NEW SCHOOL IDEAS OUT WEST

A department of mental hygiene is included in the program of the Los Angeles schools. It comprises a phychological clinic, counselor service, special classes for different types of typical children, special teaching material for such classes, and a demonstration nursery school.

A "charm class" for the cultivation of good manners, taste in dress, voice, good English, and other attributes of personal charm that are of practical importance to business and professional women, has been organized in the night school of Lafayette Junior High School, Los Angeles, Calif.

Etching has been added to the senior course in art in Lincoln High School, Cleveland, Ohio. When introduced two years ago pupils were without adequate facilities for the mechanical processes, but equipment supplied recently by the board of education has enabled the class to do some very effective work.

Vocational classes to the number of 354 have been organized in 77 of the 82 counties in Mississippi. Of these classes, 163 are for the study of agriculture, 106 for home economics and 85 for trades and industries. Enrollment last year of day, part-time, and evening pupils in vocational classes 7,603.

Steps have been taken by the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States for improvement of library facilities in secondary schools of the South. Library standards for accredited secondary schools have been adopted and specific professional requirements were set up for school libarians.

A 3-acre playground has been set aside for use of Chinese children of Los Angeles. Parents and children cleared the lot, and the playground department installed playground equipment, including a swimming pool. The children attend public schools during the day, and in the evening receive instruction in Chinese language schools.

An extensive labor library is maintained by the University of Wisconsin. Frequent contributions are made by graduates of the university. The library is growing by the addition of labor newspapers, original manuscripts of labor leaders, current bulletins of trades-unions and other organizations, theses o nlabor questions and the like.

Supervision of the health of children from birth to 5 years of age, as well as during the school period 5 to 14 years, has been brought about in Middlesborough, a manufacturing and seaport town in Yorkshire, England through cooperation of the education committee and the child welfare committee.

Coast Call Benefits Representative Kahn

Talks to California While Her Opponent Argues in House

United States telephone users now make more than 3,000,000 toll calls daily. Operators shown making connections.

The speed with which transcontinental telephone calls are now being completed was emphasized just recently when Representative Florence Kahn at Washington used the long distance telephone to good advantage in defeating an amendment to the shipping bill then under consideration in Congress.

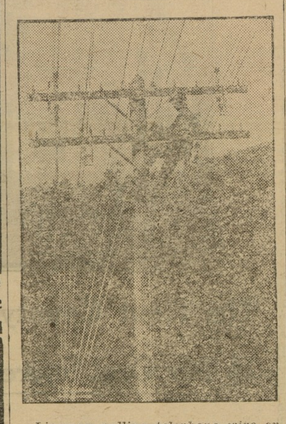

Mrs. Kahn, according to the Associated Press, learned during the consideration of the White shipping bill by the House that an amendment was to be offered to force the employment of Americans in the steward departments of Pacific liners. Less than 15 minutes later while Representative LaGuardia, of New York, was offering the amendment she was seeking the opinion of her constituents on the Pacific Coast over long distance.

"It would drive American commerce off the Pacific," they told her. "Americans cannot withstand the climatic conditions of the tropics."

When Mr. LaGuardia took his seat after discussing his amendment for 10 minutes, Mrs. Kahn presented California's contentions. The amendment was defeated by a vote of 44 to 51.

Transcontinental telephone calls are now being made over any one of three routes and quick service is obtained by the recent establishment of direct transcontinental circuits extending from coast to coast.

TELEPHONES INCREASE 8000 SINCE DECEMBER 31

Lineman pulling telephone wire on recently constructed line.

Telephones in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia are increasing steadily. Since January 1, 8,000 stations have been added to the system of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company and Associated Companies, officials state. There are now about 570,000 telephones served from the 287 central offices in this area.

To provide circuits for connecting additional telephone stations and toll trunk lines between central offices, the Company plans to place about 100,000 miles of additional aerial wire in the plant during 1928.
