BASKET BALL SQUAD ENTERTAINED BY COACH KIBLER

On Thursday evening the Washington College basket ball team were the guests of their coach, J. Thomas Kibler. Besides the squad those present were Dr. H. G. Simpers, Coach and Mrs. Phil Brown, Prof. W. R. Howell and Graduate-Manager, Fred Dumschott.

A most delightful dinner was served by Mrs. Kibler after which those members of the squad making their letters were presented with sweaters given by the Athletic Association.

The evening was spent as a congenial get-together and everyone enjoyed it immensely. Everyone pledged their support, to Captain-elect George Carrington, for the 1928-29 season and all are confident that the next season will be more successful, if possible, than the past one.

300 COWS SENT AWAY

Dr. Turner, the State veterinarian has been in the Second District testing the past ten days. He found a large percentage of cows badly infected and over 300 cows were shipped by train to Baltimore for slaughter. One farmer lost 31 out of 42, while others asked that their whole herd be wiped out.

A delegation of farmers from near Kennedyville accompanied the shipment of cattle to the city and it is hoped they will thoroughly investigate the procedure.

MEETING FOR DAIRYMEN

A very unusual program for dairymen will be presented at the Armory in Chestertown, Md., Monday, March 26th, beginning at 9 a. m. and ending at 3 p. m., promises to be a rare program, in fact, the only one of its kind ever presented on the Peninsula.

The name of this program is the Delmarva Dairy School. The school will be in charge of some of the outstanding dairy cow authorities in the United States.

The serious part of the program will be, of course, be educational, but there will be amusement periods which will help to make the day an enjoyable one as well as a profitable one.

The school is open to every dairyman in Kent and Queen Anne's Counties, and from response already received a large attendance is expected.

At the beginning of the meeting each will be given a pencil, note book and text book. This will remind us of the good old days. The books can be used for registering any ideas that can be taken home and used at once or later.

The big problems of the dairymen such as production costs, reproduction of quality stock, the marketing of products are constantly being studied. At this meeting the problems of every corner of the barn yard will be freely discussed. Every dairymen in Kent and Queen Anne's Counties who is interested in the dairy cow and dairy business should arrange to attend this well planned dairy school.

THE "RIVERSIDE" HOUSE IN RUINS

Edward M. Wilkins, who lives near Chestertown, while on his way home, from town about ten o'clock Saturday night saw a blaze on "Riverside" farm. He continued to the place and found the kitchen ablaze. There was no one about the premises and being unable to get in the house went to his home and called up Chestertown. The Fire Company soon arrived but could not save the elegant home. Fortunately the wind was away from the stable and other outbuildings.

The property is known as the "Riverside Farm" and was one of the finest estates on the Chester river. It was owned by W. P. Crenshaw, of Baltimore, and tenanted by J. Cordrey Loud, who lives in his town house in Chestertown during the winter months. The farm was in the care of a colored family Wesley and Sue Derry, who occupied the rear portion of the mansion, but who were absent at the time, having come to Chestertown to visit friends.

This house, one of the finest and oldest country residences in Kent county, for many years was the home of Col. Edward Wilkins, who was known as the "Peach King" of this section of the peninsula. Mr. Crenshaw bought the farm several years ago for over $50,000. He recently sold 110 acres to Wm. D. Hines, Jr. for about $18,000.

The blaze appeared to have started in the kitchen. The building was two stories and built of frame. One year ago fire destroyed some of the out-buildings on the place.

There were $12,000 insurance on the house and furniture. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

CHESTERTOWN P. T. A. HAS GOOD RECORD

The Parent-Teacher Association of Chestertown Elementary School has spent over $500 during the past year in improvements to the school, according to Mrs. C. S. Shakespeare, president.

Regular meetings of parents, teachers and friends of the school have been held, and the next meeting will take the form of a joint conference between the association and the Public Health Association of Kent County. A speaker will be engaged from the State Department of Health.

Lights have been installed in all school cloak rooms by the association and running water has been secured for all of the lunch rooms. A slide for the playground has been purchased. Stoves have been placed in the lunch rooms and many library books have been bought for four of the school rooms.

