LOCAL NOTES.....

Old Kris letters will appear in the News next week.

"Nell," a pet Spaniel dog, belonging to Howard Strong, Jr., was killed by a passing automobile Wednesday evening on Washington avenue.

The ladies of Betterton have presented "The Rev. Dayton Up-to-Date" at two places with great success. They will likely show at Kennedyville sometime in January. Watch for date.

The game division of State will be compelled to confiscate all muskrat meats in possession in Maryland, prior to January 1st, and will prosecute the person having same in possession.

John Wells is another reputable colored citizen of Chestertown. He has been employed regularly for 37 years at the Massey& Wilmer factory and is as regular as clock work. He is married, has two children, and an active member in Bethel A. M. E. Church.

Business Manager James W. Johns of Washington College attended the annual meeting last week of the Association of the Business Officers of the Colleges and Universities of the Eastern States, held in Amherst, Mass. Before returning he examined the business organization and procedure of Amherst, Smith, and Massachusetts Agricultural College.

Next Sunday week, December 23d, the congregation of Rock Hall M. E. Church will dedicate a handsome pipe organ, the parts of which were donated by a prominent congregation in Reading, Pa.

At the monthly meetign of the Mayor and Council of Middletown, it was decided to reduce the light rate for the town, to become effective on January 1. The present rate is 15 cents per kilowatt. It will be cut to 13 cents. Council has assured the residents that another reduction will take place later.

As a result of a day's shooting this week the club at Ringgold's Point killed 90 ducks, Grey's Inn Club 90, and Cedar Point Club 48. Whifflers, blackheads and canvasbacks are in evidence on the Chester River and Chesapeake Bay at Rock Hall and other sporting centers.

The Thanksgiving dance of the Washington College Cotillion Club was held in the college gymnasium Friday evening. The chaperones were Senator and Mrs. S. Scott Beck, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Metcalfe, Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Simpers, Miss Genevieve Boland and Dr. T. H. Fowler. The decorations were in charge of the committee, which is composed of James P. Marvel, '29, chairman, William B. Usilton, 3rd, '29, Walter T. Morris, '29, C. Irving Coulbourn, '30, Franklin K. Cooper, '30, and Kennon Perrin, '31. Music was furnished by George Kelley and his Delawareans.

The Old Kent Chapter D. A. R. held its regular meeting December 8 at the home of Mrs. H. H. Klinefelter, with the Regent, Miss Frances E. Stuart, presiding. The Regent gave a report of the State Board D. A. R. meeting at Hotel Belvedere on December 4th. Miss Katie H. Trew attended the dedication of the Flag House in Baltimore and gave a very interesting account of it. Dr. Esther M. Dole, presented the Museum project of Washington College History Class. Refreshments were served by the hostess and the meeting informally adjourned.

DELAWARE SEASON OPEN

The muskrat season in Delaware opened December 1, and the catches have been very satisfactory, trappers state.

Catches of 20 and 30 "rats" per day have been reported by some of the trappers during the first few days. Few hides have been sold yet, so that the opening price is still undetermined. The meat is selling retail in the local market at 15 cents each.

Some of the best grade hides caught on the peninsula have been taken from marshes near Delaware City during the past three or four years. The "rats" that used to be taken from the marsh of William P. McConnell along the Delaware City-Port Penn road near Delaware City were said to have been the largest and had the best fur ever taken from any marsh around that section. McConnell's marsh was flooded a year ago, however, and the rats taken from there now are not quite so large as formerly.

ANOTHER ROOM ADDED TO HOSPITAL

Due to the urgent need fo rmore room in the Kent County Hospital, the Hospital Board rented a fifth room in the Rodney building. This gives accommodation for eight patients and still leaves a long waiting list of those who are anxious for treatment. With the growth of the hospital demands are being made for the removal of tonsils and adenoids.

It has been necessary to raise the rates after January 1 to meet the added expense and the hospital nurse's salary. The rate has been $7.00 for nursing service, the use of the operating room, either and bed for twenty-four hours. This sum has proved inadequate and will therefore be increased to $10.00. The surgeon's fee is a matter between the surgeon and the patient.

The County Health Nurse, Miss Margaret White, of Prince George's County, and a recent graduate of Garfield Hospital, Washington, D. C., arrived on December 3rd and immediately began her county duties. It was found necessary to replace the Kent County Public Health Nurse's car which had been in constant use for three years, with a new Tudor Ford Sedan. The nurse's route lies over many of the dirt roads of the county and makes its trips in all sorts of weather under conditions that shorten the life of a car considerably. It was considered advisable to get a sedan rather than the coupe, as before, in order to accommodate patients for the Claiborne Preventorium or any of the hospitals in the nearby cities.

