Stock Turkeys FOR SALE

For 8 years Baker's Bronze Beauties have been bred, fed and cared for to produce the highest quality stock and show birds. Each year we are building up a stronger disease resistance and heavier egg laying strain. In any business you get no more than the quailty you pay for. You pay only a few dollars more for our stock than you do for stock that has been raised principally for slaughter.

We again have 1,000 birds to select from and we have had no epidemic or sickness in our four flocks. Neither did we lose 350 turkeys during a windstorm in the early summer, as some of the papers said we did.

Gobblers from $20, Pullets from $15, all well bronzed birds of large size. Have a few birds with poor colors in their feathers but just as large and as healthy as any for $15 per Gobbler and $12 for Pullets.

Four unrelated blood lines to select from.

Show Stock quoted on request.

KENT CO.-TURKEY

A Great Turnout Of Farmers And Others To Visit The Turkey Farms In The County--Mrs. Biggers, Mrs. Jervis And Mrs. Baker Raise Big Flocks.

The second annual turkey tour and field meeting on Thursday far exceeded last year's gathering and comprisd representatives from many of the Eastern States, as well as practically all sections of the Delmarva peninsula.

The tour began on the farm of Mrs. Mary E. Biggers, near Millington, where 600 fine stock breeders are being matured.

From this point the tourists journeyed to the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jervis, at Still Pond, where a half hour was spent in viewing the largest flock of turkeys raised on the Eastern Shore and probably in the State and which presented a magnificent sight.

At noon the party arrived at the farm of Mrs. Harold M. Baker, the pioneer of turkey growing on a large scale on the peninsula. Here a luncheon was served by the women of the Kent County Health Association for the benefit of the new hospital.

When the afternoon program began it is estimated that fully 1,000 people were present. The welcome was delivered by Dr. Thomas B. Symons, Director of the State Extension Service.

Mrs. Baker and her husband discussed raising, marketing and cost of production.

Other addresses were made by W. G. Smyth, secretary of the country farm bureau, "Value of Grading Marketing Turkeys;" "turkey breeding" by County Agent Horace B. Derrick, sponser for the tour and the man in Kent county largely responsible for the development of the industry in Kent to its present profitable state and other expert speakers.

Mr. Derrick, with the co-operation of the farm bureau, will seek to so develop the industry here until Kent becomes the leading section of the United States in successful and profitable turkey growing. Whenever the county of Kent is mentioned it should recall the delicious turkey.

Washington College gave Mount St. Mary's quite a battle, Saturday, holding the Emmitsburg eleven scoreless in two periods. It was the exhibition Washington has given this year, but as usual lack of weight and experience proved too much of a handcap. Mount St. Mary's pounded its way to two touchdowns against stubborn opposition by the little Shoremen. The third was the result of an intercepted foward pass. The score was 19 to 0.

Joseph Staymen, of Keyser, West Virginia, Governor of the 34th District of Rotary International, met with the members of the Chestertown Rotary Club, at Maplehurst, last Friday at 12.30. The Chestertown club is a member of the 34th district. Governor Staymen was favorably impressed with this section of the country on his first visit to these parts.

The ducking season in Kent county opened Friday morning at sunup.

At Hale Point the marksmen accounted for 38 of the water fowls and at Ringgold's Point the duckers gathered 19 birds. At other shores the results were also gratifying.

On Monday the gunners at Cedar Point brought down 50 ducks and stopped shooting at noon.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Kennedyville School will hold a plate Supper in the School Building Saturday night, Nov. 17. Supper served at 5 o'clock. Adults 50c children 35c.

The Parent-Teachers' Association of Millington School will meet Wednesday evening, Nov. 14th at 7.30 p. m. All are asked to come representing the title of a book. Prize will be given for most unique representation.

Following a meeting last Saturday of the board of governors of Washington College, it was announced that several projects concerning the expansion of the institution are under consideration. One of these is the erection of a men's dormitory to accommodate 300 students. Col. Hiram Staunton Brown, New York business man and head of the governing body, presided.

KENT GOES DEMOCRATIC FOR CONGRESSMAN BY 871

Gives Hoover 418 and Helps Elect Gov. Phillips L. Goldsborough by 179—Defeats $25,000 Jail Bond And Gives A Majority Against Increase Pay To Legislaturemen.

Kent county voters numbering about 5,000 out of a total of 6898 went to the polls Tuesday and expressed their sentiments. This is a short vote when the totals from other sections is considered. There were no disturbances and the vote easily handled by the election officials.

Worton gave Smith 26 and Fairlee 28, but outside these two precincts the voters vied as to how much they could pile up Hoover's majority. Pomona gave 74 majority, Millington 14, Galena 49, Edesville 13, Chestertown 83, Rock Hall 120, Betterton 130 and Kennedyville asked to be counted on the Hoover side with 1 majority. Notwithstanding these figures Alan Goldsborough received 872 majority, proving that the electorate certainly know for whom they want to vote.

