M. E. CHURCH NOTES

The M. E. Sunday School, Chestertown, held its missionary Sunday evening. Mrs. Harry Fowler has charge of the program which included a splendid address by E. K. Mohr on Missions. Mrs. Walter Bramble gave a reading and the Misses Jewell sang a sweet duet. The collection amoutned to $484.16 for the year. Herbert E. Perkins' class of ladies won the banner with $57 which was presetned by Rev. Elmer Bennett, of the College.

Among the delegates from Kent to the Lay Electorial Conference of the M. E. Church to be held in Wilmington March 30 and 31 are the following from the various churches: W. B. Copper, B. F. Rash, W. T. Hadley, R. J. Taylor, Mrs. Maggie Vansant, E. M. Starr, Tilghman Hubbard, H. B. Moore.

Dr. W. F. Corkran, will extend an invitation on behalf of the official board of his church, for the conference to meet at that place in March, 1929. As no other invitations have been received so far, and it is the custom for the conference to meet down the Peninsula when the Lay Electorial Conference is not in session, the invitation will likely be accepted.

Easton M. E. Church has called Rev. Mr. Greenfield, of Wilmington.

The By-Kota Club will meet Monday evening at the home of Miss Mary Covey, to be entertained by Miss Covey, Miss Ermya Jewell and Miss Ella Hicks.

Russell McMenamin and solo by Mrs. Fred. G. Usilton.

MARYLAND SCHOOL MEET DATES

Washington College athletic authorities has announced the schedule for the spring track and field meets to be conducted by the Playground Athletic League of Maryland in the several counties and leading up to the State Olympics in June. The finals for the Eatsern Shore championships will be held on Washington Field here.

The completed schedule has been received by collegiate authorities from WilliamS. Pitman, state field leader of the playground association. The Baltimore city meet will be staged June 5 and the State Olympics, June 8. The two latter events will be held in the Baltimore Stadium. Only winners in the varous county meets will be eligible to compete in the State-wide meet. The gross number of participants in the county inter-scholastic meets, it is estimated, will be in excess of 40,000.

A new game, called "hitball," will be introduced for girls. It is modeled along the lines of sprintball and speedball. The game will be tried out for the first time in the county elimination contests. Among the schedule of meets are these: May 14, Cecil; May 15, Kent; May 16, Queen Anne's; May 17, Caroline.

Every room in each one,two and three or more teacher schools in Kent County, except three one teacher schools, has reached the standard set and has placed in its school this year a $20 library. It is expected, however, that they will yet reach the goal and make Kent County 100 per cent in library equipment for this year.

At the meeting of the Town Relief held at the home of Mrs. Horace W. Reed Tuesday night the following officers were elected for the year: President, Mrs. G. C. Rote; vice president, Mrs. Horace Reed; secretary and treasurer, Miss Daisy O. Barnes. A large attendance was present and two new members were added. During the past three months the society has given $25 on the ambulance fund, also helped four needy families.

Radio listeners were surprised to hear WFBR Station in Baltimore address the Chestertown group on Thursday. They sent out some fine music.

Norman Findley, the architect for the Chester River Yacht and Country Club golf course, has returned to Chestertown and work on the course has been started.

The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company answered an alarm from the farm of Edgar Wallace, near Harmony, around 7 p. m., on last Saturday. The blaze was a straw stack which endangered the building on the farm. Another alarm was sounded Thursday for a chimney fire on Kent street.

CROUCH-ASHLEY BIG FORTUNE

The Kent News' report of the big fortune awaiting the Bryden-Crouch-Kilpatrick heirs has created considerabel interest among its readers and these families. It is surprising how large these families are growing to be. We are glad to give further news of this great prospect.

Some months ago an advertisement appeared in a Baltimore newspaper inquiring for the heirs of David Ashley who had married Ann Enrich. Mrs. Addie Ashley Casey, of Rock Hall, who had been active in tracing the Ashley ancestry, at once replied to the advertisement at the New York address and gave undoubted proof of direct descent from David Ashley, who was the forefather of Isaiah.

A hundred and eleven years ago David Ashley left a will putting his two-thirds share of the Astor-Enrich Fur Co., in the control of his partner and friend, John Jacob Astor, as long as the latter should live, and further providing that at the end of a hundred years his estate should be divided among his legal heirs.

That time expired eleven years ago and today there is an immense fortune awaiting distribution. The bulk of it is in New York City, with some Boston, Mass., and in Pennsylvania. The case will be in the New York Courts next month and it is hoped that our Kent and other Maryland people will soon be in possession and enjoyment of this money that has waited so long for the legal owners The money in New York will be distributed to the heirs according to New York law.