A card of thanks and appreciation is appearing in all the county papers thanking the many contributors for their gifts to the hospital. Up to the present time it has been impossible to thank each contributor personally as the work in connection with the organizing of the hospital and its subsequent rapid growth has been overwhelming Every contribution, no matter what its size has been, has been greatly appreciated and it is hoped the donors will accept this form of thanks.

Due to the increase in the value of marsh lands during recent years, marsh owners in Delaware have been looking up their deeds and titles and having their marsh lands surveyed

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. John H. O. Stokes, of Bettertown, Kent county, announce the marriage of their daughter, Jean Cyrille, to John Tennis, of Washington, D. C., Saturday, Dec. 8. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. Vincent Fitzgerald, of St. Stepen's Catholic Church and was followed by a breakfast at the Washington Golf and Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. Tennis left later for Florida and Cuba, and after January 15 will be at home at 3026 Porter St., Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Hurlock, of Cambridge, Md., announce the marriage of their daughter, Mildred Adele, to Carlton Sard, also of Cambridge, to take place on Wednesday, December 26.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Edmondston are announcing the engagement of their sons, Robert F. Edmonston to Miss Margaret Roop, and William O. Edmonston to Miss Helen B. Mallonee, both young ladies are from Baltimore. Date for the weddings have not yet been set.

On Sunday at 2.30 p. m. Otto F. Eierman and Aline LeCompte were joined together in Holy Matrimony in the M. E. Parsonage at Fairlee by the pastor, S. L. Hanby.

THREE KILLED-

Three persons were killed late on Tuesday afternoon when a Pennsylvania Railroad train struck their automobile, from which they were distributing advertisements for a "Santa Claus Day,, at School House Crossing, Goldsboro, four miles from Greensboro.

The dead:

William T. Keating, 59, manager of stores at Denton and Centreville and former Treasurer of Queen Anne's county.

Miss Hazel Towers, 23, assistant manager of the stores.

Charles Conyer, Negro chauffeur.

No Warnings Alleged.

The accident occured at a grade crossing on the Clayton and Oxford branch of the Wilmington division. Witnesses said there was no watchman or signal bell.

Conyer attempted to cross the tracks as the train, an extra superintendent's train not on the timetables, reached the station. The automobile, a sedan, was hurled several yards, killing the occupants instantly and spreading "Santa Claus" literature for the store over the roadbed.

Mr. Keating, a member of an old Maryland family, was prominent in the business, social and political life of the Eastern Shore. He is survived by five sisters—Mrs. Graham Watson, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Margaret K. Aldridge and the Misses Nannie, Martha and Matilda Keating, all of Centreville.

Miss Towers is survived by her mother, Mrs. Mabel Towers, of Denton; two brothers, Claude and Lester Towers, and three sisters, the Misses Edith, Thelma and Winifred Towers.

The bodies of Mr. Keating and the chauffeur were sent to Centreville and that of Miss Towers to Denton.

The following item will show that Kent is not the only place where dogs kill sheep: "Dogs Saturday got into the sheep pen of Alex Dyott on the Richbottom farm of James P. Elliott on the Choptank rives; five miles from Easton and killed fourteen sheep and injured four others so badly that they had to be killed. Nearly all of of the sheep were with lambs. The loss is put at $300."

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NOTES

Henry Newnam Shure, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin F. Shure, of Chestertown, was severely hurt on Wednesday when one of his playmates accidentally hit him in the face with a golf stick while at play. Dr. Frank B. Hines took several stitches in the little fellow's face.

Before leaving for this trip they bought "Sunnyside" farm on the Wye River owned by Mr. Embert in Queen Anne's. They preferred a place in Kent but none was available.

Miss Bahnie Wedekind, librarian at Washington College, who suffered a stroke of paralysis ten days ago in her apartments at the home of Mrs. Harry R. Graham, was taken to Newark, Del., in Wm. T. Hicks' ambulance, accompanied by her mother and a trained nurse from Easton, where they took an express train for Chicago, thence going to her home in California, which she expected to reach this week. Her condition was slightly improved when she left here.

Mark Perkins is greatly improved after a week's illness.

Capt. Joshua Thomas. of Rock Hall, has been quite ill,but is now improved. His wife won a small automobile at a local store Saturday night.

L. H. P. Vansant is confined to his home on Kent Circle by illness.

Mrs. W. B. Willis is in a Baltimore hospital for an operation.

By the will of Marcus J. Asher, who died at the home of his sister, Miss Pauline Asher, in Rock Hall, last week, Hebrew charities in Baltimore are bequeathed $1,000 and the sister is left the residue of an estate said to value at from $10,000 to $15,000. The estate consists of money in bank and valuable real estate in Baltimore.