The proposition to bond the county for $25,000 to make needed repairs to the jail was defeated as was also the amendment raising the pay of legislaturemen. The official vote follows:

A Clean Sweep

It is the cleanest sweep which any national party has achieved since the disfranchisement of the South immediately following the Civil War.

At that, Governor Smith received by far the heaviest popular vote ever accorded a Democratic candidate for the Presidency, a vote which probably will exceed 13,000,000, and which will approximate that cast for President Coolidge in the 1924 contest.

The failure of the Democratic nominee to register more heavily in the Electoral College is accounted for by the fact that this year's total vote ran far in excess of 30,000,000, more by from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 than ever before polled in a Presidential contest.

The election with regard to prohibition, indicated very clearly that the drys are numerous and well organized.

Although sectarianism, prohibition and other contributing factors aided Mr. Hoover in smashing the South as it has not before been smashed by a Republican candidate, there is no sound reason for believing those traditionally Democratic States carried by him are Republican at heart or will long remain in the Republican column.

The chances are that the last one of them will be found voting for the next Democratic candidate for the Presiednсy. This is indicated by the fact that Democratic local tickets, with the exception of a handful of Congressmen, were elected by majorities that were decisive and in some instances normal.

Nor has the party at large been more than shakn by the sweeping Republican victory of Tuesday. It has lost eight members of the United States Senate, perhaps a score of seats in the House, but it has lost only one candidate for Governor --- Hunt, of Arizona.

Against this is the circumstance that Franklin D. Roosevelt has been elected Democratic Governor of New York by a safe if not by a wide margin. And, of course, there is the gigantic popular vote given Governor Smith.

In the Congressional fights two Republicans and four Democrats were eelcted. The only upset was the victory of Linwood L. Clark, Republican, over Representative William P. Cole in the Second district.

Representative Frederick N. Zielman was the other victorious Republican. He defeated David J. Lewis by a majority of about 10,000, carrying every county in the district.

Representative T. Alan Goldsborough defeated A. Stengle Marine by the small majority of 670.

In Baltimore, Representative J. Charles Linthicum was reelected for his tenth term by a safe majority. Representative Vincent L. Palmisano was the victor over John Philip Hill by a margin of 328 votes.

The Southern Maryland counties and South Baltimore reelected Representative Stephen W. Gambrill for his third term.

The Constitutional Amendment in cre[illegible]w of the Legis[illegible]

Samuel D. Keedy, Republican, was the victor in the fight in Washington county for a vacancy in the State Senate, defeating John T. Mason, Democrat.

Only two counties showed Smith majorities. St. Mary's gave the Democratic nominee a majority of 1,388, and Queen Anne's gave him 35 more votes than it gave to Hoover.

"I Have No Regrets."

The Happy Warrior will put off his armor soon; after a quarter century in the din and the smoke of battle Al Smith will sheathe his sword and hang up his buckler. He is smiling though.

"I certainly do not expect ever to run for office again," he said slowly, "I have had all I can stand of it. I have given a quarter of a century of probably the best of my life to it. I will never lost my interest in public affairs—that is a sure thing. But as far as running for office again is concerned, that's finished.

"I have no regerts of any kind over this campaign. None at all, I have nothing but pleasant memories of it."

PHILADELPHIA CHAPTER TO MEET

One of the livest sections of the Washington College Alumni Association is the Philadelphia Chapter.

This group of boosters is to hold its eighth annual meeting and dinner on Friday evening, November 16th, 1928, at 6.30 p. m., at the Meridian Club, 200 South Comax Street, Philadelphia.

The Chapter is planning a homey get-together and invites every alumnus of old Washington, together with wives and husbands.

This invitation is particularly extended to alumni living in Chestertown and vicinity who should notify Miss Maude O. Hickman, 4128 Parkside Avenue, Philadelphia, at once in to secure reservations. The of the dinner is $2.25 per per-

TWO FIRES THIS WEEK IN KENT

Twenty-one hundred "broilers" were destroyed in a fire which burned the large poultry house on the farm of Lemuel Hickman, near Betterton, early Thursday. The place was ablaze when the fire was discovered and Mr. Hickman is at a loss to account for its origin.

He states that there had been no fire in the poultry house for two weeks, but that he had been missing some of his chickens and he believes thieves might have dropped a match in the straw in the house, thus setting fire to the building.

The chickens were ready for shipment next week and were valued at narly $2,500. The loss is partly covered by insurance of $3100 in W. Belt Townsend's agency. The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company responded to an alarm, but the building was in ruins by the time they reached the scene.

Hot ashes caused a fire Monday afternoon at the home of James T. Dixon on Queen street. These ashes were emptied so near the lattice work of the back porch by the colored help that the wood was ignited.

Neighbors saw the smoke, notified the firemen who were soon on the job with two engines.

The fact that the main part of the house was of brick and the roof on the summer kitchen of tin was largely responsible for the fire not spreading to the arrival of the firemen. Streams of water were played on the blaze from two sides.

A large tree, with branches overhanging the summer kitchen, also took fire. It was extinguished by the firemen after the house blaze was under control.

The extent of the damage is covered by insurance. The summer kitchen addition to the house was a total wreck.