Women active in this work are Mrs. Shakespeare, formerly of Smyrna, Del.; Miss Laura Thomas, vice-president; Mrs. Leonard Needles, secretary, and Mrs. Wm. Bell, treasurer.

Hot lunches are now being served to about 90 pupils of the elementary school here through the Parent-Teacher Association. Farmers' wives are contributing chicken and other edibles for this purpose. The hot lunch system has just been inaugurated.

The Chestertown High School graduating class has chosen as the play to be presented at their annual performance this year, "The Charm School." This is a royalty play and one of the best plays that local talent has ever attempted. Rehearsals for the play will soon begin under the direction of Prof. Owen C. Blades.

"The Goose Hangs High" the comedy presented by the Swarthmore players at Washington College last Saturday evening was well attended. It was a fine play.

Reuben Jarmar, of Morgnec, is delighted because his 11 cows passed the tuberculin test, and after two tests, his herd was given a clean bill of health. Mr. Jarmar lives o nthe Wood farm.

C. Albert Rawleigh has sold his property on High street extended to the Amico Oil Co., of Wilmington, Del. It is understood that this company will erect a gasoline and oil filling station on the site.

A Choral Club is being organized in Chestertown and Mrs. Wheeler has consented to assist. It is a good idea.

The Easton local papers state that it is not possible to finance a seven day Chautauqua in Easton at this time. It looks now like there will be no Chautauqua there this year. Chestertown is ahead of our neighbor as we have signed up for a 7-day program as usual.

DEATHS

Mrs. Simmons, wife of Dr. H. Benge Simmons, died at her home in Chestertown Friday night following a long illness of a complication of diseases. She was before marriage Miss Cordeia A. Jeremiah Baker Chapter of the organization in Cecil county and was its only regent. She was also prominent in the activities of Old Kent Chapter and the W. C. T. A. in Chestertown. Aside from this activity she has taken a keen interest in bringing about other reforms. She was a lover of the pure and chaste in life and in her home she reigned with queenly grace. She and the Doctor walked hand in hand thru life which rainbows of promise stretched across the sky and in their hearts throughout the year the joy-bird sang each day.

Mrs. Simmons is survived by her husband and an adopted son, Walter Simmons. Funeral services were held at the home on Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Dr. W. F. Corkran, of the M. E. Church, assisted by Dr. N. O. Gibson. Interment was made in the churchyard in Principio.

He was the husband of the late Laura Hepbron. He is survived by his father, William Hepbron, of Lynch, and the following children: Percy M., Walter J., Harry H., Ida Louise, Archie R., Wm. E. Mr. and Mrs. Wirts were spending the winter in Baltimore and were at their home near Rock Hall a couple of weeks about the first of February. She leaves also two stepsons, Walter Wirts, of Rock Hall and Charles Wirts, of Baltimore.

KENT COUNTY HAS A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

SENATOR S. SCOTT BECK ENTERS RACE FOR NOMINATION TO HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES IN WASHINGTON—PRIMARIES MAY 7TH—HIS MAKES THE THIRD ENTRANT.

The Kent News with pleasure endorses the candidacy of State Senator S. Scott Beck for the House of Representatives from the First Congressional District of Maryland. He announced his candidacy last Saturday and filed in each county.

Every Democratic voter in Kent will have the opportunity of helping nominate possibly the first Congressman ever elected from the county. In as much as there will be no other local candidate aspiring to this office it is hoped that Mr. Beck will be given a rousing majority in his home county.

T. Alan Goldsborough, the present Representative and J. H. C. Legg former State Senator from Queen Anne's county have already filed for the primaries.

Senator Beck's name has been mentioned on several occasions as a possible candidate and his special fitness noted.

Mr. Beck has been prominent in politics in Kent county since his graduation from the University of Maryland Law School in 1907. His first political office was that of State's Attorney for Kent county, a position he filled in an able manner from 1920 to 1927.

In 1926 he was elected to the State Senate from this county, and winning in the Primary and election after a hard fight.

In the General Assembly at Annapolis Senator Beck has played a very prominent part and won for himself many friends and supporters. It was mainly through the efforts of Senator Beck and his associates from Kent in the House of Delegates that the Chesapeake Bay bridge bill was passed. Many bills in the interest of Kent county and Kent interests were put through the Legislature by Senator Beck.