OVERLOADED TRUCK FINED $146

A fine of $146.50, the largest fine ever imposed for hauling overloaded trucks over Kent county main highways, was imposed Saturday upon Harry White, president of the White Transportation Company, of Baltimoer. It was the third offense.

Five cents per pound of overload was imposed. The company operates motor hauling trucks from this town to other Shore communities and to Baltimore. An appeal was taken.

Officials of the newly organized Associate Association of the Volunteer Fire Company are gratified with the responses being made to the appeal through the News for new members as well as for the payment of dues by those people whose names have already been published as members of the old inactive organization. At the weekly meeting of the company on Monday evening 13 new applications were received and quite a number of member dues were paid bringing the total number of new members well on the road to 100. The membership committee makes an especial appeal to every one interested in the Fire Company to join this new movement. You may send your name and $3 to J. S. Kreeger or James Kirby.

KENT'S DAIRY PROBLEMS ARE NOW VERY VITAL!

of our milk from an untested herd could be put on the Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh or Chicago markets. The tuberculin testing is the first step in culling. Replacing some of these cows with the best cows obtainable is the second step. The third is to keep a record of the weight of milk produced by each cow, morning and evening, which may be totaled for each month and for the year. This will give the exact amount of milk produced by each cow and will enable the dairyman to do the culling. Sheets to keep these weights will be supplied on request, free of charge, by the County Agent. Feed companies are also giving out sheets for the same purpose through local feed dealers. The fourth way of culling has proven of great value wherever followed. It is the Dairy Improvement Association, formerly known as the Cow Testing Association. In such an organization, 25 dairymen band together and employ a man to keep milk, butterfat and feed records of each cow in the herd.

Profitable dairying in Kent county may be built up by applying the following:

1. Healthy herd.
2. Purebred sire, backed by production records.
3. Adequate equipment.
4. Good pastures.
5. Feed legume roughage. Also silage if practicable.
6. Grain feed to balance roughage.
7. Plenty of clean fresh water.
8. Keep records—cull out unprofitable cows.
9. Regularity in feeding, watering, milking, attention and good management in general.

Finally, when one has developed a fine tuberculin free, high-producing herd and is master of a profitable dairy business, the satisfaction of it all is great. The difficulties become easy chores and worries vanish as a cloud in the sky at night, and one by one the stars break through in their splendor, with Hope and Joy anew. We have only to look around Kent county to see examples of Master Dairymen, operating a profitable dairy business with satisfaction. Not only is the dairyman contented, but the successful dairy business means contentment to the wife and family. At the same time, Kent farms, long becoming depleted by grain farming alone, are being restored to profitable fertility, through dairying. A profitable agriculture is being built up in Kent.

Top Dress Your Wheat

If there ever was a spring when wheat needed a top dressing, it is this one.

As a rule wheat fields are green by the middle of March —but not this year.

We have made up a special brand for top dressing wheat, and it is made of such materials that are adapted to this crop as well as the grass crop that follows.

We recommend using a ton to ten acres, so a good idea is try a few tons and mark it off and see for yourself.

FOR CORN

Use our Special Corn Fertilizer. Corn is a good price; you fertilize your wheat why not your corn as it requires plant food as well as any other crop.

ASPARAGUS FERTILIZER

We also have ready for immediate delivery to your barn an Asparagus Fertilizer that makes it grow faster as well as increases the shoots from the crowns, which makes this a very good investment. We recommend one ton to the acre.

Phone 20 and your goods will be delivered the same day you call.

CASE COMBINE HARVESTER

A PRODUCT OF THREE GENERATIONS

The Sign of Outstanding Quality in—Tractors
Threshers
Combines
Silo Fillers
Hay Balers
Skid Engines

Also—
Grand Detour Plows and Tillage Tools

Back of the Case Combine, which is now revolutionizing harvesting methods, are three generations of human effort, ingenuity and experience.

All the experience gained in all the grain fields from remotest Russia to southern Argentine, together with the vast engineering and manufacturing knowledge and facilities of the largest manufacturer of grain threshers in the world, have gone into Case Combines.

There are thousands of Case Combines in use today. They have established a new standard in mechanical efficiency and perfection, applied to farming.

There are essential mechanical features that make Case Combines outstanding—in operation; in the saving of grain under all conditions; in ability to do fast work; in simplicity and easy handling; in unfailing dependability and long life. These are exclusively Case features. They are the result of three generations of experience of the largest builders of threshing machines in the world.

BE SURE TO SEE CASE COMBINES.
