TEAM

The 1927-28 Washington College basket ball team, "The Flying Pentagon" were given a banquet on Thursday evening last by the "Fans." About 55 persons were present. H. Stockton Startt was toastmaster. short talks were given by W. B. Copper, J. Thomas Kibler, Bobby Cavanaugh, "Gimp" Carrington, Manager Moore, Dr. Hughes, Dr. Titsworth and Dr. Cottam, of Swarthmore. The banquet was served by Leo King and the waitresses were the young ladies from the Triangle Club of Christ M. P. Church. The guests were Coaches Kibler and Brown, Manager Moore. Cavanaugh, Carrington, Giraitus Jacobs, Dopson, Usilton, Norris, Alexander, Stevens, Burke.

CHESTERTOWN HIGH PLAY OXFORD TEAM

Despite its defeat at the hands of Elkton two weeks ago the Chestertown High School basketball team will continue in the race for the State title. The Elkton game was not recognized because it was not officiated by a P. A. L. referee.

The Chestertown five played last evening of this week at Centreville a game with Oxford.

Easton and Oxford played for the Talbot County title and Oxford won. With Elkton withdrawing from the race the winner of the Oxford and Chestertown game will more than likely meet the Salisbury High five in the finals for the Eastern Shore championship.

The Eastern Shore winner will mingle with the champions from the other side of the bay for the State title.

TOMATOES GROWERS TO VIE IN OUTPUT TEST

Many Kent county farmers are enrolling in the "Ten-Ton-Tomato Club," in a contest launched by the Maryland Extension Service to promote the growth of tomatoes in greater quantity and quality .

The extension service states that greater yield and better quality is absolutely essential to the future prosperity of the canning industry of Maryland.

All growers qualifying for the contest, and securing yields of 10 tons per acre or less than 15 tons, will receive a bronze medal. Fifteen to 20 tons per acre, a silver medal; 20 tons or more per acre, a gold medal.

Three State-wide prizes will be awarded as follows: Highest Maryland yield, gold watch valued at $100; second, gold watch valued at $75, and third, gold watch valued at $50.00.

County Agent Derrick will assist all growers with advice and counsel at all times.

TRUCK AND DRIVER FALL INTO CHESAPEAKE BAY

A portion of the big pier of the Ericsson Eteamboat Company at Betterton gave way Friday under the driving force of a heavy east wind and rainstorm, causing the Ericsson Line truck which carries freight between Betterton, Chestertown, and other towns, to fall overboard. Elmer Atwell, the truck driver, went overboard with the truck, but succeeded in getting out. Much of the freight on the truck was damaged by water. Considerable difficulty was experienced in getting the truck from the bay.

Arrangements have already been made by the Ericsson Company for the erection of a new and larger pier. It will be constructed so that trucks can run out on the end of the pier where a 35-foot wide space will be built to take care of passengers and trucks. Work will begin at once.

Marion Cann, colored, was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction Tuesday night on the charge of carrying a gun.

THE NEW FORD CAR

MOTOR

The new Ford Motor has a large and effective oil strainer surrounding the oil pump, in a protected location inside the crank case, but easily removed for cleaning or inspection. It requires no outside oil pipes, that might develop leaks and cause failure of the oiling system. The pump is at the very bottom of the crank case, where it is always submerged in oil, and as the oil pump is protected against clogging or damaged by the oil strainer, there is practically no chance of breakage. There is no misleading oil gauge to give a false assurance of safety, when actually one or more of the pipes leading to the bearing is clogged. The Ford oil pump is capable of 80 pounds hydraulic pressure, though with the large oil pipes of the Ford system, it only uses a couple of pounds.

The oil pump is of the gear type which gives the positive feed, the most essential function of an oil pump. Being submerged in oil, it can be counted on to last the life of the car.

The cam shaft is of notably strong and sturdy construction to prevent torsional vibration, which might cause inaccuracy of valve timing at high speed.

The simplicity and low cost of maintenance (as compared to chain drive) is retained, while absolute silence and greater durability of the gears is insured by the fact that the cam shaft gear is now of Bakelized fabric.
