METHODIST LEADER FOR SMITH

Dr. E. T. Devine, Head Of American University, Favors Governor On Law Enforcement.

Dr. Edward T. Devine, dean of the American University Graduate School of Washington, a prominent Methodist institution, will support Governor Smith, of New York, for the presidency. In a statement made public here today, Dr. Devine gave his reasons for his decision.

Dr. Devine is a Republican and a dry. In dealing with the prohibition issue, he said that he had no fear whatever that under Gov. Smith the dry laws "will remain as disgracefully unenforced as they are now."

"Both Gov. Smith and Herbert Hoover have exceptional qualifications for the presidency," said Mr. Devine. "Hoover has also, however certain serious disqualifications. He has been identified with the administration upon which scandalous disgrace has fallen through the misconduct of Fall, Daugherty and Forbes, and, as far as the record sohws, he did nothing to aid in exposing the scandal against their astounding knavery. The second item on the debit side of his account is that, as Senator Robinson has shown, he has prevented, more than any other man any serious attempt to do justice to the farmer.

"Mr. Hoover has no objection to using the government as an aid to business and to labor. He believes that the social welfare is a legitimate object of government action. He is for the tariff and for aiding manufacturers in finding world markets for their goods. But commerce includes the marketing of agricultural as well as manufactured products.

"The failure of the administration for eight years to bring forward and to press with energy constrctive measures of farm relief, its stubborn refusal to experiment in this field as we have long experimented with the protection of manufacturers, the insulting denunciation of sincere attempts in this direction in an executive veto of which Hoover approved are fairly chargeable to the Secretary of commerce as well as to the president.

"Governor Smith is an able, experienced and resourceful executive. He has a genius for administration, for constitution making; for detecting and exposing rascality; for finding a solution for new and difficult problems; for growing constantly to meet new emergencies, new epochs of human prograss.

"Educators find that Alfred E. Smith is interested in education; social workers that he is interested in the relief and prevention of poverty in the humane care of the sick and disabled; in the rational treatment of criminals; business men that he is sympathetically interested in prosperity and sound business methods and farmers will find that he is intelligently and fruitfully interested in practical measures for their relief.

"I lived in New York for thirty years. Hughes and Roosevelt have been governors of that State within that period. I have great admiration for both of them. Yet I have no hesitation in declaring, as many better judges have declared, that Alfred E. Smith is far and away the best governor we have had in the three decades.

"His grasp of finances, of administration of legislation, is unparalleled. His integrity is above suspicion, his freedom from subservience to any political or ecclesiastical authority has been abundantly demonstrated.

"As to prohibition, I have been a life-long dry, both personally and politically, but I have no expectation that the dry laws of the nation will be relaxed during his time, and I have no fear whatever that they will remain as disgracefully unenforced as they now are."

Directors of Emergency Hospital, Elkton, announce that on October 8 there will be an election of five directors whose terms expires at that time, and to name another director to fill a vacancy. Dr. S. D. McConnell, G. Elbert Marshall, Mrs. Lawrence Chaffinch, all of Easton; Owen Knotts of Caroline county, and Marion deK. Smith, of Chestertown, are the directors whose terms expire. J. Harper Skillin, of Easton, was named to fill a vacancy until the next election and a successor to him will be chosen. August was the greatest month for the hospital, as far as receipts are concerned, when nearly $5,000 was received. The directors have just purchased several thousand dollars' worth of new equipment and the affairs of the institution are in a flourishing condition.
