SCHOOL CENSUS IS NECESSARY

The biennial school census must be taken in the fall of the current year in accordance with the following extract from the Maryland Public School Laws: "The County Board of Education shall, subject to the direction of the State Superintendent of Schools and to the rules and regulations of the State Board of Education, cause to be taken, under the direction of the County Superintendent, a biennial school census of the children of the county between the ages of six and eighteen inclusive, and the County Superintendent shall cause, upon the direction at any time of the State Sueprintendent of Schools, the whole or any part of any school census of his county to be retaken."

Why have a school census? It serves a number of valuable purposes among which the following may be listed as the most important:

1. The compulsory attendance law guarantees to every child the right to an elementary school education for its own protection is requiring a stricter compliance with the provisions of the compulsory attendance law. A complete school census with a careful follow-up of those not receiving instruction, is the only means of insuring that each child receives the education to which he is entitled and which society demands of all its younger members so that they may become worth while citizens.

2. The school census insures the entrance to school of children approaching the lower limits of the compulsory attendance ages, thus preventing overageness and retardation due to late entrance.

3. The census of children six to fourteen years is necessary in the distribution of State school funds. Two thirds of the general school fund not assigned to any special purpose is distributed on the basis of the school census, while the remaining third is distributed on the basis of aggregate days of attendance. In Kent County, the census and attendance fund amounts to approximately one-half of all of the State aid. The total amount received from the State by this county approximates one-third of all money spent in the county for the maintenance and operation of its schools. It is very important, therefore, from the standpoint of the taxpayer that every child be included int he school census and that those children of school age attend school regularly throughout the school year.

4. The census provides the basis for planning a general building progrom and adequate facilities in the first grade, if pupils in the younger age groups are enumerated.

Who shall be enumerated? It has been decided that the enumeration shall include children not only of ages six through eithteen years as required by law, but also those under six years of age. The following reasons explain the inclusion of children under six years of age:

1. Principals will know more exactly the number of beginners they may expect the following school year.

2. Parents may be notified in June that their children should be vaccinated before September first so that late entrances will be avoided.

3. Information will be available for the doctors and nurses in charge of the Child Health Clinics who seek to have remediable physical defects removed before children enter school.

4. The County Superintendent will have at hand data upon which to base requisitions for desks and other needs thus avoiding delays and inconveniencies to teachers.

Who shall take the census and when? The teacher's knowledge of the homes in the community in which her school is located is valuable to herself in dealing with her pupils and to the county in the census enumeration. Arrangements, therefore are being made for the public school teachers to take the census. All of them will be given definite boundaires within which to work, and all of the territory within the county will be assigned. They will need all the assistance that can be given them by the patrons of their respective schools not only in the way of prompt and courteous compliance with their requests for the information needed but also in transportation facilities. School patrons who own automobiles will have a good opportunity to assist the teachers by furnishing them means of transportation to the homes. It is hoped that every teacher in the county will receive onc or more offers of such assistance before Monday and Tuesday, November 12 and 13, 1928, on the afternoons of which dates the school census is to be taken.

THE PROUDEST TITLE

Charles Evans Hughes, former Secretary of State and Republican candidate for President in 1916, presenting Governor Smith to the New York City Bar Association on March 3, 1928, described him as "one who represents to us the expert in government and, I might say, a master in the science of politics.

"If we had the customs of other lands, he would long ago have been elevated to the peerage. But we do better than that. He long since became a member of high distinction in the fine aristocracy of public service. We have watched him, some of us carefully, all with fascination. The title that he holds is the proudest title that any American can hold, because it is a title to the esteem and affection of his fellow citizens."

In his speech accepting the Presidential nomination Governor Smith said:

"The President of the United States has two constitutional duties with respect to prohibition. The first is embodied in his oath of office. If, with one hand on the Bible and the other hand reaching up to Heaven, I promise the people of this country that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States and to the best of my ability preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States, you may be sure that I shall live up to that oath to the last degree. I shall to the very limit execute the pledge of our platform to make an honest endeavor to enforce the 18th Amendment and all other provisions of the Federal Constitution and all laws enacted pursuant thereto.

"The President does not make the laws. He does his best to execute them whether he likes them or not. The corruption in enforcement activities which caused a former Republican Prohibition Administrator to state that three-fourths of the dry agents were political ward heelers named by politicians without regard to Civil Service laws and that prohibition is the 'new political pork barrel,' I will ruthlessly stamp out. Such conditions can not and will not exist under any administration presided over by me.

"I believe in temperance. We have not achieved temperance under the present system. The mothers and fathers of young men and women throughout this land know the anxiety and worry which has been brought to them by their children's use of liquor in a way which was unknown before prohibition. I believe in reverence for law. Today disregard of the prohibition laws is insidiously sapping respect for all law. I raise, therefore, what I profoundly believe to be a great moral issue involving the righteousness of our national conduct and the protection of our children's morals.

"Certainly, no one foresaw when the amendment was ratified the conditions which exist today of bootlegging, corruption and open violation of the law in all parts of the country. The people themselves should after this eight years of trial be permitted to say whether existing conditions should be rectified. I personally believe in an amendment in the 18th Amendment which would give to each individual State itself only after approval by a referendum popular vote of its people the right wholly within its borders to import, manufacture or cause to be manufactured and sell alcoholic beverages (light wines and beer), the sale to be made only by the State itself and not for consumption in any public place.

"There is no question here of the return of the saloon. When I stated that the saloon 'is and ought to be a defunct institution in this country' I meant it. I mean it today. I will never advocate nor approve any law which directly or indirectly permits the return of the saloon.

"Such a change would preserve for the dry states the benefit of a national law that would continue to make interstate shipment of intoxicating beverages a crime. It would preserve for the dry states Federal enforcement of prohibition within their own borders. It would permit to citizens of other states a carefully limited and controlled method of effectuating the popular will wholly within the borders of those states without the old evil of the saloon.

"Such a method would re-establish respect for law and terminate the agitation which has injected discord into the ranks of the great political parties which should be standing for the accomplishment of fundamental programs for the nation. I may fairly say even to those who disagree with me that the solution I offer is one based upon the historic policy of the Democratic party, to assure to each State its complete right of local self-government. I believe it is a solution which would today be offered by Jefferson, or Jackson or Cleveland or Wilson, if those great leaders were with us."

BIGOTRY

Herbert Hoover regards in silence the most malicious and un-American demonstration in our history; accepting apparently the support of the bigots, the fanatics, the ignorant and the hired slanderers. What would Theodore Roosevelt have done?

Writing to J. C. Martin of Dayton, Ohio, in 1908, Roosevelt, a Republican President, a true American, declared:

"You say the mass of voters will not support a man for office, especially for President of the United States, who is a Roman Catholic. I believe that when you say this you foully slander your countrymen. I do not for one moment believe that the mass of our fellow citizens, or any considerable number of our fellow citizens, can be influenced by such narrow bigotry."