His practical work on all matters of interest to the fish and oystermen is appreciated and these men will roll up a big vote for the Kent countian.

Mr. Beck is 45 years old and a native of Kent county. He comes from a family long identified with the political and social leadership of the county.

He is the president of the Chestertown Bank of Maryland and is secretary to the Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College. Mr. Beck is an alumnus of the college, and has served on its board for a number of years. He is a member of the Chestertown Rotary Club.

Senator Beck will wage an active campaign in all of the nine Eastern Shore counties comprising the First Congressional District.

It is expected that he will stress in his campaign the interests of the farmer and watermen, two classes for which he has been particularly active.

Our Senator has an excellent chance of gaining the Democratic nomination. If he is nominated and elected he will be the first Representative to Congress from Kent county. Records reveal the names of several who have served in the Senate from Kent but none could be found who had been members of the House.

Encouraging news from Queen Anne's and Cecil, neighbors of Kent, have already been received in favor of Mr. Beck's candidacy.

FOUR CANDIDATES FOR POSTMASTERSHIP

The United States Civil Service Commission has notified the Kent News that there are four applicants for the position as postmaster of Chestertown.

In addition to the present postmaster, John N. Bennett, Wm. G. Smyth, A. Parks Rasin and Charles N. Satterfield have made application for the position.

Mr. Bennett's term expired in January. It is not thought that an appointment will be made until after the primaries.

CHESTERTOWN HIGH DEFEAT OXFORD HIGH

Chestertown High School defeated Oxford of Talbot county in an exciting basket ball game at the Armory in Centreville Friday night, the score was 31 to 19.

This game was an inter-county game and gave Salisbury and Chestertown the right to meet for the Shore championship.

The Chestertown boys displayed a fine brand of basket ball while their team was not as polished as it might have been team work was much in evidence, the Chestertown lads made the Oxford boys fight every inch of the way. E. Sinclair and L. Horleman played clever ball for Oxford while Russell and Lewis were the outstanding performers for Chestertown.

Chestertown's line-up was Joe Lewis, Jos. Russell, D. B. Ford, Jr., Fred. G. Usilton, Jr., Charlie Harris and Alfred Hodgson.

Downie Bros. Circus will open it's season in Havre de Grace on Saturday, April 21. Workmen are busily engaged at the Winter Quarters in the work of brightening up the equipment so it will look spic and span when the mile of trucks go out on the road. The work of getting things in shape is under direction of James Herron, manager of the show.

CHESTERTOWN LOSES TO SALISBURY HIGH 26-12

Salisbury had no difficulty in defeating Chestertown in Easton Wednesday afternoon in the basket ball contest for the championship of the Eastern Shore by the score of 26 to 12. From the first, Salisbury scored and kept in front all the way. At the end of the first quarter the score was 5 to 0.

Fouls were numerous, but few goals from foul were made compared to many chances offered. Russell was the largest scorer on fouls, making four and being forced to retire.

Ward led his teamates in goals, counting four times from the floor and once from foul.

Lewis, of Chestertown, scored two goals from the floor, leading his team The players on both sides seemed nervous at the start, and were too eager to shoot.

By defeating Chestertown, Salisbury plays the winner of the Western Shore game on Saturday night.

The seventh annual Eastern Shore declamation for high schools will be held in the auditorium of William Smith Hall, Washington College, Chestertown, on Friday evening, May 18. Representatives from the nine counties of the Eastern Shore of Maryland will compete.

The Literary Society of Chestertown High School held an open meeting. The program was entertaining to the good audience. Harry Kirby presided and made a "hit" with his opening statement. Edgar Lipscomb's trombone selections, the male quartette, the numbers by Miss Jewell and Miss Brice and the sketches together with the orchestra were all enjoyed. The proceeds were for the benefit of the school paper.

Another slag road is to be built in Kent by the County Commissioners and Henry W. Catlin. Mr. Catlin agrees to furnish the slag and the county will do the work. This road is near Betterton and will be about 4 miles.
