THE NEW FORD CAR

TRANSMISSION

The new Ford car has a standard selective sliding gear shift transmission with three speeds forward and one reverse. The transmission is the same as used in the Lincoln car except a smaller size. All of the gears and shifts are of chrome alloy steel, heat treated to give hardness. The countershaft is carried on roller bearings, these bearings being selected because of their extreme efficiency in carrying radical loads such as are exerted on these gears. For the same reason roller bearings are used in the connection where the drive shaft joins the spline shaft, as the load there also is radical. Ball-bearings are used for the bearings on which the drive and spline shaft rotate, because of their effectiveness in carrying radial loads to which there is a certain amount of end-trust. The reverse idler is carried in bronze bushings. The transmission in the new Ford car equals if not exceeds that of any other car made today.

DRIVE SHAFT

The drive shaft originally designed by The Ford Motor Company used by most of the finest cars of America and Europe, is retained in the new Ford Model A car. In the new car the drive shaft is large and exceptionally strong and the seamless all steel torque tube, in which it is encased likewise is large. The universal joint also has been made larger to withstand the high torque of the new engine, and radius rods, both front and rear are strong and sturdy. The universal joint housing is of steel forging, making it both lighter and stronger that the malleable iron casting.

Ask your boy what he likes about it. He'll tell you that the knickers are cut just full enough; that the lapels have the right slant, and the pockets enough depth. That's the verdict of the many boys who got them here.

And when it comes to wear—they stand up under rough treatment as sturdily as your boy does. Colors are practical; Scotch mixtures, browns, greys, blues.

IT PAYS TO FERTILIZE A CORN CROP

Did you know, it pays to feed your Corn better than most any other crop, particularly with our regular Corn Fertilizer, that is especially adapted to its growth and maturity.

One of the requisites is to apply a sufficient quantity say: 350 lbs. to the acre, which is the amount used by the most successful Corn growers.

All of the County Agents and agronomists over the Country are now advocating the use of fertilizers on your Corn, as it not only increases the yield from 15 to 20 bushels more than the unfertilized, but also improves the quality, in that one user claims, he has now 50% more merchantable corn, than he used to have, before he commenced using fertilizer.

I know of one man, who bet his Son, it would not pay to use fertilizer, as he never had, they each put in a field, the young man fed his and the old man lost his bet, TRY IT.

For Tomatoes

Use Our Peerless Tomato Fertilizer, this has been on the market for years and many of the most successful Tomato Growers, will use no other.

We had one customer, who grew 19 tons to the acre a few years ago, with our goods and we will be pleased to supply you.
